

Incidents of a Local and Personal Nature.

—Joseph Price on the Keowee side is very sick.

—C. B. Hamilton has recently killed a year old pig which netted 400 lbs.

—The present price of turkeys should induce people to raise many next year.

—Some men trust to luck in this world, and some others are lucky to get trusted.

—D. W. McDonald of the Six Mile section is moving to the Anderson cotton mills.

—Bub Evans is building a good barn and dwelling on the Gap Hill and Six Mile road.

—The merchants are now displaying some beautiful goods suitable for the Christmas holidays.

—That excellent farmer J. W. M. Durham killed a pig nine months old which netted 200 lbs.

—Some one has truthfully said that "a lot of people would rather be a sly than out of debt."

—R. L. McDonald and two little children of Waltham, visited relatives in the Enon section recently.

—Mrs. Benjamin Boggs who was paralyzed last Christmas near Liberty is still in a helpless condition.

—C. Earle Hamilton has a Jersey cow that has given milk every day for eight years, and has brought eight calves.

—W. R. Posey and D. W. McDonald caught three coons on Keowee river recently. They have some good dogs.

—A. P. Alexander of Mile Creek section is remodeling his dwelling, which when painted will present a handsome appearance.

—About this time of the year you always hear of two things—weddings and big hogs being killed, both of which are good in their way.

—Dr. J. L. Bolt is representing Keowee Lodge at the meeting of the Grand Lodge in Charleston this week. Hope he will have a nice and profitable trip.

—Pickens is the best cotton market in all this part of the state and is far the best in which to buy goods. People who come here are quick to find this out, too.

—We have just received a big lot fine pen nibs that retail everywhere for 10 cents, to go while they last at 5 cents. They are beauties. Craig Bros.

—Land owners all over the county are forbidding hunting upon their lands, and it will soon be so that those desiring to shoot will have to pay for the privilege, as is the case at the north.

—Mrs. K. L. Carleton is opening up her Christmas goods and such a display of nice things you never saw before. Call on her for anything you want and rest assured you will be suited in your purchases.

—Married on Sunday 6th inst., by Rev. J. E. Foster, at the residence of Arthur Raupay, brother of the bride, Mr. Riley Porter to Miss Hattie Raupay. The young couple have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy life.

—The Town Creek Roller Mill is not running this week. The proprietor, D. E. Hendricks, is putting in a lot of shafting and a new wheel and getting the mill in good shape for the ever increasing business. Tom G. Freeman is the miller and a good one he is, too.

—Lots of our good old staunch subscribers came in last Monday and paid for their paper up to 1905 and carried away a good pocket knife with which to whittle the time away. To them, one and all, we wish them a merry Christmas and many happy returns of the day.

—With the rush of job work we have on hand and also our holiday edition, which will be issued on the 16th inst., we do not give our readers as much news matter this week as usual. We hope they will pardon us, for the next issue will more than make up for what they miss this week.

—Several communications are unavoidably left out this week; however they will appear next week. We hope our subscribers will pardon us and continue their interesting letters each week, and do not fail to sign your name; as a guarantee of good faith, and not necessarily for publication.

—Will "M. V.," please say in his communication to The Sentinel-Journal, whose clock it was that had the black snake in it. Some of our subscribers, who lives close thereabout, do not believe the statement, as they cannot find any of their neighbors who will own up to having a pet snake.

—The little two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Freeman, who live in the Glassy Mountain section, died Sunday from bronchial trouble after an illness of about two weeks. The little one was buried at the Glassy Mountain grave yard, near Ervin Hendricks, where the family have relatives buried.

—A mad dog came to the house of J. W. Pace last Friday and frightened his family badly. There were no men folk at home and the ladies had a time defending themselves especially as there were little children in the room at the time. He was finally killed without doing any damage beyond causing the little child of Mrs. John Stephens to fall into the fire, but it was not burned.

—It will soon be in order to begin framing those new year resolutions.

—Farmers say that the cotton crop gets shorter the nearer they get to the end.

—Miles M. Hunter, a prominent citizen of Pendleton, was in Pickens Monday on business.

—Rev. O. M. Abney left Monday for Greenville, to attend the annual conference which convened in that city Tuesday.

—All persons owing me for work must pay up at once or their accounts will be given a lawyer to collect. W. H. Ashmore.

—A. W. Gravelly, of Pindor, killed two hogs on the 2d inst., one year old that weighed 310 and 312, respectively. Who can beat that.

—"Trail," the greatest of all card games; something new; just out, six other games played with the cards. The greatest thing out to pass away a winter's evening. The Columbian Book Co., of Atlanta, Ga., are selling agents and have placed this game on sale with the Pickens Drug Co. Call and get a pack and be in the swim.

—There is talk of the Methodist Sunday school having a Christmas tree; whether the other schools will have a tree or not, we have not heard. A suggestion we would offer would be for all the schools to join in and have a union tree in the court house. This would give all the children of small, as well as of larger growth, much pleasure and enjoyment.

—The fodder house of T. A. Waldrop, of the Cedar Rock section was burned about day break Monday morning. Cause of the fire is unknown. He lost about twelve hundred bundles of fodder, cane seed and shucks. This hits Mr. Waldrop pretty heavy as on last Thanksgiving day he lost his stables and a lot of roughness. These fires are thought to have been the work of incendiary.

—Monday being Saturday a large crowd of people came to town—some to bid on the land, some to pay taxes, some to pay up their accounts, some to see and be seen, some to get one of the Sentinel-Journal's good knives and some to "just be coming." Many of them spike in the highest terms of praise of the push, energy and growth of Pickens and were very much surprised at the stride she had made in the past twelve months.

—Our knife proposition expires on 31st December. It is made to new subscribers who pay up one year in advance, and to all old subscribers, who, at the time of the consolidation of the papers, was either taking The Sentinel or The Journal, who owe as much as one dollar, or more, who pay up their indebtedness to the former papers, and for one year from that date are entitled to a knife. Bear these facts in your mind when you come to settle.

—Christmas is almost here and you will miss a great treat if you fail to visit W. H. Johnson's 5c and 10c department store, his counters are piled up with bargains on top of bargains. Other merchants wonder how such articles can be sold for the money, nevertheless, they are going for 5c and 10c. Lots of Christmas things coming in every day and being placed on the counters, also other Christmas presents from 10c to $10.00. The finest lot of musical instruments we have seen in Pickens. Don't forget that this is the place —Weston, the second son of W. E. Garrison, aged about six years, was severely cut across the right foot Sunday about one o'clock, by his brother Lois. It was a bad cut and Dr. Balt and Webb had to take several stitches in the wound to draw it together. It is to be hoped that the wound will heal nicely and that he will suffer no inconvenience from it. Little shavers should not be allowed to handle axes. Parents are too careless in such matters and it is a wonder more children are not badly hurt than are.

—A marriage in which many people in this county and elsewhere will take pleasure in hearing of, was that of Mr. James E. Parsons, a fine gentleman and a substantial citizen and farmer, of the Liberty section, to Miss Ada Mauldin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry J. Mauldin, of the Dalton section of this county. The happy event occurred at the hospitable home of the bride's parents on last Sunday, the ceremony being performed by Rev. D. A. Lewis, pastor of the West Pickens circuit, in the presence of relatives and friends of the happy couple. The contracting parties are both popular people and number their friends by the score. Mr. Parsons and bride dined with his brother, Coroner B. F. Parsons, Sunday. We extend congratulations and join with their many friends in wishing them long life and much future happiness and prosperity.

Death of Mrs. Emily J. Stone.

Mrs. Emily J. Stone of Anderson county, while over on a visit to her son, Mr. Aaron Morris of this place, was taken ill with pneumonia and after only a few days of intense suffering departed this life on last Monday morning. She had often visited here and was held in high esteem by her friends and acquaintances. She was a native of Anderson county, and there spent the greater part of her life, near Providence church of which she was a member.

Her maiden name was McMullan, but she had been married three times first to Mr. Morris, who was the father of her two sons, the one whom she was visiting and Jesse Morris of Hartwell, Ga. Her second husband was Mr. Moss, and her last marriage was to Mr. Stone of near Seneca who died just a few months afterward.

She was 67 years old on the 27th of last November, and from childhood her life was that of an exemplary, devoted Christian. True to her faith, her church and her God, there were no fears of the dark river when the chilly waves of death were come upon her. Calmly, peacefully as a babe lulled to sleep on its mother's bosom, she folded her hands and her gentle spirit was wafted to that beautiful heavenly land she loved so well. Truly, we can say, "How blest the righteous when they die," for there are no terrors of death when the righteous are called, but a happiness and sweet peace which passeth understanding. Meek and modest she was, caring little for the things earthly, but much for the things holy and divine. We feel assured that her soul is with the ransomed with a crown of glory on her brow, shouting praise to her beloved Redeemer.

To the sorrowing sons and their families, we extend the sincere sympathy in this sad hour of parting. It is a sad thought to give up a mother, but a blessed privilege to have had such a one as they have, and,

"Beyond this vale of tears, There is a life above, Unmeasured by this flight of years, And all that life is love."

"She wears bright garlands of joy, They are blooming on her head; While her sufferings and her sighs Like she lows all are fled."

Her remains were interred in the town cemetery on Tuesday at three o'clock immediately after the funeral services which were conducted at the home.

Miss Pauline McDaniel.

It is proper that, after a loved one has departed from our midst, the tributes due her be paid. Yet it is not to be insisted that the truth of the virtues of our friends be withheld from them while living, for it is part of the duty of a living christian charity to speak sweet words of encouragement to our friends as we travel along to a common end.

But this young friend is gone. In her home she was loved and the family ties were indeed strong, and the love that reigned in that home was a part of her and from the virtues of gracious, dutiful womanhood she wove a character pure and sweet and lovely. The most and best that we can do is to let her life, the remembrance of which will be cherished long and sacredly, be an influence in the true ways she loved so well. She was true, dutiful and always seemed to exemplify that spirit of consecration to the duties of a faithful child and daughter which shone forth in sweetest affections as she fulfilled every requirement of home and every filial obligation. She had just reached the age when, to a young woman, life opens up with greatest interest. And, in her prospect there was hope that made the future glow—there was, till death fever stilled her heart forever, the fair promise unto her of a life full of usefulness and of happiness and of love.

We will not mourn as those with out hope, for her beckoning hand assures us of rest and life forever and some sweet day, this broken family will know that, though dead, Pauline's pure life has helped those that are left to do their duty better and find the way easier.

CITATION.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA County of Pickens.

By J. B. Newbery Esquire Probate Judge. WHEREAS, A. J. Beggs, C. C. P., made suit to me to grant him Letters of Administration of the Estate of and effects of Buck Haggood, deceased. From South Africa. Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young I put you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy that the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and I cured the baby. This remedy is for sale by Pickens Drug Co., Earle's Drug Store, Pickens and T. S. Hunter, Liberty."

The Old Meat Market ..Moore..

I wisdom dwell with Prudence, Before the leaves fell— I was there. In the heat of Summer, I was there. When it took the profit to keep ice— Then I was there. When the Summer comes again I'll be there. Come to me for your meat— I am there. You stick to me and I'll stick to you— Away Down in Dixie. [A true Proverb.]
