"B" MORALIZES.

Things Should be as They are.

Money, Prestige nor Power Should Brook the Will of the People.

A NEWSY BATCH FROM CATEECHEE.

With the copious showers of last week everything of a green nature has taken on new life, the atmosphere cooled to a certain extent, laying by time is near at hand and everybody seems to have a smile on their face.

Well, August is about the only month in the year the poor old farmer can enjoy. Of course his rations run down pretty fine about that time of year, but through Providence he can enjoy the fruits of his labor and is the happiest creature on God's green earth. At that season of the year if he has made preparations for it he has all the luxuries of a garden that heart could wish for, besides water-melons, fruits, etc. No debts due just at that time to worry the farmer's mind; the protracted meetings are going on and the farmer can enjoy a free intercourse with his Maker once more. If the whole year was August we believe more of the poor old farmers would go to heaven than what do.

But as the dispensary has been voted out of Pickens county it may be the cause of saving several poor souls, saying nothing about the meat, bread and shoes it will put some deserted homes, provided the dispensaryites don't law it back in force again. If they do, and some life is taken on the strength of drinking dispensary whiskey, won't the blood of that soul be required at their hands? Now, gentlemen, those of you who are taking steps to have the dispensary re-established in Pickens county, stop and think for a minute. Complaint was made to the Hon. Supervisor of Pickens county that an election was desired on the dispensary. Petitions were sent in, we suppose, from all parts of the county, asking for the same. Whether these petitions contained a majority of the qualified voters we are unable to say, but any way the election was ordered and what was the result? Nearly four to one said close the dispensary.

As to the legality of the election, we believe it was conducted fairly and squarely, according to the instructions published in the county paper by the County Democratic Executive Committee. Now four or five persons come forward and say the majority shall not rule; that we have got the money and the dispensary must be opened again regardless of what the majority say.

Space forbids us saying as much on this question as we would like. Wade Ross, who has been working in S. M. Perry's livery stable at this place, leaves today for the Basley cotton mill.

Ples Durham is very low from typhoid fever.

Will Mauldin is back in the store after a siege of sickness. His many friends are glad to see him behind the counter again.

John Ray, of Kingston, N. C., is visiting here.

Mr. Ked, superintendent of Williamson cotton mill, was in town one day last week.

The superintendent of Liberty mill was in town last week.

Miss Valley Woodruff, of Woodruff, S. C., visited her brother last week.

On last Sunday evening about 3:30 o'clock Mr. George Scott, of Catechee, and Miss Jamie, fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Fryar, of Liberty, were happily married at the home of the bride's parents, J. Alonzo Brown, N. P., officiating. May they live a long, happy and prosperous life is the desire of

BANKRUPT BUT NOT BROKE.

The opportunity of a life-time--the greatest sale Pickens ever knew.

The Secret of our Success is that we are daily watching for bargains that we can give the people at prices that they appreciate.

Now we have it for you.

Down in a Southern city we bought a complete and up-to-date stock of bankrupt goods at about one-half the manufacturers cost and we have decided that our customers shall have the benefit of this purchase, and they go on sale at about one-half their actual value. This is no old out of date stuff, but brand new goods, bought for the spring trade for a city of about 50,000 inhabitants, and the style and quality of these goods is perfect. The goods are now on sale and will last until they are all sold. We haven't space to quote many prices but only give you an idea of the great values of this sale. Get ready and take advantage of this sale, for they won't last long.

The Lesson of High Point.

Albert Pharis tells a very interesting story in the last number of the Baltimore Manufacturers' Record about the marvelous development of the town of High Point, North Carolina. Ten years ago it was one of the sleepiest villages in the south, with only a planing mill, a bobbin factory and a tobacco factory, furnishing employment to a few working men. To-day it has thirty furniture factories making every kind of household and office furniture except those of fancy design and highest cost, and shipping their product to all parts of the globe. Besides these factories there are ten other establishments engaged in the manufacture of articles used in furniture-making, and sixteen other industrial plants, making a total of fifty-six factories, with an annual output of about $4,000,000.

When the furniture-making business was begun at High Point there were only two furniture factories in North Carolina; now there are at least a hundred, fourteen of which are engaged in the making of chairs at Thomasville. There are twelve furniture factories in Lexington, four or five furniture and desk factories at Winston, four furniture factories each at Statesville, Mount Airy and Mabon three each at Greensboro, Ashboro and Marion, two at Hickory and one each at more than a dozen other places in the state. The town of High Point is supplied with sewers, water works, electric line of street cars. Its roadways are paved with bitulithic blocks, and it has twelve miles of grandditch sidewalks. "One of the handsomest public school buildings to be found in a city of 10,000 people anywhere" has been erected at High Point, and there are dozens of handsome private residences that would be attractive in any community. "Every bit of this development," says Mr. Pharis, is wholly from within. Such men and money as have come from without have done so because they were attracted by the spirit of the place."—News and Courier.

EVANS KNOCKS

THE BRICE BILL

Epitome of Attorney's Argument to be Made Before Justice Pope at Newberry.

On Wednesday before Chief Justice Pope in Newberry, the Pickens dispensary fight will be made. J. P. Caray and C. E. Robinson, of the Pickens bar, will defend the county board of control in closing the dispensary under the election held, while W. Boyd Evans will take the position that the board had no legal right to close the dispensary and that it should never have been closed under the circumstances surrounding the election, which was contested. J. S. Wilson, as relator, through his attorney, W. Boyd Evans, has among other reasons filed the following in the petition for writ of mandamus:

"It was never determined by the county supervisor whether or not the petition for the election was signed by one fourth of the voters."

"That the election was never canvassed by the board of canvassers and was not in accordance with the law regarding special elections."

"That the commissioners took no part in the election."

"That the supervisor and his clerk appointed the managers and run the election, and declared the result."

"Further, it is alleged by the relator, that the Brice bill, which is an amendment to the original dispensary law, is unconstitutional."—Greenville Daily Herald, 3d inst.

Terrific Race With Death.
"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph P. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect that in three days I felt like a new man, and today I am cured of my troubles." Guaranteed at Pickens Drug Co.; price 50c.

Farmers' Institutes.

Clemson College is now arranging plans to hold Farmers' Institutes this summer in the counties of the State during the period between July 19th and August 5th. Citizens who may desire an Institute held in their community are invited to send an application to the President of the College not later than June 25th. Suggestions regarding the agricultural questions in which the community may be interested are also invited.

The Institute at Clemson College will begin August 8th and continue for one week. The railway companies have arranged to give rates of one fare plus 25cts for the round trip. Distinguished speakers will address the farmers on important topics during the week. Delegates to the Farmers' Institute at the College will please see that the local railway agent provides himself with reduced tickets in ample time.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Halls Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Halls Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The Little Details

TEN yards of cloth and a mile of thread isn't the whole story of a good suit—not by several thousand stitches. It takes tailoring brains in plenty and mighty clever craftsmanship to make clothes the right way—the SCHLOSS way.

Further than this, the looks and life of the suit depend more on the LITTLE details than you could imagine. For instance, simply the placing of the buttons and the shape of the lapel have everything to do with the fine appearance of a coat, while such a trifle as the proper moulding of a curve makes all the difference between a beautiful garment and a meek sack.

We handle the Schloss line because we know there's none better and never found any as good. We have all the new styles and shapes, of course, in the most desirable colors and patterns.
