A Relic.

SUBSCRIPTION ..... $2 00

We have been shown a copy of the Inaugural Address of President Andrew Jackson, delivered on March 4th, 1829 on his being sworn into office. This address is printed on white satin and is surmounted by two massive pillars. Beneath the arch sits Old Ilickory holding some document in his hand whilst his gaze wanders from the text. Hovering over his head is an eagle with outstretched wings, that holds in its beak a wreath and in its talons the shield sickness last week, caused from his and coat of arms of the United States. The address is couched in chaste, terse and elegant language, and discusses the Rights of the States, the management of the public revenue, internal improvementr, the army, the navy, the Indian question and reform. If General Jackson wrote the address it is not true, as has been said of him, he was illiterate and coarse, for the sentiments of the address are patriotic, its tone high and language good.

This "relic of by gone days" is the property of Mrs. Adelaide Patton, of Baltimore, who is here visiting her neice Mrs. H. H. Hill. It was through the kindness of Mr. Hill that we saw it and begged the privilege of making mention

A Destructive Fire at McCormick.

This little village was almost entirely destroyed by the fire which occurred on Thursday night of last week. It seems that it was accidental and originated from a defective stove pipe. As we un-derstand the fire originated in the store of Mr. Traylor. It extended in one di rection to and included Mr. P. L. Sturkey's store and dwelling, and in the other direction to Mr. C. I. Corley's store.

The following are the sufferers, with epproximate amounts of losses and insurance. P. L. Sturkey, $7,000. Insurance, Harmon & Brother, $5,000. Insurance $2,500.

A. F. Traylor, $1,000. No insurance. Cox & Andrews, $400. No insurance. Stewart & Son, $2,300. No insurance J. W. Peak, $2,500. Insurance $1500. J. M. Dorn, $5,000. Insurance $2600. C. L. Corley, $2,700 Inqurance $1100. These figures are not absolutely correct, but show pretty well the proportionate loss and insurance. This is a great calamity and is very hard on these gentlemen, most of whom have lost all they have made in ten years. They cortainly are not despondent, and bear their losses manfully. No doubt they will soon begin again.

The Show.

Last Saturday was "show day," and the negroes who were in town for that the brick for the Catholic parsonage. occasion were almost numberless, in fact the town seemed to have put aside its campaign color and assumed one of a more sombre hue, or in other words, it seemed to have been "painted black." They came apparently to see the procession which consisted af a few shabby looking men with a few dingy looking horns, out of which they managed in some way to get what they called music. It was decidedly a second class affair, though we understand from some of those who were present that their performances were better than outside appearances would seem to indicate. They were unfortunate enough while here to have been served with a writ of attachment, and it is supposed left here with the Columbia Club for many courtesies for Bill Heads. no very exalted opinion of the place during our visit to Columbia. ## Fire at Troy.

On last Friday night a fire occurred at Troy by which the store of Mr. W. C. Murrell, valued at $1,000, and containing a stock of goods, valued at $2,300, were destroyed. We hear that Mr. Murrell had about $1,500 insurance on house and stock. Near this store was the store house of A. T. Robertson, valued at $800, which was also burned. did not learn if Mr. Robertson had any The origin of the fire is not definitely known, but it is supposed to have been incendiary.
