THOUGHT FOR TODAY

"Amid our vast and lofty aspirations," says Lamartine, "the penalty of a wasted youth overtook me. Adieu then, to the dreams of genius, to the aspirations of intellectual enjoyment."

Anderson is MY TOWN.

Is Everybody Happy? Sure—if they get the Daily Intelligencer.

Eugenics is a game in which Cupid always holds the joker.

Columbia says that there is another Richmond in the field.

The world is beginning to know the greatness of Anderson county.

The beautiful Mrs. Pickle, of Atlanta, got her gun to pot a masher.

We don't care whether or no banks are regional, just so they are reasonable.

No music is more like itself than a bucking newspaper press on the 14th day of the month.

Our neighbor, the Daily Mail, of this city, is very kind in its references to this paper. Same back.

Charley Morse and old Doc Cook are asking for vindication. Al Jennings, ex-convict, is also posing.

Well, it was but natural that the first issue of the baby morning paper should have been a fat infant.

Fair warning—After this approaching cold spell, we fear that our spring poet will burst from his hibernation.

The whole State is looking to Anderson to make the greatest success of all of the Sunday school convention.

Despite his complaint of a cold deal, Harry Thaw would melt the hearts of the people with his torrid appeals.

The only way this office will ever learn that you are not getting your paper is for you to tell us. Please do us the favor.

Work on the "bridge" will not be stopped, although several hundred over-seers have been put out of business by that fence.

We wish to whisper a word to several thousand friends—Confidentially, don't try to start a morning daily paper on the 13th of the month.

The Morning Intelligencer sends its love to the B. B. B. B. and Col. J. Thos. Arnold of Greenville, chief of staff, will promulgate the order.

Well, Anderson can say that Woodrow Wilson didn't pass through. If ever he comes around this neck of the woods he will be a guest. Speed the day.

The present city council has done a great many good things for Anderson, but we like that license ordinance—unless there is a joker in it somewhere.

As soon as the Ford people announced that they would share their profits with their employees, there was a riot of 10,000 persons trying to get employment.

Some of these days an outsider will come along and tell the people of Anderson how much Porter Whaley has done for this city and they will believe it. We tell them now.

Anderson has become so strenuous in Paris that it is now customary to take a Turkish bath between rounds. Jack Johnson and other athletes merely sponge off and are rubbed down.

COURTS CONGESTED

Anderson is growing in litigation and in crime as well as in material matters of a better kind. We have seen for some time a discussion of the merits of a bill proposed by Senator Wilton H. Earle of Greenville to divide this circuit and to group Anderson with Oconee and J. Greenville with Pickens.

The grand jury of this county has already turned in true bills enough to keep the petit juries busy for four weeks. There are upon the dockets cases against sellers of liquor and other malefactors that will never be tried.

"I most heartily urge the passage of such a bill, for as conditions now are it is impossible to keep the calendars in Anderson and Greenville counties any where near clear. The criminal dockets especially have never since I have been solicitor, which is now five years, been clear, and as time goes on they continue to get more clogged.

"There are now on the Anderson docket 64 more cases, with over fifty new indictments to be handed out at the coming term. The Greenville docket is in a similar condition. You can readily see what the result is. The great majority of the cases cannot be tried, for by the time the jail is cleared and the capital felony case tried the term is at an end.

"In the event that the case is finally tried and convicted, the county has been put, in all probability to more expense in costs than the fine will amount to.

"For the reasons above stated, dispensary cases in the two large counties are seldom ever tried, and are not disposed of unless the defendants agree to plead guilty, if a small fine is imposed.

"I know it to be true of Greenville and I am informed that in Anderson too, it is ten or twelve months before a case can be reached on the civil docket.

"It is my candid opinion that should the circuit be divided, putting Anderson and Oconee in one circuit, and Greenville and Pickens in the other, the additional expense incurred thereby would be more than offset by the prompt dispatch of business. The State would be saved money and the moral effect of a speedy trial for criminals would be a healthy and beneficial one for the community.

"I see by the papers that at attempt to establish a county court may be made. This in my opinion will not bring the relief needed. First, because the probability of the people voting it is slight, and second, because it would not affect Anderson county, which is as badly in need of relief as Greenville is."

BORN TO SERVE.

That thump against the front door Tuesday morning was the plea of The Anderson Daily Intelligencer to be admitted to the homes of the city. And we are pleased to say that the wait found hundreds of homes in which it was a welcome visitor.

This was the first daily visit of a newspaper that has come to stay and will be an institution of the city of Anderson. We hope that the life of the paper will be commensurate in importance and in vitality and in usefulness and in service with the development of the city to whose upbuilding this paper stands pledged.

The daily edition will be sent for at least one month, without extra charge to each subscriber. There will be printed a coupon upon which each subscriber is requested to state whether he wishes to take the daily paper or the semi-weekly.

The promoting of the circulation of the daily paper will be in the hands of the Joyce Syndicate, which has conducted a successful campaign for the semi-weekly in December, adding more than 1,600 new subscribers to our lists. At the end of the time, the publication of the semi-weekly will be resumed as heretofore and it will be sent to those who do not prefer a morning paper.

The morning issue of The Intelligencer will for the present bear the name of this time honored old paper, founded by the splendid citizen, Jas. A. Hoyt, and edited with signal ability through succeeding years by some of the best men the State has ever produced.

The Anderson Daily Intelligencer will receive the full service of the Associated Press, will have a complete legislative report daily, will have a battalion of correspondents throughout the county. It is our intention also to serve the city and county news crisply and readably. The price of the morning paper will be $5 per annum and the semi-weekly $1.75.

MAGISTRATE BUST.

Busy Scene in Broadwell's Court For Two Days.

Monday and Tuesday brought several cases up for attention in the court of Magistrate Broadwell and judging from the fines placed on those who dared stand the test of being arraigned before this official, it will be some time before they again appear. In the case of Gus Hall, a negro, charged with being "D. and D." which is translated for the benefit of The Intelligencer's readers as standing for having inebriated too freely in the juice that exhilarates and thereupon becoming obnoxious to the custodians of the peace, a fine of $50 was imposed. Gus managed to scrape together the necessary amount and went on his way, presumably a sadder but wiser man.

Henry Thompson, also of husky hue, appeared before the bar of justice to show cause why he should be carrying around on his person a miniature gattling gun. In other words, Henry was charged with carrying a pistol. It was found that he could furnish no satisfactory explanation as to why he should enjoy this decided advantage over his fellow men and he was therefore forced to part with the munificent sum of $50 which Magistrate Broadwell received with thanks.

Charles O'Shields, a white man, faced two serious charges, these being false representation and the additional matter of having wandered away from the domicile where he had been wont to satiate the cravings of the inner man without having remembered to remunerate in the coin of the realm of the house keeper of the aforementioned establishment. It seemed that O'Shields has simply beat his board bill and since Magistrate Broadwell was convinced of the guilt of the defendant he sentenced him to the public works for 36 days. It is not thought likely that he will have any opportunity to leave his present quarters with any board bill unpaid.

Clayton Sloan, a negro, had been so unreasonable as to try to interfere with an officer when he himself had just committed an assault. Magistrate Broadwell looked upon this with such displeasure that he taxed the defendant to the sum of $100 and after frantic search the defendant finally succeeded in locating the iron man and at once made room for some one else in the temple of justice. This concluded the day's business.

PASSED THROUGH SENECA

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Pleaded to See Old Friend of Her Father

Seneca, Jan. 13.—Mrs. W. J. Lunney, who has been spending the Christmas holidays with her relatives in Charlotte, N. C., returned Sunday.

The ladies of the Baptist church are observing a week of prayer this week. Miss May Hamilton is spending a few days in Greenville.

Mr. S. K. Denny, who travels out of Grand Rapids, Mich., spent Sunday with his family here.

The many friends of Dr. John Hopkins will be grieved to learn that he is very ill and not expected to live many days. President Wilson and his party passed through Seneca Monday afternoon. The president is getting to be a familiar figure to the people of Seneca. This is the third time he has passed through our little city since he became president. Quite a large party was at the train to meet him. Mrs. Wilson also came out of the car and shook hands with many of the crowd. Mr. O. P. Bacon received a warm greeting from her when he told her he used to know her father, Rev. Edward Owsen, of Savannah, Ga.

Miss Carrie Hunter has been in Atlanta for several days visiting and shopping. Mr. Edward Stribling, son of T. E. Stribling, has gone to Iva to take a place as bookkeeper with the Bank of Iva.

FROM MR. R. I. MANNING

Best Wishes For the Success of The Daily Intelligencer.

To the Editor of The Daily Intelligencer.

Permit me to congratulate you upon the growth of your paper into a daily. Such development shows efficiency and ability in supplying an agency for furnishing news and reading matter, the value of which is recognized by the community.

In this time when public attention is directed with emphasis to the need of education, any agency which aids in bringing to our people more information and in fostering and creating a better and higher public sentiment, must be welcome everywhere.

I wish for you a bright and successful career and trust that your efforts to give to your readers a paper clean in principle and high in ideals, will meet with results at once gratifying to you and helpful and beneficial to your section.

Very truly yours, Richard L. Manning, Supt., S. C., Jan. 12, 1914.

THE CARRIER BOY

(Written by a Carrier.)

It takes lots of men in a newspaper shop, And all must keep busy or presses will stop. The Editor's certain that he's the big noise. He looks more important than the carrier boys; He sits at a desk, and he bosses the works And keeps the gang jumpin' like so many Turks.

But what is the use of his work in good shape If the Carrier fails to deliver the pape?

The Reporters are pretty important young chaps; They write about weddings, hoss races and scraps.

Of course they are needed to hunt up the news, But if you should ask for my own honest views

I'd say the Reporter needs legs more than brains, For he spends his time running from hotels to trains.

But what good is all the Reporters can do If the Carrier don't bring the paper to you?

The printers and pressmen are all worth their pay; They do their work well and with little to say.

They are needed at times, and so is the clerk Who takes in the money, though that is not work.

But the guy that's the real thing, the one who cuts ice, The fellow whose value can't be fixed at a price,

Is the one who begins when the others are through And hurries to bring the paper to you.

GREENWOOD READY FOR HORSE SHOW

Greenwood, Jan. 12.—Greenwood will be represented at the horse show meeting in Columbia Wednesday morning by Messrs. S. O. Harvey and Brooks Marshall, who will carry with them the city's $1,000 guarantee, required by the association.

When the announcement was made that Greenwood would be included in the circuit of six cities, comprising Camden, Darlington, Sumter, Columbia, Greenwood and Greenville, the Fidelity Merchants' Association named a committee to formulate plans for the organization, and this committee got busy at once with the result that 84 men subscribed nearly twice the sum necessary within less than two hours. This committee was composed of Messrs. S. O. Harvey, M. C. Wise, W. C. Hagood, Dr. J. A. Marshall, M. R. Rosenberg, W. A. Williams, E. R. Goodwyn, M. C. Strawhorn and G. A. Barksdale.

The probable dates for the horse show in Greenwood are April 29 and 30. Plans are under way to have, also, a number of other attractions during the two days. Secretary Brooks Marshall is endeavoring to get baseball games, preferably between college teams, and the Greenwood Choral Society will likely put on "The Mikado" during the big events, using Agricultural Hall at the fair grounds starting the opera. Greenwood is admirably equipped for such a show at the horse show and baseball games since the completion last fall of the new race track and ball grounds, both of which are ample for accommodating large crowds.

FROM OUR FRIENDS

Sam J. Nichols, of Spartanburg, writes: "I am certainly glad that you are going to make The Intelligencer a daily, and wish you much success in your new enterprise."

Editorial in The State: "We shall welcome the Anderson Morning Intelligencer, which will issue its first number Tuesday. Under the guidance of two such good newspaper men as Banks and Smoak, the morning venture should be a success from the very beginning."

Editorial in The Greenville Piedmont: "The Anderson Daily Intelligencer will make its bow next Tuesday morning. Mr. William Banks, who is a well known newspaper man, is to be editor, and Mr. W. W. Smoak, formerly editor and owner of the Walterboro Press and Standard, is to be business manager. Mr. D. Watson Bell, a very capable young newspaper man, who has been connected with the Gaffney Ledger, will be news editor. We welcome the new daily."

EUREKA

Eureka, Jan. 12.—(Special)—Sunday was a good day with us. The sun rose bright and clear, regardless of the sharp biting wind.

Our pastor, Rev. O. O. Fletcher, of Greenville, a Furman man, was at his post on time. Others did accordingly. The text, "I am a Christian," was well delivered and listened to with profound interest. We were delighted to have with us also Mrs. Fletcher and a young gentleman from Furman. Other visitors were: Miss Bessie Shirley, Mr. Cox, of Anderson, an ex-Furman man, and Mrs. Ashley. The R. S.'s will meet at the home of the Chief Counselor, Mrs. W. L. Anderson, Friday night, 16th inst. All the members are requested to be present and bring along any others who will come. Several matters of importance are to be attended to.

The W. M. Society met three afternoons in observance of the week of prayer.

Mrs. J. G. Dueworth, who has been spending awhile with Mrs. Walter Anderson, added much to the last evening's entertainment and instruction. She is an able talker and a clear thinker.

Mrs. M. T. Brazeele left yesterday for Greenville, where she will spend a day or so with friends, then go to Atlanta for a visit to relatives of a week or so, after which she will return to her home at Mt. Olive, N. C.

The many friends of Mrs. S. V. McClain will be glad to learn that she is slowly improving.

We are sorry to note the absence of Mrs. Reynolds and daughters from church. They were detained on account of sickness. We trust that all will be well by Sunday. We sorely miss our organist and alto singer. One of our best Sunday school scholars, Mrs. R. E. Campbell, is back again with us. Little Miss Helen will be enrolled soon.

The new auto is just the thing. Mr. Anderson and family went to Williamston Saturday afternoon for mineral water, and returned home by Anderson. Just as they got in sight of home the machine stopped and couldn't be coaxed to stand up. Come to find out the gasoline was out.

CHURCHES MAKE CHANGES

Rev. Orr Gives Up One Church, and Takes on Another.

Rev. J. L. Orr, who was recently elected pastor of Mt. Bethel Baptist church, will preach at this church on the second and fourth Sundays of each month.

Besides this church Mr. Orr will serve the New Prospect and Mountain Creek churches. He recently gave up the Mt. Tabor church. That church has elected Rev. James Anderson, of Central, to serve them for this year.

Townville Steward's Conference

There will be a steward's conference of the Townville Methodist circuit at Townville Methodist parsonage on Thursday at 1 o'clock p. m. Jan. 15. Each and every steward of the Townville circuit is most especially invited to be present.
