

UNUSUAL INTEREST SHOWN IN INTELLIGENCER'S POPULARITY CONTEST

NAMES OF THE LADIES NOMINATED ARE ANNOUNCED THIS MORNING

Today is the Official Start of the Contest—Send in Yours or One of Your Friends Names at Once

ALL CANDIDATES HAVE EQUAL CHANCES

The Anderson Daily Intelligencer's popularity contest has begun and the announcement has been met with the anticipated response from the leading citizens of Western South Carolina. Watch the voting, send in your name or that of your friend; do not be late. Remember that every one has an equal chance of winning the honor and the prizes besides the special prizes this paper will soon announce. It costs you nothing to enter and the Anderson Daily Intelligencer will be pleased to number you among its candidates.

The honor is just as great as the prizes and every one should take a personal pride in seeing themselves nominated. You cannot afford to sit idly by and see your neighbor get the glory, which in the eyes of many, could have been won by you had you entered the race and notified your friends to this effect. In view of this fact it behooves you to call at the Anderson Daily Intelligencer's office, Contest Department, and see the Contest manager and talk this matter over, or if you cannot come to the office, use the phone, call 821 and he will gladly give you all the information possible.

Many a race has been lost because one did not get a fair start. Do not let this be said in your case. Call up your relatives, friends and acquaintances at once and tell them to save their coupons. A candidate may have many workers as they can enlist in their behalf. There is no limit to the number of ladies nominated. Let us impress it on your mind to get a good start. Organize your forces and have your name in the contest as early as you can. There is no time to lose in this contest, as it only lasts eight weeks and these weeks will not be long going over. Improve every moment of your time and do not let the word "failure" enter your mind for one second.

WE depend upon your advertising to attract your patronage. We rely upon the quality of the coal to hold it.

BUSY TAIL OF A WHALE.
Legend of the Origin of the Idea of the Screw Propeller.
The following extraordinarily interesting story is printed by the Marine Journal with the express stipulation that it cannot guarantee its authenticity, but gives it for what it is worth:
"Way back in 1658 the great Dutch bark Groote Marie, Captain Van der Broeck, bound from Amsterdam to the East Indies, became distressed in trying to round the Cape of Good Hope and, because of high seas, was in a generally bad plight. Just as things were looking particularly black an investigation of a terrific blow received by the vessel on her high, square stern revealed the fact that a large whale had crashed partly through the rear boards and had got caught in the timbers. Fortunately water which was pouring into the aft hold was promptly blown out through the open hatchway by the struggling animal, and in endeavoring to release itself the big mammal lashed the water with its tail so violently that it propelled the bark ahead at seven knots an hour into Cape Town harbor.
"it was in watching the mighty effect of the whale's tail that the good captain conceived the idea of a screw propeller, but neither the Dutch merchants of Cape Town nor his brother skippers of Amsterdam were sufficiently interested in his tale to unite with him in patenting the device."

THE KING IS KING.
No "Power Behind the Throne" in England, It is Said.
It is often asked who really inspires the king's attitude upon current questions of the day and, more particularly, who writes his speeches?
The king takes, it is possible to state, the closest interest in every leading question of the day, and, while he must of necessity take the advice of his responsible ministers, he has views of his own, that he does not hesitate to pronounce whenever the occasion calls for it, while his speeches are "roughed out" entirely by himself.
This draft of what his Majesty desires to say is then passed on to the officials of the private secretaries' office, who prepare the speech in set form and submit it to his Majesty in formal language. This he goes through most carefully, and it often takes two or three rewritings before the king is thoroughly satisfied with it.
It may be said at once, however, that no words uttered by the king are approved until they have passed his most careful scrutiny. It is likewise possible to add that his Majesty is an extremely good impromptu speaker and that some of his most notable utterances have been made without any previous preparation of any kind—London Gentlemen.
THE WHIPPING POST.
Would be Entirely Too Good For Man Like This.
Atlanta, Jan. 21.—An entirely new form of "white slavery" was unfolded in the divorce court yesterday afternoon when Mrs. R. C. White, a comely and capable looking young woman testified that her husband hired her out to a farmer, as if she had been a work animal and forced her to work in the field, while he collected the wages.
Mrs. White testified that her husband was so cruel to her that she was afraid not to obey him. She said that she was treated like a servant by the man to whom her husband hired her, and that she even had to hoe cotton in the fields with negroes.
The jury which heard her testimony was so much impressed with her story and so outraged against the actions of the husband that while she was granted a total divorce and her disabilities removed, the jury refused absolutely to give the man the right to marry again.
"Good Mornings!"
When we are at our best a flood of life pours itself out in the simple old words "Good morning!"—a flood of meaning which strains to express itself in a thousand ways, but has to be content with verbal symbols. Our physical and vital energies, our love, our gladness, our stores of gratitude to the world's past give all that is calling us toward the future, come pouring out in the time unthought of. The depths of us, the con-

Schoolboy Aspiration.
A schoolboy wrote the following essay on soap: "Soap is a kind of mud made in cakes that you can eat. It smells good and tastes awful. Soap always makes water when you get it in your eye. Father says Bakelite don't never use soap. I wish I was an Bakelite!"
Mads Him Live Up to It.

An ambitious young water having asked, "What magazine will give me the highest position position?" was told, "A powder magazine, if you substitute a few articles."

THE PHILOSOPHERS STONE
Was supposed to transmute the baser metals into gold. Today we call it efficiency.
Efficiency is the result of knowing how, and of doing the best you know how. We could do our work cheaper, but we won't. We would do our work better, but we can't.

Player Pianos
You people that have had idle pianos in your homes, think of the possibilities that a PLAYER PIANO opens to you.
You can have the music that you like, play it when you want it, and play it like you want it. You can play anything from the simplest popular air, to the most difficult passage from Chopin, without knowing a note of music.
We will take your old Piano in exchange on a PLAYER PIANO, and you can pay the balance on easy terms.
