New York Cotton

New York, Jan. 26.—Cotton was quiet today and prices fluctuated irregularly within a range of 8 to 10 points, closing barely steady, net 1 point lower to 2 points higher.

There was a number of buying orders at the opening, probably attracted by Saturday's rally and reports of an active southern demand at the week's close. First prices were at a partial advance of 5 points, and further months sold at 5 to 6 points net higher at the call, or about 17 points above Saturday morning's level. Buying was encouraged by the steady showing of Liverpool and bullish spot news, while the favorable view of general trade conditions was fostered to some extent by reports of increasing activity in the steel trade.

After showing a net loss of 3 to 4 points, the market steadied again on continued reports of good spot demand and the appearance of a few trade orders expected to be against New England spinners calling cotton. Local spot people said that northern mills were showing more interest in interior markets, but there was no sign of broadening bull speculation, and a rally to within 2 or 3 points of the early level was not fully maintained. Closing prices were within 2 or 3 points of the lowest. Reports of a more active spot demand have been accompanied by increased exports, and today's advances brought the total for the season so far up to within 65,000 bales of last year's figure.

Spot cotton quiet; middlings upland, 12.90, gulf 13.50. No sales.

Stocks and Bonds

New York, Jan. 26.—The broad and active trading which attended last week's buoyant rise in stocks was missing from today's stock market. During the greater part of the session the movement was narrow, although an upward tendency was still visible. The outside demands for stocks and bonds fell off sharply. Trading was left largely in the hands of professional operators who found it difficult to make headway in either direction.

Stocks were sold at the opening in belief that the reaction which had set in had not run its course, but the only real test was an inconsequential downward movement. The facility with which the market absorbed a fairly large volume of selling in the first hour caused traders to change their tactics and a slow advance began. Steel developed marked strength on the upturn, selling for a time at a gain of 2 points. The copper and Harriman also made a good showing. In the last half hour there was a swift reaction which carried down some of the leaders a point from their best prices. Last prices, however, were slightly above Saturday's closing prices.

New Orleans Cotton

New Orleans, Jan. 26.—The cotton market was quite firm today. The general tone was steady and prices were disposed to work higher. Except at the opening, no great activity was in evidence. The dullness held prices down in the face of much bullish gossip.

The good tone was based on a favorable view of the Mexican situation, reports of easier money in the big markets, improvement in the steel trade and statements from the interior that banks were eager to renew loans against cotton. Bulls claimed that the remainder of the crop in the South was financed for the season and that holders were in an exceptionally strong position.

Toward the close the market was helped by the rise of one-eighth in local spot and the report that factors were making an advance of one-quarter over Saturday's prices for choice lines.

Cotton Seed Oil

New York, Jan. 26.—Cotton seed oil was easy today under liquidation precipitated by the break in land and lack of outside reports. Refiners were best buyers, presumably in the way of unloading hedges. Active months were 3 to 6 points net lower at the close. Sales 6,108. Bidder credits 5.99 to 5.97. Chicago Grain and Provisions

Chicago, Jan. 26.—Evidence that Australia and Russia were underselling the United States had a bearish influence here today on the price of wheat. Largely in consequence the market, although steady at the close, was 1-2 to 1-2 to 5-8 down, compared with Saturday night. Each of the other principle staples, too, showed a net decline. Corn, 3-8 to 1-2 to 5-8; oats 1-8 to 1-4 and provisions 5 to 22

SUMTER WILL ENGAGE IN TOBACCO GROWING

Secretary Reardon Explains How the Matter Has Been Planned.

When he was in Anderson recently Mr. E. I. Reardon, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Sumter, told of the efforts being made by the enterprising business men of the Gamecock City to introduce tobacco growing into that county. Florence and Darlington Counties nearby have been very successful and this crop, maturing in the early summer has kept the farmers of the Pee Dee country in cash money all through the year.

It is claimed that the climate of Anderson is suitable for the raising of tobacco, the very best kind of tobacco and the samples exhibited at the Belton and Pendleton fairs last fall would encourage the belief that this is so. We know of no reason why Anderson should not follow the example of Sumter and undertake something to encourage the farmers here to plant tobacco as a money crop. Many of them plant enough now for their own use and for their neighbors. Mr. Reardon while here gave The Daily Intelligencer the following interview on the subject: "The City National Bank has made arrangements to distribute, free of cost, to the tobacco-planting farmers, a quantity of first class tobacco seed. These seed were purchased from one of the most reliable and experienced tobacco seed firms after consultation between President G. A. Lemmon and a well-known tobacco growing expert and warehouseman of this section of South Carolina.

Through the efforts of the Sumter Chamber of Commerce and Sumter Retail Merchants' Association, $600 in cash has been subscribed by the business and professional men of Sumter for prizes to be awarded in competitive tobacco growing contests, and in addition to the cash prizes the following prizes are also offered by various Sumter firms: One ladies' coat suit, value $25.00; one gentleman's suit, value $25.00; one $10.00 one-year life insurance policy; one $10.00 one-year fire insurance policy; one ton of tobacco fertilizer; one $50.00 one-horse wagon; one $50.00 silver cup by a Columbia newspaper; number of boxes of choice cigars.

"A Columbia newspaper also offers a magnificent and valuable silver trophy cup, and also a substantial cash prize of one hundred dollars. Managing Secretary Reardon says that the prize list will be made larger in cash and other prizes, as the canvass was not completed for further subscriptions, and he knows that a number of enterprising Sumter firms want to come in on the prize list subscriptions. He will complete the canvass shortly."
