Items of Interest and Personal Mention Caught Over the Wireless in the Streets of Anderson.

W. H. Wooten, second vice-president of the Maryland Life Insurance Company, spent yesterday in Anderson. Mr. Wooten makes his home in Baltimore but has visited Anderson a number of times and has many friends here. He stated that the local office, under the direction of D. P. Sloan, was being conducted in a splendid manner and that he was well pleased with the state of affairs in Anderson.

The fact that Henrietta Crossman is to be in Greenville tonight will attract quite a large crowd. The additional fact that the Piedmont & Northern Lines will operate a special train, at greatly reduced prices, will also cause many to make the trip who could not otherwise go. This is a splendid production and those who have seen Miss Crossman will vouch for the statement that Anderson people will be pleased.

Members of the athletic committee of the Anderson high school say that tickets for the basketball game, which is an important event of tomorrow afternoon, are selling like hot cakes. The game is to be played at the Central high school and will be between Anderson high school and the Ball-Military Institute of Greenwood. The referee will begin the play at four o'clock and it is expected that the attendance will be large.

Anderson yesterday had the pleasure of entertaining several men who rank among the most prominent of those now engaged in the agricultural and live stock demonstration work in the State. These included W. W. Long and J. T. Watt of the demonstration work of Clemson College and Messrs. Baker and Sorrell of the agricultural departments of the Southern railway. All of the visitors were pleased with what they saw on their trip of inspection to Anderson.

Returning from a two-day visit to several of the country schools of Anderson county, J. B. Felton, superintendent of education, says that he is well pleased with the manner in which the rural schools are being conducted. During his trip to the country Mr. Felton visited Oak Hill, Concrete, St. Paul, Three and Twenty schools, all in Hursey Creek township, and he says that in each of them he found the teachers doing splendid work and the pupils, for the most part, putting forth earnest efforts.

Benson Camp No. 10806 of the W. O. W. will shortly begin the preparations for its summer encampment which is to be quite an event. This camp is among the uniformed rank and makes a splendid showing. It is said that the members are manifesting a lively interest.

HELD IN VIRGINIA FOR GREENWOOD SHERIFF

Ware Shoals Man Is Charged With Stealing Sunday School Money

Special to The Intelligencer Greenwood, Jan. 29.—W. H. Airlall, of Ware Shoals, is under arrest at Alta Vista, Va., charged with embezzling about $257 from a Sunday school and Woodmen of the World and Red Men Lodges some days ago. W. L. Freeman has been deputized by sheriff McMillan to go to the Virginia town for the prisoner and is expected to return with him Friday.

It is claimed that Airlall while treasurer of the Sunday school and lodges mentioned took the sum of money and ran away from Ware Shoals several weeks ago. He was located at Kanakee, Ill., and the Greenwood sheriff wired the sheriff of that county to make the arrest, but it was discovered that Airlall had left Kanakee, giving Alta Vista as his forwarding address. The sheriff then wired the chief of police of that town and the arrest was made at once.

Airlall is said to be about 24 years of age and comes from a well known family of the county. He has held a position in the Ware Shoals mill and has been regarded as a young man of character as the places of trust given him would indicate. It is not known whether he will fight requisition.

RADIUM CURE USED ON LOCAL PATIENTS

Mrs. S. Bleckley and Dr. Thos. C. Walton Treated by Dr. Kelly

While the entire country is talking of the wonderful results that are being obtained from the use of radium in the treatment of a number of skin diseases, it will be interesting in this section to know of the experience of people from Anderson who have been to Baltimore and who have had the treatment administered.

Mrs. S. Bleckley, one of Anderson's most lovable women, is just back from her third trip to Baltimore, where she took the radium treatment for the disease of her face. This was the third time that Mrs. Bleckley had undergone the application of the radium and it is said by her physicians and members of her family that there seems to be a decided improvement in her condition. It is, however, difficult to say in just what measure she has been improved, since the patient is always very weak for some time after the treatment is administered, and so it will hardly be possible to tell just what the effect of the last treatment administered Mrs. Bleckley will be.

When Mrs. Bleckley first entered Dr. Kelly's sanitarium in Baltimore for the radium treatment, she was given a 24-hour application, which left her very weak. It seemed that the substance had almost sapped her vitality and she was some time in recovering from the effects of this. The second time that she went to the Baltimore hospital, she was treated for fourteen hours, and on this last trip the application was only for one and one-half hours.

Radium is a mineral substance, coming in small grains like sand; as readers of The Intelligencer know, it is a very rare substance and the cost of it is hardly less than fabulous.

In administering the treatment, the physicians first place the precious grains in a small tubing, then in a lead-covered tubing and then a small bundle, like a pillow, is made of cotton and the tube is wrapped up. This is applied to the portion of the body affected and which is to be treated. The results obtained are due to the violet rays which are emanated from the substance. One feature of the radium treatment is the fact that after a patient has been treated, the same tubing will suffice for countless others, since its efficacy by repeated use, is not lost.

The application of the radium, at the time, is not painful but after the patient has finished with the actual application, the pain experienced from the burns and blisters is said to be most acute and many of them terribly from the after effects emanated from the substance. One feature of the radium treatment is the fact that after a patient has been treated, the same tubing will suffice for countless others, since its efficacy by repeated use, is not lost.

It is said that some time is necessary to build up the system after the treatment is given, and it is, therefore, still uncertain as to what benefit Mrs. Bleckley will derive from her last visit to Dr. Kelly's world-famous institution.

Another Anderson patient who has also been undergoing the treatment is Thos. C. Walton, who was for years the superintendent of the public schools of Anderson. Mr. Walton has been to Baltimore and has taken the same treatment that Mrs. Bleckley did and has just returned. He is still very ill as the result of the radium application and is necessarily in a weakened condition. He is suffering more pain than Mrs. Bleckley and requires quite a good deal of attention.

It is interesting to note that Walton is beginning to mend a little and friends of his will hope that he may soon be at least partially restored to good health.
