WILL DO MUCH WORK FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

South Carolina Association in Approaching Sessions at Anderson Will Hear Speakers Tell of Subjects Close to Hearts of Their Hearers—An Interesting Programme.

The South Carolina Sunday School association has, for the last few years, been bringing together in the State conventions some of the choicest talent in both literary and religious circles that the State can boast. This year in addition to splendid local talent there is to be the largest array of outside talent ever brought to a State convention. A new feature of the convention will be the Bible study period each morning at 12 o'clock. In charge of this period of 50 minutes will be Dr. William J. Williamson, pastor of the Third Baptist church, St. Louis.

MRS. MARY FOSTER BROWN
Noted Chicago Woman Who Will Make Address.

Mo. Dr. Williamson has the reputation of being one of the best Bible teachers in the South or in fact in the whole country. He conducted the Bible study class at the International Training school at Lake Geneva last summer. It is considered a most fortunate thing that the South Carolina association can secure Dr. Williamson and his work will be one of the most interesting features of the convention. In addition to the Bible study period Dr. Williamson will address the Baptist conference on Friday afternoon and have one or more inspirational addresses before the whole convention.

Mr. L. N. Cally of Philadelphia, who has been secured especially for the Episcopal conference and an address on Friday evening, is a prominent figure in Sunday school work. At the head of the Sunday school institute of the Episcopal church and one of the editors of the American Church Magazine he has made a large contribution to the Sunday school life of the nation.

J. Shreve Durham will be gladly welcomed again to the State. Mr. Durham has had splendid success with the home visitation work of the International association. It was he who planned and carried through the great canvasses of several of the Northern cities and Dallas and Richmond in the South.

Will Be Remembered.
Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner of Chicago will be pleasantly remembered for her fine work at the convention at Spartanburg. Mrs. Brynes will give practical assistance in the elementary conferences besides addressing the whole convention.

John C. Carman is one of the recognized leaders among the general secretaries of the States and provinces. He is a fine speaker and a practical Sunday school man. Mr. Carman is now general secretary of the Colorado association and has been engaged for the practical work of the meeting. D. W. Sims, general secretary of the Georgia association, has been secured for the Sunday school superintendents' conference. This conference of something like 200 men will be one of the most vital features of the whole convention. Mr. Sims is a practical business man as well as a trained Sunday school specialist. Before becoming general secretary Mr.

Sims was superintendent of a Sunday school of more than 2,000 members in the city of Richmond, Va. This conference will be held in St. John's Methodist church, at the conclusion of which a banquet will be tendered the men of the local Sunday school superintendent of the city of Anderson.

To Hold Conferences.
One of the most interesting as well as one of the most far-reaching phases of the convention work will be the denominational conferences to be held under the direction of the leaders of the different denominations in the State. As a practical campaign for increase is being planned for next year, these conferences are for the discussion of the work from a denominational viewpoint and to ascertain if possible just how large a per cent. of Sunday school enrollment can be urged for the next year. On Friday evening at 7:30 will take place the great parade for men and boys. This will be by far the greatest parade of its kind ever held in the State. The local parade committee is arranging to parade from 300 to 1,000 men. Special trains will be run from nearby towns carrying men for the great demonstration, those with the men from all over the State who will attend the convention will make it the biggest parade of Bible school men ever seen in the State. Many transparencies will be carried by the men besides the lighted emblems of the adult class.

The local executive committee, under the able direction of P. M. Hur-nett, chairman, and Carter A. Whaley, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is doing everything possible to plan for the comfort and pleasure of the people who will journey to this city as Sunday school workers.

Among the pleasant features planned is an automobile ride for the 700 delegates attending the convention. Railroad rates are being secured from all parts of the State. Those who promise of securing a round trip rate which will be a lower rate than has ever yet been secured for a State convention.

The music for the convention will be rendered by the 12-voice Anderson choir which will be trained by Dr. Fisher of the Anderson college for women. Harold C. Lowden of Philadelphia, composer and song writer, will direct the choir.

The program for the State Sunday School Convention at Anderson, Feb. 11-13, is unusually attractive. The music will be one of the most interesting features.

Harold C. Lowden of Philadelphia will conduct a choir of more than one hundred voices. Mr. Lowden is a fine conductor and composer of notes. This is the first time he has been to a convention in this state, and his coming will be a great event.

Mr. Alvin W. Roper, of Wilson, N. C., will be the pianist. So marvelous is Mr. Roper's skill that he has been called the "Wizard of the the International Conventions and at Piano." He has played at several of the World's Conventions held in Washington. His playing at these conventions was so remarkable that he has won a great reputation the world round. Music lovers are looking forward with great interest to hearing Mr. Roper.

The most spectacular feature of the convention will be the men's Bible Class parade, at 7:30 o'clock, Friday evening, when 1,500 men, carrying transparencies, will march through the streets of the city of Anderson. At the head of this magnificent parade will march ex-Governor Ansel, Greenville, several mayors of the towns near Anderson, and Rev. J. W. Speake, the chairman of the parade committee. This splendid line of men will march to the convention church where they will be addressed by Dr. L. N. Caley, of Philadelphia, Dr. Williamson, of St. Louis, and Mr. J. Shreve Durham, of Chicago.

The Sunday School Superintendents at the convention will be tendered a banquet in the dining room of St. John's Methodist church, on Friday afternoon, February 11th. Preceding this banquet there will be a conference for the superintendents led by Mr. D. W. Sims, general secretary of the Georgia Sunday School Association, Atlanta.

POULTRY DAY FOR ANDERSON FARMERS

February 17 Announced as Day for the Chicken Fanciers of Anderson County.

Those Anderson county farmers who are interested in the raising of poultry are to have a day to discuss and consider every phase of the poultry business.

It was announced yesterday by the Trades Extension Committee of the Chamber of Commerce that February 17th had been designated as poultry day to be held in connection with Farmers Trade's day for this month. Secretary Whaley of the Chamber of Commerce said yesterday that he saw no reason why the event should not attract a large number of Anderson county farmers to the city and pointed to the fact that the program is very elaborate and that the prizes to be awarded are well worth working for. The following is the complete program and the list of prizes:

Program—11. A. M.
Chairman—Hon. J. L. Magee of Starr.
Invocation—Rev. S. T. Blackman of Honea Path.
Address—Poultry, Jas. S. Hare, United States Government Poultry Expert.

All chickens must be entered by 12 noon in order to qualify.

CIVIL COURT IN SESSION

Slow Progress Being Made in the Spring Term of Court of Common Pleas.

With Judge John S. Wilson presiding, the spring term of the court of common pleas for Anderson county convened yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The preliminary opening of the court was dispatched with in short order and the first case, that of the Commonwealth Shoe & Leather Company, versus W. A. Hammond, was taken up. The plaintiff was suing for the sum of $375. This case occupied the attention of the court almost all day and went to the jury at a late hour. A verdict for the plaintiff company in the sum of $31.20 was returned.

The case of T. P. Dickson versus J. P. Martin, this suit being relative to a note, was taken up by the court shortly before time for adjournment and therefore was not completed last night.

The case of D. S. Taylor vs. S. H. Stowers was marked settled out of court; the case of the First National Bank of Chatsanooga vs. J. H. Bowden was marked continued until the next court, as was the case of B. M. Callahan vs. William Callahan. The case of F. G. et al. vs. the G. S. & A. Ry. has been settled and was stricken from the docket yesterday. The case of Harry vs. Grant, which had not been placed in the roster of cases as prepared by the Bar association, was set for trial on Thursday of this week. The case of Consumers vs. Railway company was placed on the continued docket.

Take a Tip From Old Diogenes

By MOSS.

PLATO having a couple of thousand years ago defined man as a two legged animal without feathers. Diogenes (the chap who went around in the daytime with a lantern looking for an honest man) plucked a rooster and took it into the academy where the ancient philosophers discussed everything under the sun and said, "This is Plato's man." On which account this addition was made to the definition: "With broad, flat nails."

We all admit that old Diogenes was a pretty smart Greek, with a fine sense of humor. If he lived today he wouldn't have to use his lantern among daylight newspapers to find an honest advertiser. SUCCESSFUL ADVERTISERS MUST BE HONEST. Dishonesty doesn't pay in advertising or in anything else. No daylight paper wants to have anything to do with the space buyer who deliberately tries to fool the public.

But, coming back to Plato's modified man, the moral of that story is: Be exact. Be specific. Don't overlook the details. Do you watch the ads. in this paper CAREFULLY enough? Do you keep posted on the details? Do you make it your business to read them with EXACTNESS?
