Grandson of Calhoun Appears Before Legislature With Promises of Money If Change Is Made Soon.

Special correspondence. Columbia, Feb. 6.—The House received a message from the Governor today reiterating his recommendations that the name of Clemson College be changed to that of Calhoun University and that the institution be placed under the direct control of the State, instead of a self-perpetuating board of trustees.

The message was referred to the joint committee on ways and means of the House and the Finance committee of the Senate, who were instructed to invite Mr. Calhoun of New York to appear before them.

By a vote of 45 to 33 the House refused this morning to pass the bill providing for the sale of the State Hospital for the Insane and the transfer of the institution to State Park. On account of the closeness of the vote, Speaker Horn polled the House.

After the poll Mr. Tindal of Greenville and Mr. Massey of Lancaster, said they wanted to change their votes on the bill so as to vote in favor of its passage.

By a vote of 51 to 44 the House refused to reconsider the vote recently killed.

Tragedy Occurred on the Streets of Atlanta Friday Night.

FEW WITNESSES WERE PRESENT

Traveling Man and Wife Were Separated and the Shooting Occurred After Short Talk.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 6.—A. J. Amoson, a traveling salesman, residing here, late today shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide by sending a bullet through his heart. The tragedy occurred near the intersection of Trinity avenue and Whitehall street, in the heart of the city, just at dusk. So far as known, there were few witnesses.

According to one man who claims to have seen the killing, Amoson and his wife, who was young and attractive, engaged in a brief conversation. Suddenly, according to this witness, the man drew a revolver and fired several times, the woman falling to the sidewalk. Amoson then turned his weapon upon himself, firing two shots, one of which passed through his heart. Both were dead before medical aid could reach them.

It is said that the couple separated several weeks ago, and that since then Mrs. Amoson steadfastly refused to see her husband. She is supposed to have been on her way to her rooms on Trinity avenue, when her husband met her and presumably endeavored to persuade her to return. Mrs. Amoson was shot twice, one shot passing through her head and the other through her left shoulder.

IS PARTIALLY PARALYZED

Stricken Legislator Was Given Immediate Attention by Physicians Who Were Present at Session.

Columbia, Feb. 6.—While Dr. C. T. Wyche of Newberry, speaker pro tem, was presiding over the house at 9:20 o'clock Friday night he suddenly fell out of the speaker's chair on the rostrum. His son, Carl G. Wyche, of Spartanburg; Dr. Balk of Bealey; Dr. Jones, of Greenwood, and other members of the house rushed to his assistance. Dr. J. A. Hays, Dr. A. B. Patterson, senator from Darlington, and Dr. J. B. Black, senator from Hamburg, also hurried to the rostrum to render medical aid.

After a brief examination the physicians announced that they feared that Dr. Wyche's left side was partially paralyzed. He was taken to a hospital in an ambulance as soon as possible.

When Dr. Wyche was taken to the hospital he was in the middle of a filibuster over the passage of the Southern bill to exempt and state houses of ill repute. As part of the program of the filibuster opponents of the bill had demanded a roll call of yeas and nays to adjourn. Speaker Wyche hurried to the stand and arrived in time to cast his vote. Dr. Wyche was hoarse from the strain.

After a session of five minutes, during which the physicians made an examination, the house by unanimous consent adjourned until Saturday without taking any action on the pending bill.

SHOULD BE SENT TO PENITENTIARY

Men Involved in Financial Transactions of Railroad Are Searched.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Men involved in some of the past financial transactions of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad were announced today as criminals in the Senate. Senator Borah said they should be occupying penitentiary cells, if charges relating to the corporation's affairs are substantiated.

There were intimations that the federal government still contemplates instituting original action against certain individuals engaged in transactions of the New Haven, which have been investigated by the interstate commerce commission.

The discussion arose when Senator Norris of Nebraska called up his resolution to direct the commission to extend its inquiry into the New Haven's affairs, particularly with a view to ascertaining what became of millions of dollars of the New Haven's funds declared to have been fraudulently withheld from the railroad's stockholders.

AGAIN ARGUE RACE QUESTION

Lever Agricultural Extension Bill on Passage.

VARDAMAN ON SOUTHERN VIEW

Says Northern and Western Senators Speak From Ignorance of the Whole Situation in the South.

Washington, Feb. 6.—After another day's debate on the race question, the Senate today agreed to vote on the final passage of the Lever agricultural extension bill. Senator Gallinger started today's argument with a statement in favor of the Jones amendment to provide that negro agricultural colleges in the South shall share in the administration of the proposed fund for farm demonstration.

This brought forth extended remarks upon the negro by Senator Vardaman, who delivered it would be a God-send if the negro were not permitted to vote in any State. He added that the Republican party were getting tired of the negro in politics and was contemplating a way to get him out of the national conventions.

Senator Clapp protested that what Senator Vardaman was saying about the inability of the negro to advance alone, was not applicable to the mixed bloods of Mississippi. Describing present conditions in the "black belt" of the Mississippi senator said the "black belt" of the Southern States were living today in "the days when the wild man and wild beast roamed the frontier."

Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan expressed the opinion that the possession of the South of $500,000,000 worth of property by the negroes was a tribute to the latent ability of the race.

WOMEN ARRESTED FOR AIDING STRIKERS

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Eleven arrests of young women girls charged with obstructing the sidewalk in front of a downtown restaurant, where waitresses are on strike, were made today. All the strikers were released on bond.

The young women adopted militant tactics when a squad of policemen was sent to disperse crowds that gathered in front of the restaurant. The first of those arrested sealed themselves on the sticky sidewalk and said:

"You'll have to carry us to the station. The police lifted the girls to their feet and half-walked, half-dragged them to the station. The girls said they would demand jury trials."

Distinguished Englishman Is Expected to Visit Washington.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, today called on President Wilson. It was understood that the prospective visit to America of a distinguished Englishman was the chief purpose of the conference, though the opportunity that it afforded for a discussion of the Panama canal toll controversy gave rise to considerable speculation in diplomatic circles.

So far as known, the British government never has formally been apprised of the views of the Wilson administration on the tolls question, though informal intimations of the press or other informal intimations are believed to have presented to officials that President Wilson is inclined to press the matter to an early settlement.

President's Desire to Repeal Canal Tolls Causes Discussion.

Washington, Feb. 6.—President Wilson's expressed desire for repeal of the provision of the Panama canal act which exempts American coastwise ships from tolls, it was apparent tonight, will precipitate spirited debate in congress. Senators and representatives discussed the situation informally today. Action probably will come first from the house interstate and foreign commerce committee in a bill to repeal the toll exemption provision.

Although the repeal is prepared in the face of a plank in the Baltimore platform of the Democratic party, the discussion of that phase of the proposed repeal of policy is not expected to be extended as the influence of the contemplated action on foreign relations. Senate democratic leaders plan to await action in the house before taking up the president's suggestion.

SOLUTION MAY BE COMPROMISE

Bill for Regulating Stock Exchanges Now Under Consideration.

Washington, Feb. 6.—A possibility of compromise between the New York Stock Exchange and the Senate Banking and Currency Committee on terms of a bill to provide federal regulation of stock exchanges today was suggested at the committee hearing. H. K. Pomeroy, once president of the exchange and now on the board of governors and the listing committee, agreed at the request of senators that the exchange should make suggestions to the committee which would deem advisable.

Mr. Pomeroy had laid before the committee the listing rules of the New York exchange and promised to furnish the constitution and rules of other exchanges in the United States. He asserted that the New York exchange was the only organization having drastic rules as to listing securities and that stocks listed on it were accepted without question by the London exchange.

Senator Pomeroy asked if legislation requiring other exchanges to have equally drastic rules would be beneficial. Mr. Pomeroy replied that it would, and agreed to draft a plan as a basis for new legislation.
