LONG CASE
 ENDS TODAY
 Interesting legal battle will be concluded some time during today's session.

One of the most interesting legal battles waged in Anderson county for some time ago, one of the longest civil cases heard in the local courts in some months will come to an end today when the Harry-Cross case is finally sent to the jury.
 This case was begun in the Court of Common Pleas last Monday and it was then expected that it would be concluded in one day, but the time already consumed, but with the weight of each additional witness the end of the case seemed to be more and more distant.
 All the morning was concluded by testimony and the arguments of the attorneys began. These arguments lasted throughout the day and when court adjourned last night there were still two speakers to be heard, these being General Bonham and John K. Hood. It is expected that these two arguments will consume the better part of the morning and it is hardly probable that the case will be given over to the jury before afternoon.

CAPT. KELLER WAS WELL KNOWN HERE

Prominent Rock Hill Man Who Committed Suicide Tuesday
 Had Visited Anderson

Anderson people read with much regret yesterday morning the announcement that Capt. J. J. Keller had committed suicide in Rock Hill. Capt.
 Keller had visited Anderson, having been here last summer on the encampment, being on Col. Lewis' staff. The following account of the suicide is from the Rock Hill Herald of yesterday:
 "One of Rock Hill's most prominent citizens took his life this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when John J. Keller placed a 38-calibre revolver against his temple and blew his brains out.
 Leaving his office shortly after 2 o'clock as cheerful, apparently, as he could be, Mr. Keller walked home and stepped out into his ambulance house, in the rear of the residence. A minute later Mrs. Keller heard the fatal shot and rushing out found him prone upon the cement floor unconscious.
 "Mrs. Hay, Fennell and Stevens were quickly summoned, but they saw nothing that could be done.
 "Mrs. Keller was overcome by the shock and a physician had to administer to her. She stated that he had gone into the back yard and had stated that he would return to dinner in a moment.
 "One of the negroes employed by Mr. Keller was unharassing a horse when Mr. Keller went into the ambulance house. He immediately heard a shot and asked Mrs. Keller what the "boss" was doing. Mrs. Keller went at once, suspecting something and hurried to the place to find him unconscious.
 "It is apparent that Mr. Keller secured his revolver, a Colt's army, while passing through the house. If he left a note giving any reason for his act it had not been found when the Herald went to press.
 "G. K. Christberg, who is connected with J. J. Keller & Co., contractors and undertakers and embalmers, stated that when he had last seen Mr.
 Keller he was in his usual mood. So far as he knew there was nothing to make him contemplate the act.
 "Mr. Keller came to Rock Hill about eight years ago, from Yorkville. Since his residence here he has made hundreds of friends who will learn with regret of his tragic end. He was an exceptional citizen, courteous and kind and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was a loyal member of St. John's Methodist church, and was also a member of several secret orders.
 "Mr. Keller is survived by his wife, his father and mother of Rutherfordton, N. C., two sisters and two brothers.
 "He was about 50 years of age.
 "Mr. Keller had been a member of the public works commission, since that body was organized by law three years ago and had in this capacity rendered faithful service to his adopted city, often devoting time to his work that should have been given to his home.

His firm did a general contracting business, having erected imposing structures in various parts of the state. He was well known in both North and South Carolina, being a native of the former state.

COUNTY OFFICERS HOLD CONFERENCE

One of the interesting features of the Sunday School Convention

Doubtless the most enthusiastic conferees of the convention was that held in the Sunday school room of the First Baptist church for county and township officers. Mr. S. T.
 Lanham, of Spartanburg, presided, with Mr. John C. Carman, general secretary of the Colorado association, Denver, Col., as specialist.
 Thirty-five were in attendance at this conference, five of whom were county presidents, ten county vice-presidents, seven county secretary-treasurers and one each of teacher training and Home Visitation superintendants; seven were township presidents; one each of township Home Visitation superintendents, and executive committee.
 A message of greeting and God-bless was sent to the absent officers by the conference through the newspapers and on the wings of prayer.
 The subjects for discussion were:
 "The Value of District Organization," discussed by Mr. L. G. Watson, secretary of Edgefield county. He showed, from his own experience, what it had done for Edgefield. He said it teaches all the schools, arouses enthusiasm and develops workers.
 "How Union County Reached the Front Line" was shown by Mr. C.
 N. Alexander, secretary of Union county. Colleton is the only other Front Line county. A beautiful tribute was paid to Mrs. A. Farr for her faithful work. Miss Ida Fishburn was the power that brought Colleton to the Front Line.
 Mr. B. L. Rushing, secretary of Greenville county, discussed the big problem of county finances.
 The open parliament led by Mr.
 Carman, proved to be very interesting. Calhoun county was organized and made a banner county in one year. A telegram of congratulations was sent to Miss Able, county secretary, for her firm work. Miss Able was detained at home because of her mother being ill.
 The conference will doubtless do much for organized work in the state.

General Arbitration Treaties in Senate

(By Associated Press)
 Washington, Feb. 11.—General arbitration treaties with Great Britain, Japan, Italy, Spain, Norway, Sweden, Portugal and Switzerland, which have expired and are awaiting ratification for extension, are to be taken up for consideration by the Senate Feb. 19.
 This course was determined upon today by the foreign relations committee, which recently favorably reported the treaties after a conference with President Wilson.
 Opposition to extension of the treaties is certain to develop, but administration leaders see a clearing up of the foreign relations of the country will be favorably acted upon after the general debate.

ELEMENTARY WORK WAS THEIR THEME

Interesting Session at St. John's Church in the Afternoon

The elementary conference which was held in the St. John's Methodist church, Wednesday afternoon was attended by a large number of delegates, visitors and Sunday School workers of the city, the Sunday School room being full to overflowing.
 The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Samuel Burts of Spartanburg, and the program as carried out was declared by all present to be one of the most instructive as well as attractive of its kind.
 The Rev. D. W. Dodge, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, opened the meeting with a most impressive prayer for the children of South Carolina, and the Bible lesson for the afternoon was given in story form by Mrs. W. A. Seay, who told the story of a little girl who helped others. She interested her hearers in a beautiful account of how the little captive maid helped Naamah.
 Miss Agnes Ravenel gave a demonstration of how to teach a song to the little child in the primary department and taught that beautiful child's prayer hymn "Jesus, Tender Shepherd, Hear Me."
 Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, of Chic-go, the elementary superintendent of the international Sunday school association who is no stranger to the Sunday school workers in this state, was next introduced and gave in a most impressive manner "The Teacher's Parable." She told of the importance of leading the little child to the Father and how it was accomplished only when the teacher suited his steps to the short steps of the child.
 The part of the elementary department in the ingathering which is the theme of the convention program, was discussed by Mesdames Bryner and Burts and the Rev. W. H. K.
 Pendleton.
 "What to do when the babies and the mothers come to Sunday school," was the instructive topic opened for discussion by Mrs. J. W. Spence, superintendent of the primary department of St. John's church. She urged the formation of cradle roll classes in our beginners department for the babies under three years old, and the organization of mother's classes for the mothers who bring these little ones each Sunday.
 The Rev. W. H. K. Pendleton, chairman of the executive committee, made an address on the beautiful work of teaching. He spoke feelingly and eloquently on the kind of teachers the little child loves, and said there was a place in the department devoted to teaching the little folk, only for the cheerful teachers, and the teacher who knows how to smile. He said the teacher of the little child went to work every Sunday morning and must dress well to meet her young lovers, but that the greatest of all characteristics was consecration without which the teacher could accomplish nothing.
 Mesdames Bryner and Burts talked of the use of the story in the Sunday school giving many helpful hints to the teachers as to how to tell stories.
 Another elementary conference will be held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Sunday school room of the St. John's Methodist church, to which all delegates and those interested in child study are invited to attend.
 The program is given in full elsewhere.
