SPARTANBURG IS SOON CONNECTED

Cars Will Be Running from Anderson to that Point Within the Next Ten Days

According to official announcements it will not be more than ten days before the G. S. & A. railway will be running cars over the interurban lines to Spartanburg. This statement was given out in Spartanburg yesterday and it is confidently expected that the lines will be connected up by that time.

Anderson people will welcome this announcement, since there is a great deal of business and much traveling between these two points. It is probable that a much quicker trip can be made from Anderson to Spartanburg over the through line than has heretofore been possible.

The following is from the Spartanburg Herald of yesterday:

"When seen yesterday those doing the grading for the G. S. & A. said that electric cars would be operated between this city and Greenville within the next ten days or two weeks. The tracks and grading are completed through the 'Hamburg' section, in the western portion of the city, and extend nearly to Forest street. They should reach the bridge crossing Wofford street within the next two days.

"The G. S. & A. will build three additional warehouses on Wofford and Spring streets. The plans have been formulated and bid on, but the awarding of the contract has not been announced. These warehouses will be four stories in height and built of brick. They are to be fireproof structures, with an electric elevator service, steam heat, sewerage and lavatories. The combined cost of the three warehouses will be $25,000. There is to be one warehouse erected on Spring street, 30x60 feet, and two on Wofford street, 48x83 feet each.

"Passenger Station on Main. According to the present plans of the G. S. & A., the tracks of the system will run up Wofford street to Spring street, then along the latter thoroughfare to West Main street, whence west along West Main, looping back to the main line of the road from a point near that street. It is proposed to erect a modern passenger station on the corner of West Main and Spring streets, but the contract for this structure has not been let yet.

"Six initial tracks will be run along the freight depot of the 'Interurban' now erecting on Wofford street, their holding capacity being about 400 cars. As business increases more tracks will be added.

"The new freight depot and warehouse for the 'Interurban' on Wofford street is almost completed. The contractors think that it will be ready for occupancy by the first of the month. This structure is one of the most modern in the south for the purposes for which it will be utilized. It is constructed of brick, reinforced with concrete, and is absolutely fireproof. The structure is 21x241 feet and cost $40,000.

"First Floor. The first floor, or basement, will be utilized for the receiving and delivery of freight. At the west end of the building are the freight offices and this portion of the depot is constructed of white unit brick, and the interior will be furnished in hardwood. The freight warehouse occupies this first floor and is 200 feet in length. Along the warehouse space next to Wofford street is the wagon way, which is constructed under a part of the second story of the building. From this driveway doors for receiving and delivery of freight open into the warehouse. A broad platform runs along the full length of the building in the rear for the unloading and transfer of freight from cars.

"The second and third floors of the building will be used for private warehouse purposes. There are eight of these, both floors being 25x70 feet. The second floor of these warehouses is on a level with Wofford street. Electric elevators are connected with every two of these for the transfer of freight from the railroad to the private warehouses, and from the second to the third floors. Each of the warehouses has an office, and all are steam heated and have sewerage and lavatories with hot and cold water."

LOCAL MAN RUN DOWN

Young Man From Anderson in Automobile Accident at Greenville Wednesday

According to a report received in Anderson, a young man from this city by the name of Balock or Blalock sustained painful injuries in Greenville Wednesday when he was run down by an automobile. According to the information received from Greenville, the man was not very badly injured and got into the automobile with the man who had run him down later compromising the case for $7.50. However, interested spectators had taken the matter up and the driver was arrested.

Inquiry in various parts of Anderson failed to establish the identity of the young man if the correct name was given and no more has been heard of the case locally.

The following appeared in the Greenville News concerning the accident yesterday:

"Having run down a young fellow Balock or Blalock, and fearful of the consequences, likely to result, Frank Young, a public service driver of this city, took the injured man into his automobile for a ride in the country, effecting in the interim a compromise with Balock. The alleged accident occurred near the Southern depot, and eyewitnesses are of the opinion that the young fellow was run down maliciously. The exact details of the affair are lacking but according to Officer Blair, who worked up the case, Young is reported to have been driving recklessly. Young is reported as saying the rear wheel of his car skidded, knocking him into his automobile for a ride in the country, during which time it is said Balock agreed to 'forget the affair' for the sum of $7.50. On their return from the country, Young was arrested and placed under bond of $225. The case will be heard in police court today, Balock having agreed to stay in the city until after the trial.

SAYS NAME SHOULD BE "CRAZY HOUSE"

Representative McDonald Writes That Name of State House is Misnomer; Wants Change

The following is a letter which has been written from Columbia by Representative M. R. McDonald and deals with conditions in Columbia:

Columbia, S. C., Feb. 9, 1914.

Dear Editor:

It is very discouraging to see how some of the members of the house of representatives waste the time in their attempts to defeat legislation. About one dozen members of the House have been carrying on a filibuster in their attempts to defeat the Sanders bill, which attempts to put an end to house of ill fame and for immoral purposes. The bill will become a law, or rather it will pass the House if a vote is ever reached. On Saturday I succeeded in getting through the House a motion to limit all speeches to ten minutes. This will be of much benefit toward the bringing about of much effective work.

I have introduced a bill to "abolish and discontinue the Confederate Home," which is situated in the city of Columbia. The reason for so doing is, because it is a waste of money to run this institution. When the legislature passed a law authorizing this home for the aged and infirm soldiers and sailors of the Civil War, it embodied in that law that none of the officers in that home should receive pay, and that only two soldiers in each county be allowed to live there. In violation of this law some counties have more than their share, and the superintendent, Maj. H. W. Richardson, gets one hundred dollars per month. Dr. Butler seventy-five dollars per month and several others are receiving salaries. It costs the State from $20,000 to $30,000 per year to maintain this institution. The place is nothing more than a place for favored politicians. For this reason, I think it should be abolished and the money distributed among the soldiers deserving it. Is it right to tax the people to spend from twenty to thirty thousand dollars per year to keep up eighty-four men, when many good soldiers never draw one cent for their services in the war?

The House failed to pass the bill removing the asylum to State Park property. I think this is a mistake. The asylum should not be in the city with 365 acres of good farming land partly in and partly outside of the city limits. This land is worth too much to keep for farming purposes. The State owns 2,500 acres of fine farming land at State Park, five miles above the city, and that is the proper place for the State Hospital for the insane.

I think that instead of calling the State house the State house for the officials, it should be called "The State house for the insane," for some mighty foolish things are done here.

Mr. Zeigler passed a bill through the house requiring hunters to take out a license for that purpose. Mr. McQueen's bill to sell the State farms in Sumter and Kershaw counties, and to place all able-bodied convicts on the public roads, passed the house by a very heavy majority.

The house passed the Harper-McCravy compulsory education bill. This bill, if passed into the act, will not be a compulsory education law, for it only gives this right: One-third of the qualified electors in a school district may petition for an election to be held for the purpose of voting for or against compulsory education. If a majority vote in favor of it, that district which votes shall then have compulsory education, and all parents or custodians of children that are between the ages of eight and twelve, must send their children to school, or be subject to a fine of ten dollars; provided, that such child does not live more than two miles from the school house, or if the child's services are needed at home, then such parents shall be excused from the penalties of the act.

I don't think this much of a law, and don't think it can be enforced to any material advantage, and personally, I am not in favor of compulsory education at present, but I merely voted for this bill in order to give the people a right to vote on the law. No one can make a mistake by trusting such things to the will of the people.

The house has passed a two cent passenger rate.

The primary bill is now under consideration. It is probable that some law on this subject will be passed, but it is not probable that it will be very stringent. It shall not be my purpose to vote for a bill that will disfranchise any white man, but I shall vote for a bill to prevent any one man from voting more than once.

On Friday night Dr. C. T. Wyche, speaker pro tem of the house, a member from Newberry county, was suddenly stricken with paralysis while walking the street. He was taken to the Columbia hospital and is now rising splendidly and promises to recover soon.

The investigation concerning the State hospital is now going on. Senator Tillman and Governor Blalock have both testified. They were in the committee room at the same time. There was no conversation between them, however. Governor Blalock said that Senator Tillman is to be looked upon with pity; that he

"The G. S. & A. will build three additional warehouses on Wofford and Spring streets. The plans have been formulated and bid on, but the awarding of the contract has not been announced. These warehouses will be four stories in height and built of brick. They are to be fireproof structures, with an electric elevator service, steam heat, sewerage and lavatories. The combined cost of the three warehouses will be $25,000. There is to be one warehouse erected on Spring street, 30x60 feet, and two on Wofford street, 48x83 feet each.

"Passenger Station on Main. According to the present plans of the G. S. & A., the tracks of the system will run up Wofford street to Spring street, then along the latter thoroughfare to West Main street, whence west along West Main, looping back to the main line of the road from a point near that street. It is proposed to erect a modern passenger station on the corner of West Main and Spring streets, but the contract for this structure has not been let yet.

"Six initial tracks will be run along the freight depot of the 'Interurban' now erecting on Wofford street, their holding capacity being about 400 cars. As business increases more tracks will be added.

"The new freight depot and warehouse for the 'Interurban' on Wofford street is almost completed. The contractors think that it will be ready for occupancy by the first of the month. This structure is one of the most modern in the south for the purposes for which it will be utilized. It is constructed of brick, reinforced with concrete, and is absolutely fireproof. The structure is 21x241 feet and cost $40,000.

"First Floor. The first floor, or basement, will be utilized for the receiving and delivery of freight. At the west end of the building are the freight offices and this portion of the depot is constructed of white unit brick, and the interior will be furnished in hardwood. The freight warehouse occupies this first floor and is 200 feet in length. Along the warehouse space next to Wofford street is the wagon way, which is constructed under a part of the second story of the building. From this driveway doors for receiving and delivery of freight open into the warehouse. A broad platform runs along the full length of the building in the rear for the unloading and transfer of freight from cars.

"The second and third floors of the building will be used for private warehouse purposes. There are eight of these, both floors being 25x70 feet. The second floor of these warehouses is on a level with Wofford street. Electric elevators are connected with every two of these for the transfer of freight from the railroad to the private warehouses, and from the second to the third floors. Each of the warehouses has an office, and all are steam heated and have sewerage and lavatories with hot and cold water."

LOCAL MAN RUN DOWN

Young Man From Anderson in Automobile Accident at Greenville Wednesday

According to a report received in Anderson, a young man from this city by the name of Balock or Blalock sustained painful injuries in Greenville Wednesday when he was run down by an automobile. According to the information received from Greenville, the man was not very badly injured and got into the automobile with the man who had run him down later compromising the case for $7.50. However, interested spectators had taken the matter up and the driver was arrested.

Inquiry in various parts of Anderson failed to establish the identity of the young man if the correct name was given and no more has been heard of the case locally.

The following appeared in the Greenville News concerning the accident yesterday:

"Having run down a young fellow Balock or Blalock, and fearful of the consequences, likely to result, Frank Young, a public service driver of this city, took the injured man into his automobile for a ride in the country, effecting in the interim a compromise with Balock. The alleged accident occurred near the Southern depot, and eyewitnesses are of the opinion that the young fellow was run down maliciously. The exact details of the affair are lacking but according to Officer Blair, who worked up the case, Young is reported to have been driving recklessly. Young is reported as saying the rear wheel of his car skidded, knocking him into his automobile for a ride in the country, during which time it is said Balock agreed to 'forget the affair' for the sum of $7.50. On their return from the country, Young was arrested and placed under bond of $225. The case will be heard in police court today, Balock having agreed to stay in the city until after the trial.

SAYS NAME SHOULD BE "CRAZY HOUSE"

Representative McDonald Writes That Name of State House is Misnomer; Wants Change

The following is a letter which has been written from Columbia by Representative M. R. McDonald and deals with conditions in Columbia:

Columbia, S. C., Feb. 9, 1914.

Dear Editor:

It is very discouraging to see how some of the members of the house of representatives waste the time in their attempts to defeat legislation. About one dozen members of the House have been carrying on a filibuster in their attempts to defeat the Sanders bill, which attempts to put an end to house of ill fame and for immoral purposes. The bill will become a law, or rather it will pass the House if a vote is ever reached. On Saturday I succeeded in getting through the House a motion to limit all speeches to ten minutes. This will be of much benefit toward the bringing about of much effective work.

I have introduced a bill to "abolish and discontinue the Confederate Home," which is situated in the city of Columbia. The reason for so doing is, because it is a waste of money to run this institution. When the legislature passed a law authorizing this home for the aged and infirm soldiers and sailors of the Civil War, it embodied in that law that none of the officers in that home should receive pay, and that only two soldiers in each county be allowed to live there. In violation of this law some counties have more than their share, and the superintendent, Maj. H. W. Richardson, gets one hundred dollars per month. Dr. Butler seventy-five dollars per month and several others are receiving salaries. It costs the State from $20,000 to $30,000 per year to maintain this institution. The place is nothing more than a place for favored politicians. For this reason, I think it should be abolished and the money distributed among the soldiers deserving it. Is it right to tax the people to spend from twenty to thirty thousand dollars per year to keep up eighty-four men, when many good soldiers never draw one cent for their services in the war?

The House failed to pass the bill removing the asylum to State Park property. I think this is a mistake. The asylum should not be in the city with 365 acres of good farming land partly in and partly outside of the city limits. This land is worth too much to keep for farming purposes. The State owns 2,500 acres of fine farming land at State Park, five miles above the city, and that is the proper place for the State Hospital for the insane.

I think that instead of calling the State house the State house for the officials, it should be called "The State house for the insane," for some mighty foolish things are done here.

Mr. Zeigler passed a bill through the house requiring hunters to take out a license for that purpose. Mr. McQueen's bill to sell the State farms in Sumter and Kershaw counties, and to place all able-bodied convicts on the public roads, passed the house by a very heavy majority.

The house passed the Harper-McCravy compulsory education bill
