CLEMSON TEACHERS HERE FOR SCHOOL

Those Who Are to Assist in The Night Textile School Visited Anderson Yesterday

Anticipating a large crowd when the textile night school for young men of this city is launched, Prof. McSwain of Clemson College will meet tomorrow night with the instructors of the school and those interested in this work to confer as to plans for carrying on the school and the best methods to adopt in order that the greatest results may be attained.

The men who are to come from Clemson College to conduct this school are all experts in their particular lines, holding degrees from some of the country's most famous textile institutions and there can be no doubt as to their ability to teach the mill men a great deal.

A bill is now in the South Carolina General Assembly, having been introduced by Representative G. F. Haynesworth, which provides for the establishment of a number of these schools in the state, the cost of the original undertaking being borne by the state. This bill has received a unanimously favorable report from the committee on education and it is said that its chances for passage are bright.

WAR DECLARED ON LAZINESS

Physicians of Honea Path Issue Ultimatum Which Causes Much Amusement

Anderson people have recently come into possession of notice issued by the physicians of Honea Path which they found very amusing. Evidently some of the people of Honea Path are none too prompt in the matter of settling their doctor's bills and the ire and wrath of the practitioners of Honea Path has become aroused in good fashion.

WILL FILED OF H. C. TOWNSEND

Very Brief, Leaving All Of His Property to His Wife With No Provisions

The will of the late H. C. Townsend has been filed in the office of the Probate Judge and is a very brief legal paper. It merely states that all of his property shall go to his wife and there are no provisions attached. The following is an exact copy:

"I, Henry Claude Townsend, being of sane mind, do hereby make my last will and testament, I will that all of my property, real and personal, be left to my beloved wife, Nella Towers Townsend."

MR. JAMES T. ROBERTS, OF ANDERSON

Mr. Roberts recently challenged the world in the matter of a record for fox hunting. He has the pelts and brushes of more foxes than any other living man. This picture shows his fine $300 gun with which he won fame as a bird-shot several years ago. In court last week Mr. Roberts was suing a fire insurance company—and old engineer corps and who are for shore duty only be made eligible to command navy yards. He adds: "The question of rank of bureau chiefs has come up. While it perhaps causes a slight ranking in the breasts of older officers to see a younger officer selected for the important position of chief of bureau, this irritation is largely due to the custom of the service that a junior

SPLENDID MEETING OF COUNTY TEACHERS

Bad Weather Failed to Keep Seventy of Anderson's Instructors Attending Session

Those who had in charge the monthly meeting of the Anderson county teachers feared that the snow and cold weather would cause a majority of the teachers of the county to stay at home yesterday, but in this they were most agreeably surprised. Instead of keeping many away; there were over 70 teachers in attendance when the meeting was called to order.

There were many interesting features of the day's program, chief among which might be mentioned the splendid dinner which was served by the county board. This took place in the basement of the First Baptist church and was thoroughly delightful even if.

Another pleasing event was the presentation of pretty little hand-painted souvenirs of the occasion, these being made in the shape of a heart pierced with an arrow in honor of St. Valentine's day. The meeting lasted for about an hour and a half and there was not a dull minute during this entire time. Questions of interest to every teacher present were discussed and considered and the meeting will doubtless have helpful results. Some of the features on the program that might be mentioned were solos by Mrs. A. McShaype, which had been substituted for the music of the orchestra of St. John's church, a short address by J. B. Patton in which he urged the teachers to attend the State Association at Spartanburg, a special address by R. A. Abrams of Starr, and a few remarks from Mrs. M. Gie Garsington relative to the various schools entering for the Field Day parade to be held on March 27.

All told the meeting was one of the most successful ever held by the county association and one who saw what was done at this meeting yesterday can readily understand how it is that no teacher in the county cares to miss one of the monthly meetings.

DIRT SOLD AT A BIG PRICE

McBayer's 150 Acres Sold by John Linley to R. S. McCully for Sum of $23,000

An important real estate deal consummated in Anderson yesterday by John Linley was the sale of what is known as the McBayer place to R. S. McCully, the consideration being $23,000.

This land is situated just outside the city on West Market street extension and is one of the finest pieces of property in the county. In the deal made yesterday Mr. McCully gets 150 acres, while there is left about 444 acres on the north side of the road of the original piece of property.

DISPOSED OF LAST CASE

Court of Common Pleas Next Week Will Consist of Hearings in Equity Proceedings

The Court of Common Pleas for Anderson county, concluded the hearing of the jury cases yesterday when the case of Maynard versus Cartlett went to the jury. This suit was that of Dr. R. Maynard versus J. P. Cartlett, the plaintiff claiming that he was due the sum of $100, together with certain profits from the defendant. The jury rendered a verdict returning the sum of $100 to the plaintiff but refused to allow him any damages.

Following the conclusion of this case all the jurors for the second week were dismissed and the court took up the hearings of motions for new trials.

Next week the court will devote its time to the hearing of equity proceedings.

NEW ALARM FOR FIRES

Bell Will Be Placed at Sub Station to Ring and Notify Watchmen of Main Station Needed

By arrangements perfected yesterday the Southern Public Utilities Company will place in its sub-station a large electric bell which will ring when a fire alarm is turned in, thus notifying the watchman at the station that a fire is in progress and that more water pressure is needed. This will be much to prevent a repetition of the occurrence of Friday morning when a lack of pressure was blamed with the disastrous fire. It is planned to have a push button at a fire station box, and when the fire alarm is turned in some fireman will push this button, thereby giving notice at the sub-station that direct pressure is required.

The order for the new bell was dispatched yesterday and it is probable that the new arrangement will be in effect within the next few days. Although a new German automatic pistol weighs but little more than two pounds it can fire 100 bullets a minute.
