Mr. Gary and The "City of Success"

W. T. Gary, president of the Anderson Daily Intelligencer, spent Sunday and Monday in Spartanburg with relatives and friends. Mr. Gary learned the business in The Herald office and the boys are always glad to welcome "Slim". He returned to "My Town" Monday afternoon.

Greenville Men Here Last Night

A number of Greenville men, railroad officials and others, were in Anderson last night to attend the annual meeting of the Anderson Chamber of Commerce and to hear the addresses of the railroad men. Among those who were here were: D. A. Henning, traffic manager of the Anderson Chamber of Commerce, Albert S. Johnston, secretary of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, W. R. Tabor, an official of the Southern Railway, W. T. Derieux of the Greenville Daily News, D. B. Traxler, a well known Greenville real estate man, and P. C. Dunn. The gentlemen from Greenville were favorably impressed with Anderson's charming hospitality.

Mr. Booker Here For The Meeting

Among the interesting visitors to the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night was Harold C. Booker, editor of the Greenville Daily Piedmont, Greenville's afternoon paper. Mr. Booker is a splendid newspaper man and one of the best known young newspaper men in the State and he is rapidly making a name for himself. He received a hearty welcome from his Anderson friends.

Cold Weather In Virginia

"Cold enough to freeze the horns off a billy goat" said H. F. Parker yesterday in speaking of weather conditions in Virginia, from which State he returned yesterday. Mr. Parker had been to Durham, N. C., his old home, and had gone from there to Charlottesville, Va., to visit his sister. He said that he had a very pleasant trip throughout except for the cold weather and the snow.

Missionary At Sandy Springs Church

The people of the Sandy Springs sect on a looking forward with much interest to next week, when on Monday night a missionary to China, Rev. Buchanan, will deliver an address. The event is to take place at the Mount Zion Presbyterian church and will begin probably at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Buchanan has seen the Chinese life in all its phases and he will have many things of interest to tell his hearers when he appears Monday night. In all probability there will be many to hear him.

Bank Will Make Improvements

The Bank of Anderson will shortly make a number of improvements in its present quarters. The store room, which is immediately in the rear of the bank, will be added to the bank quarters, the office of B. F. Mauldin being placed in that portion of the building. The quarters now occupied by that gentleman will then be added to the general business part of the bank, thus supplying more room. The quarters of the bank are so crowded at present that this step is positively necessary.

Small Wreck On C. & W. C. Railway

Three freight cars were derailed and traffic tied up for some hours on the C. & W. C. Railway last Monday night when a freight train jumped the track in Abbeville county. No one was injured and the damage, for the most part, was done to the track. All of the trains on this line were thrown several hours behind Monday night as a result of the wreck, but traffic was straightened out yesterday and the trains ran on time.

Mr. King Will Return Today

J. Mack King, supervisor for Anderson county, is expected to return to the city today, having been in Springfield, Ohio, for the last week where he went to purchase mules for the county chain gang. When Mr. King secures the additional mules the county gang will be able to accomplish a great deal more on the road work than they have for the past few months. The new stock is badly needed as most of the mules now in service have been hard worked.

Street Cars To Run To Park

It was stated yesterday that the street car line, now running into North Anderson, will be extended 2,000 feet approximately, to reach the park land donated by Mr. Joseph Brown. It is expected that work will begin on the extension within the next few days and that the line will be in operation by the time the new park is thrown open to the public. This will be a welcome announcement to those people who live in the new suburbs.

Local Men Get Georgia Contract

Sarris & Balfour, Anderson architects, have been awarded the contract for the new school at Albany, Ga., according to statements made yesterday. This building is to be constructed at a total cost of $200,000 and the local firm was over 12 competitors. Several other splendid contracts have also been secured within the last few weeks and the members of this firm say that they are well pleased with the splendid business with which they are being favored.

Anderson Men In Columbia

Several Anderson men have been spending a few days in Columbia, some attending to business with members of the South Carolina General Assembly and others in the capital for private business. Among those who were in "Square Meal Town" yesterday were: T. Allen, B. F. Mauldin and V. F. Martin.

Papers Asking for Rehearing Filed

(By Associated Press.) Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 24.—Attorneys for Leo M. Frank, under death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan, today filed in the supreme court of Georgia a motion for rehearing of arguments of an appeal for a new trial. The appeal, filed after a new trial had been refused by the supreme court, was denied by the supreme court February 17. Two justices presided. In their motion today attorneys for the convicted factory superintendent held that certain grounds submitted in their appeal were not fully considered by the court and presented arguments in support of this contention.

Atrocious Crime in North Carolina

(By Associated Press.) Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 24.—A charcoal body, believed to be that of Clerk Preston Lyery, and the statements of citizens who were attracted to Smith, N. C., by a pistol shot at 8 o'clock, go to indicate that a safe was robbed, murder probably committed and the store fired by the robbers at that place tonight.

The first to arrive on the scene say that two boxes were against the front door of the building, the state door was open and a lamp turned low. The boxes were all over the store. No attempt was made to see if the contents of the safe had been tampered with but in the limited time a hurried search was made for Lyery, who was supposed to have been in the store. He could not be found, but by the light of the embers when the building was in ashes a body was found in what had been the back part of the building. This is supposed to be that of Lyery, as he is practically certain that he was in the store at 8 o'clock.

RAILROAD MEN MADE SPLENDID ADDRESSES

Biggest Meeting Ever Held of Anderson Live Wires Occurred Last Night.

Searching through the records of history, Anderson people will be unable to find an incident that will compare with the splendid gathering of last night in connection with the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the railroad officials in attendance, and never before was so delightful an event staged in this city.

It had been expected that the meeting would be a success, but even the most sanguine expectations had not pictured for the event such a delightful "get together" spirit as was manifested on all sides, and the benefit that will accrue to the people of Anderson and to the city can hardly be estimated.

Another point of significance in connection with this meeting was the fact that interest in the doings of the Anderson Chamber of Commerce, instead of showing any signs of flagging, is increasing day by day, which fact was conclusively demonstrated by the attendance at last night's banquet. Well over 400 of the city's most representative men were present.

It would be hard to estimate the millions of dollars of capital represented by the men who were present and participated in the deliberations of the meeting. Practically the entire wealth of Anderson county was to be found represented from some source, and all told no more representative body of men could have been selected from any part of the county or any section of the state.

The splendid addresses delivered by the railway officials, printed in full in another portion of this morning's paper, were enthusiastically received by the audience and the speakers were vigorously applauded from time to time. While they made no definite promise to Anderson, it was evident from the trend of every speech delivered that the railway officials are friendly to this city, and all things being equal, Anderson will get as fair a share as any other competing town in this immediate section. The railroad people are entertaining a warm feeling for this city.

Of the delightful menu served by the ladies of the Civic association too much cannot be said. It lacked in no detail and it was complete in every respect. Sufficient to say that the gusto with which the repast was attacked showed how it was considered by the people who gathered around the banquet board.

The only official action of any kind taken at last night's meeting was the election of the five retiring directors of the Anderson Chamber of Commerce. These men have shown Anderson people too well during the past year that no more suitable men could be selected for the position, and they could not have prevailed on the body to consider any other possible candidates.

Porter A. Whaley, secretary of the Anderson Chamber of Commerce, told an Intelligencer reporter last night that he could have wished, in no single particular, for a better meeting than was the one held last night, and that he felt more encouraged over the bright prospect for Anderson's future than he ever had at any time since he assumed the important office which he now holds.

WORKING FOR THE BIG CONTEST

Greenville, Feb. 24.—Schools which desire to enter the Piedmont Oratorical contest must have the name of their respective speakers and the subjects in the hands of the authorities by March 3. Those who will enter the athletic meet must announce the names of the entrants by March 27. The names of the athletes must be accompanied by a doctor's certificate, stating that the boys are in good condition physically.

The ten schools which compose the Piedmont Oratorical and Athletic Association are working hard in order to be represented the very best possible in the various events. The oratorical contest will be held Friday, April 3, in the G. F. C. auditorium. The athletic meet will be held Saturday afternoon at League park.

Entertainment will be furnished to those who attend by the Central high school, Furman University, Furman Fitting school and the Y. M. C. A.

Two of the schools have dropped out of the association, but Liberty and Anderson have entered, so the number remains at ten.

KANSAS DEMOCRATS MEET

(By Associated Press.) Topeka, Kans., Feb. 24.—Democrats of Kansas met here today, discussed the welfare of the party in state and nation and adopted a tentative platform containing paragraphs in favor of government ownership of telegraph, radio and telephone lines, initiation of referendum and recall, extension of the parcel post, a minimum wage law for women, a mother's compensation law, child welfare legislation, and extension of mine rescue work.

The platform lauds the administration of President Wilson and the work of the Democratic congressmen from Kansas and contains an invitation for the women of Kansas to join the Democratic party.

PROSECUTIONS MAY BE REVOLUTIONIZED

IMPROPER SEIZURE BY GOVERNMENT.

IMPORTANT CASES

Constitution Guarantees Citizens Against Unreasonable Search.

(By Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 24.—Criminal prosecutions in the United States may be revolutionized by a decision today of the supreme court restricting conditions under which prosecuting officials may seize papers belonging to persons accused of crime. The immediate result of the decision was that Fremont Weeks, an express messenger at Kansas City, Mo., will be given a new trial on a charge of using the mails to further an alleged lottery scheme.

The point that the government improperly seized papers in the dynamiters' cases against Frank M. Ryan and other bridge union officials in a raid in Indianapolis has been raised, and the decision today may affect that case if a new trial is granted. Weeks was arrested at a railroad station by one group of policemen, while another searched his home. After his arrest the United States marshal entered his house without a search warrant and procured more than 600 letters, which were used against him when he was placed on trial.

Justice Day in announcing the court's unanimous decision held that Weeks' constitutional guarantee against unreasonable search had been violated.

Since 1904 the courts of the country have but little restricted prosecuting officials in presenting evidence obtained by search of houses without search warrants. It was in the case of Al Adams, the "policy king" of New York, laid down the principle that a trial court would not stop in the midst of a trial to question a witness as to how he had obtained possession of papers, but would admit the papers into evidence no matter how possession was obtained.

WIRELESS USELESS IN CASE OF FOG

(By Associated Press.) Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 24.—Captain Osmyr Berry of the steamship Nantucket, charged with negligence in connection with the collision with the steamship Monroe, testified today before the local steamboat inspectors that he took every precaution to avoid the collision, and that if Captain E. B. Johnson of the Monroe had done anything else than the one thing he actually did do, the disaster would not have occurred. The collision occurred off the Virginia coast on January 30, and forty-one persons were lost.

Captain Berry is charged with neglect in not reducing speed in a fog and with carelessness and not making any use of the wireless equipment to ascertain the proximity of other ships. Captain Berry admitted that the Nantucket was going full speed through the fog because he could see sufficient distance to avoid other ships. The first knowledge he had of the Monroe was when he heard her whistle "very near dead ahead" and about a mile away. He said he kept the ship on her course until he saw the lights of the Monroe at a distance of about a thousand feet. Captain Johnson in his testimony said he first heard the Nantucket's whistle about 1,000 feet away and saw her lights at a distance of about 300 feet.

When Captain Berry saw the lights he turned his ship hard to starboard. He did not change speed, because when the Monroe blew two blasts on her whistle, Captain Berry said, he took it to mean that, under the rules governing ships in a fog, the Monroe had stopped. Captain Johnson in his testimony said that when he sounded his whistle twice he meant to convey the information that he was directing his course to port. This is a clear weather signal. Captain Johnson in his testimony stated that he was acting under the rules which permitted vessels to depart from the rules to avoid immediate danger.

The Monroe was crossing the Nantucket's course and going very fast when he first got a full view of the Monroe, Captain Berry said. Then he reversed the Nantucket's engine and sent the ship full speed astern, but it was too late.

With regard to the wireless operators, Captain Berry said that their instructions were to be on duty, and he supposed they were. He did not think that wireless telegraphy was of much use to ascertain the proximity of other vessels in a fog for the reason that captains could not give exact positions.

MAN SHOTS WOMAN

(By Associated Press.) Having Quarreled, He Seizes Shotgun and Kills Her. (By Associated Press.) Richmond, Va., Feb. 24.—Mrs. Lucy Mitchell, aged 22, whose husband, J. L. Mitchell, is an employe of the West End furnace, was shot and killed at 6 o'clock tonight by Jacob Bishop, 29 years of age. The shooting occurred at Norwich, eight miles from this city, and the weapon used was a single-barreled shotgun.

According to witnesses of the shooting, the couple had quarreled at the house of a neighbor. Bishop went to his home, next door, secured his gun, returned. It is said the quarrel was renewed, whereupon Bishop stepped away from Mrs. Mitchell a few paces and fired, the bullet taking effect in the woman's back. Bishop later was taken into custody and brought to Danville jail.
