Items of Interest and Personal Mention Caught Over the Wireless on the Streets of Anderson

Mr. King To Sell Mules
J. Mack King, supervisor, said yesterday that he anticipated some lively bidding on the lot of good country mules to be offered for sale by the county tomorrow. These mules are to be disposed of at public auction before the court house door. Some time ago Mr. King imported 22 fresh mules for the county work and therefore such a large number will not hereafter be required for the work on the roads.

Wanted Every House Searched
An old negro woman appeared in Magistrate Broadwell's office yesterday with the statement that she wanted every negro house in Anderson county searched in an effort to find her pig. According to her tale, some miscreant went into her pig pen Friday night and deliberately killed the pig, tore the bottom off a shirt and wiped up the blood and then carried the pig into a gully about 100 yards from the house and cut it up. She could find no further trace of the thief and she told the magistrate that she wanted a search warrant that would let her go into every negro house in the county and see if she could find any trace of her lost meat. When informed by the magistrate that she would have to be explicit in the matter of names she finally furnished a name where she thought the guilty party might be found and she departed on her quest.

Fine Report Made Yesterday
In answer to a call issued by A. S. Farmer, chairman of the committee, the canvassing committee of the Anderson chamber of commerce met in the rooms of the local chamber yesterday at noon and made a report of what they had done. The committee announced that approximately $4,500 had been pledged for the work of the year and that there are yet over 125 business men to see. In view of the fact that only three members of the committee were present, it is believed that additional reports will bring the amount up to that of last year, this being $7,000.

Work Will Soon Begin
Mrs. Rufus Fant, president of the Ladies Civic League of Anderson, yesterday appointed four men as auxiliary to assist four of the members of ladies of the civic league in selecting a proper type of posts for the white way around the Plaza, soon to be begun. This committee of eight will also go into an immediate consideration of ways and means and it is confidently expected that the work will be begun within the next week. The paving of the walks around the plaza will also come up for immediate consideration and all this work will be rushed as much as possible. The improvement in the looks of the plaza following these improvements, will surprise every one in the city.

Mr. Smoak Much Improved
A telegram from Walterboro Saturday brought the pleasing news that W. W. Smoak, business manager of the Anderson Intelligencer, is much improved. Mr. Smoak has been quite ill at Walterboro for the last few days with an attack of pneumonia and much concern was felt by his friends in Anderson. He had gone to Walterboro to wind up some business affairs when he was seized with the attack. The telegram yesterday said that his temperature was normal and that his condition was considered much improved by the attending physicians.

Mr. Rothrock to Deliver Address
J. W. Rothrock, demonstration agent for Anderson county and working in conjunction with the Anderson chamber of commerce and Clemson college will be one of the principal speakers at the annual Spring meeting of the Piedmont Agricultural Club, when it convenes at Piedmont. The exact date for the meeting has not yet been announced but it is understood that it will take place at an early date. Mr. Rothrock said yesterday that he had just received the invitation and would accept it provided nothing interfered. He will probably speak on the subject, "Agriculture at Home and Abroad."

Blue Ridge is Blossoming
The Blue Ridge railroad yesterday began the work of ballasting a portion of its track and it is said that the company intends placing rock ballast on the entire road-bed. The work yesterday was taken up near Broadway river and was moving along at a good pace with the large force of men employed.

Business Deal Of Yesterday
A business deal of interest to the public of Anderson was announced yesterday, this being the purchase of one of the C. A. Reed buildings on Main street by L. S. Horton and W. F. Marshall. They purchased the property from R. C. McKinney who acquired it a short time ago and the consideration was $20,000. The block bought is the one next to the Blue Ridge railway, but Mr. McKinney retains his holding of 17 feet of vacant space between the business buildings and the railroad tracks. Mr. Horton said last night that the property was bought individually and not for the firm.

Five Fires During Month
According to the report of Fire Insurance Commissioner of South Carolina, made public yesterday, there were five fires in Anderson during the month of February, entailed a total loss of $5,188.50. That these losses were not even larger is due in one instance certainly to the work of the fire department.

Night School Is Progressing
F. M. Burnett, who is responsible for the success of the night school, and the textile school as well, said that both these schools have gotten down to work in earnest and are doing splendidly. He says that the combined enrollment reaches 153 students and that there are nine teachers actively engaged in the school work. It is planned now to have only two months more of this session but it is confidently expected that the school can continue for six months next year with a larger enrollment and more teachers.

Busy Day In Anderson
Yesterday was a busy day in Anderson and throughout the streets were crowded with people. Many country people came to town because of the pretty weather, while a larger number were brought by business affairs. The court house presented a busy scene and the office of county treasurer was crowded all day long, this being due to the fact that yesterday was the last day to receive taxes. Executions will not be handed out in those cases where people chose not to pay their taxes. Merchants said last night that the day's business had been remarkably good.

Will Face Serious Charge
A negro, Hamp Miller was yesterday carried back to Abbeville, by Abbeville officers to answer to a charge of arson. It is charged that the negro set fire to a barn on the plantation of an Abbeville farmer. He was arrested in Anderson by Sheriff Joe M. Ashley and turned over to Sheriff Lyon's men yesterday.

North Anderson To Get Buildings
That North Anderson is progressing every day is shown by the fact that two handsome brick buildings are now being erected in that popular section of the city. One of these buildings is the property of Rev. W. W. Leathers, while the North Anderson Development company is building the other. Both will reflect credit upon that portion of the city when completed and will doubtless prove to be good business investments.

Fords Were In Prominence
Archie Todd started the natives in this country yesterday when he marshaled his army of Ford drivers in Grand and set out from that village with 25 of these well known machines, his destination being Anderson. On the way over it was understood that numerous farmers heard the approaching noise and concluded that either Villa or Huerta were in full retreat, coming by the farms. The machines made a splendid show when they arrived in Anderson yesterday, and elicited many admiring words from the throngs gathered to witness the triumphant arrival in the city.

A Man's Size Job To Govern Albania

Berlin, March 14.—Observers of Balkan politics see stormy days ahead for the Prince of Wales, that former major of a German infantry regiment, who has been called to rule the Albanians. But 38 years of age, his life heretofore has not touched upon affairs of state nor broached beyond the daily routine of a army officer and the activities to members of the petty royalty class prerogatives that attach themselves to members of the petty royalty of the lesser European principalities. He was not even head of the House of Weld, but the second brother.

He does not even know whether he is a real "royalty" in his new position. It is true the Albanian delegation that proffered him the throne of that torn and troubled country addressed him as "Prince of Albania." Certainly he will find rude reality and personal danger in his new sovereignty. Capt. von Zubovits, who fought for the freedom of Albania against Montenegro 34 years ago and who knows the country and its people thoroughly, declares that the Prince will face the problem of reconciling and uniting under one banner mortal enemies, Christians and Mohammedans, the Occident and the Orient, and will have to spread civilization and order in a country where an alphabet for the mother tongue was introduced only three or four years ago and where there is still no grammar. The hinterland, after 700 years of Turkish rule is a wild waste.

THE CLOTH MARKET
An Unseen Condition for the Week is Reported

New York, March 14.—An unseen condition in cloth markets exists despite the development of some factors of added strength. Firms in cotton markets have not as yet gone more than steady some prices that were weak and a substantial sale of sheetings for export to China aggregating 7,500 bales, have not been reflected in a more active demand from the domestic trade. There has been some weakening in what crosses the money Fall River total but prices thousands and pieces.
It is still noted that the bleached cotton sheets and pillow tubing remain very steady. Fine and fancy goods are irregular and weak in some places. Colored goods are quiet and as some of the large mills still have good contracts, most of the weakness is shown in some smaller mills where new business is sought at concessions. The jobbers are buying from hand to mouth. The printers are busy and have covered a fair share of their requirements of gray cloths for the next few weeks. Cravatiers are buying lightly as a rule. In markets have been unsteady.

Oakley Acquired.
Montgomery, Ala., March 14.—James G. Oakley, former president of the state convict department, charged with the embezzlement of $2,207 of state funds in one indictment, tonight was declared not guilty.

Patron to Support Government.
Mexico City, March 14.—Bankers who yesterday were told by President Huerta that they would be expected to advance approximately 10,000,000 pesos a month to support the government, have not given their assent to the project, although they have promised to give the executive an early answer. A committee of bankers has been appointed to study the problem. Some appear willing to come to a crisis by fast refusing to acquiesce.
