INTERESTING BUDGET OF NEWS AND NOTES FROM BUSY BELTON

CLAUDE A. GRAVES, Correspondent.

Belton, March 21.—Mrs. R. L. Ches-shire, one of Anderson's best women, was among those who were in Belton yesterday. Mrs. Chesshire was here in the interest of Anderson county veterans. She is getting up data from as many of the old soldiers as possible for future publication.

Mrs. Albert S. Fant and little son, George Albert, who have been on a ten-day visit to relatives in Spartanburg, have returned to their home in Belton.

The many friends of Kenly Clayton will learn with regret that he is ill at his home on O'Neal street with typhoid pneumonia.

A. S. Fant, one of Belton's prominent brokers, attended the banquet given by the T. P. A.'s in Anderson Friday night.

T. K. Roper, manager of the Anderson Intelligencer Job Office, passed through Belton Saturday afternoon en route to Columbia where he goes on business.

Belton, March 21.—On last Friday after the first recess the tenth grade entertained very pleasantly with a dialogue. Both pupils and teachers enjoyed it to the fullest extent.

The following teachers attended the teachers' meeting at Spartanburg: Misses Covington, Wiggins, Scott, Wright, and Prof. Watkins.

The High school girls and boys are very busy now preparing for their orations for the preliminary contest which takes place early in April.

On account of examinations this month, we did not have a program arranged for our literary society.

The trustees have decided to give us next Friday as a Holiday, as Field Day will be celebrated at Anderson on that day. All the pupils of Anderson county are urged to be present.

HAMMOND SWAMP IS SOON TO BE DRAINED

MEETING HELD HERE TO DECIDE QUESTION

PETITION FRAMED

Deal Will Mean $500,000 to Anderson County in Increased Land Values

If all present plans are carried out the Hammond swamp and other swamp and semi-swamp land on Rock river will be drained and this at an early date. This will mean at least $500,000 to Anderson county in increased land values.

A meeting of the property owners of the swamp land on Rocky River was held in the rooms of the Anderson chamber of commerce Saturday at which time they reviewed the former efforts they had made, discussed the feasibility of attempting the drainage at this time and finally decided on definite action. These same land owners have been working for several months on the plan to drain 1,500 acres of the swamp land and to reclaim it for agricultural purposes. At the meeting held yesterday the farmers of that section were generously represented, the majority of them being present. This meeting was the aftermath of a meeting held in Anderson last spring when the matter was first taken up. At that time a government engineer was present and advised them of the best plans to pursue and the best policy to follow. The engineer advised them to at once employ a competent civil engineer to make the survey of the swamp, together with an estimate of the cost of same and the relative pro rata cost per acre.

When this was considered it was found that it would be necessary to secure an amendment to an act of the General Assembly of South Carolina which would allow Anderson county to have the right to form drainage districts and then order to the purpose of draining lands. The reason for this action being necessary lay in the fact that the original land bill did not include the counties of Greenwood, Spartanburg and Anderson and it was therefore necessary to introduce a bill in the last general assembly giving Anderson this same right and since this has been done Anderson can now form drainage districts and vote bonds.

The sum of $450 was raised by the property owners along Rocky River for the purpose of employing a civil engineer to make the survey of the property and Mr. A. Sanders of this city was awarded for the undertaking.

Harrison Ferguson

Named Magistrate at Spartanburg; Former Anderson Man

(Special to Intelligencer)
 Columbia, March 21.—Gov. Blease named Harrison Ferguson to be a magistrate at Spartanburg, vice A. H. Kirby, whom the governor recently removed. Dispatches from Spartanburg indicated that Mr. Kirby, who is said to be over 80 years of age, would give up the office. Harrison Ferguson is well known throughout the state and in Spartanburg county. He once had a store in Anderson.

The governor named Emilio Saint Amant as a member of the board of trustees for the Industrial College at Florence, vice Curtis P. Smith, resigned.

Mr. Sanders spent several months on the work, going over every inch of the ground and when he appeared at the meeting yesterday morning he was able to tell the people interested just what was necessary in every detail.

He said yesterday that he would estimate the cost of draining the land at approximately $17,000 but that he could not vouchsafe for these figures being absolutely correct. He was of the opinion, however, that it would be somewhere in this immediate territory. Those who are in a position to know say that if the step is taken the action will mean at least $500,000 to Anderson county, this being based on the increased land values and at the rate of $50 per acre.

Following the consultation held with Mr. Sanders the body determined to proceed with the work and the following petition was prepared, which will be signed by the property owners and then presented to the Clerk of Court for Anderson county:

To the Hon. Jas. N. Pearson, Clerk of Court of Common Pleas for Anderson County:

Your petitioners respectfully show: Laws of S. C., 1912, and that that they are a majority of real-estate land owners in a proposed drainage district; or are owners of more than half the land in acreage, which will be affected by or assessed for the expense of the proposed improvements: That a certain body of land lying on and adjacent to Rocky River just east of the city of Anderson and outside its corporate limits, the exact area, dimensions, location, shape and boundaries are specifically and accurately shown by a map thereof made by W. A. Sanders, Surveyor, which is filed with this petition and made a part thereof, is subject to overflow and is too wet for cultivation, and the public health, utility, convenience and welfare will be promoted by draining, if necessary, or by the installation of the system; And your petitioners pray that you proceed as is provided by Sec. 2197, Vol. 1 Code S. C. 1912, to summons the landowners, appoint Engineers and a Board of Viewers and otherwise proceed as therein directed, and as is provided by Chapter XXXII, Article 1, Vol. 3, Code of Laws of S. C., 1912, and that your petitioners so to improve said
