

The Anderson Daily Intelligencer

VOL. 1, NO. 66.

Weekly, Established 1860; Daily, Jan. 12, 1914.

ANDERSON, S. C., SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 4, 1914.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

$5.00 PER ANNUM.

FEDERALS LOST NINE THOUSAND

INCLUDING DEAD, WOUNDED AND PRISONERS AT TORREON

THE REBEL DOMAIN

Yesterday's Victory Practically Assures Control of A Territory in the North

(By Associated Press)

Juarez, Mex., April 3.—The hysterical outburst that greeted the news of the fall of Torreon last night in this city was calm today. General Villa added nothing to his brief bulletin of last night except that he promised, if convenient, he would report all the available details fully tonight.

Great interest centers in definite information as to how many prisoners were taken by the rebels. Villa last night said that the Federal losses were 900 dead and wounded and prisoners. The report indicated a rout of the Federal forces, complete as to be almost unbelievable.

Villa's early estimate of his losses was 500 killed and 1,500 wounded. The news came too late last night for a fitting demonstration, although a while the streets were thronged, whistles blew, bells rang, guns fired and every leader of the rebel cause received his share of "vivas."

The rebels believe that Velasco and the remnants of his army will attempt to join the Queretaro garrison, said to number four thousand. General Pablo Gonzalez, the rebel leader, operating in that region, is believed to have a following of 3,000.

My Abandon Tampico.

Washington, April 3.—Following closely on official advice today from George C. Corbiers, American Consul general at Tampico, of the flight of the Federal troops from the city, came a prediction from Rear Admiral Fletcher that the important Gulf port of Tampico probably would be abandoned by the Federalists without a fight.

Administration officials made no comment on the Torreon result, and official statements are not likely to crystallize until some knowledge of the battle itself and the effects in Mexico City and elsewhere.

Mr. Corbiers' report of the fall of Torreon lacked detail, particularly with reference to losses sustained on both sides and the movements of the retreating Federalists. The absence of any news from the Federal reinforcements under Generals Mans and Moore, led to much speculation between staff military officers, and to a suggestion that perhaps General Velasco has planned on retreating from Torreon to affect a junction with the forces to the eastward, and make the town untenable for Villa by threatening his line of communication with the North. The general opinion, however, was that neither army is in condition for anything like another engagement.

THE REBEL DOMAIN

The states subject to rebel arms are Chihuahua, Sonora, Coahuila, Durango and Sinaloa.

Yesterday's victory was said to make the capture of Saltillo and Monclova, and Monterrey, by the army of Nevill Lee, assured.

Thus, by his successful campaign, Villa has practically assured rebel control of the vast territory of the Northern States of Mexico and gained for himself the reputation of being the foremost soldier of the country.

General Pablo Gonzalez, for months, has harassed the Federal forces at Torreon. It is believed that the Torreon army is loosed, strategists here assume that the Federalists will evacuate these points and attempt to retreat to the west, support of the State of Tamaulipas.

Interest here today was divided in speculation as to Villa's future movements and the effect, if any, the triumph would have in Washington.

Official Details Looking

Juarez, Mex., April 3.—General Carranza and Villa failed to hold an expected telegraphic conference tonight, and the public was left to await official details which were permitted to come out in a hazy way.

It has been expected that the victory at Torreon would be corroborated informally, but a storm swept the people of the streets.

There was no news given out as to the result of the meeting. Federalists save a report early today that there had been a rear guard engagement of minor importance.

Mass Proceeding to Torreon

Juarez, Tex., April 3.—General Joaquin Massey, Federal enforcement agent, is en route to the aid of General Carranza. He was at Houston about 20 miles east of Torreon last night, according to a dispatch which made public today by Mexican and Spanish news tonight. The dispatch informed the Consul that Massey

STILL CLAIM VICTORY

Washington, April 3.—The Mexican embassy here today still claimed victory for the Federal forces at Torreon.

SEVERE WEATHER CONDITIONS EXIST

In Many Sections—Frost For Upper Southern States Is Predicted

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 3.—April frosts tonight in Virginia, the interior of North Carolina and the northern parts of Georgia and South Carolina were predicted today by the weather bureau. Severe weather conditions for this season prevail in many sections. Rains and snows persist over the northern districts east of the Mississippi and below zero readings were recorded north of Lake Superior.

Revenue Cutter Seneca to Search

New Foundland Government Asked American Aid in Search For "Southern Cross"

(By Associated Press)

St. Johns, N. F., April 3.—As the hours went by tonight no other casualties from the sealing steamer Southern Cross and her crew of 170 men had been added to the loss of life of Tuesday's blizzard, in which 77 men of the cutter New Foundland lost their lives. The number of the New Foundland's dead was definitely determined late today with the further possibility that several of the 112 men who were rescued would succumb to the effects of the 48 hours exposure. Arrangements were made tonight for the reception of the rescue ship Bellona, expected to arrive tomorrow, bringing most of the dead and many of the survivors.

In an effort to solve the mystery of the disappearance of the Southern Cross, the New Foundland government today asked the American cutter Seneca to search for missing men. The coastal steamer Kyle, which has a wireless equipment, was fitted out here for a cruise along the southeastern coast, off which the Southern Cross was last seen Tuesday morning, a few hours before the 3 days blizzard set in.

Although the vessels of the so-called Wooden Wall sealing fleet, of which the Southern Cross was one, have "bucked" ice fields with impunity and are regarded as letchun ships, sealers say her cargo of 17,000 seal pelts would be an active danger during a storm on account of its instability.

PROBABLY I WAS BURNED TO DEATH

Workmen Clearing Away Debris Found Charred Bones in Ruins of Florida House

(By Associated Press)

St. Augustine, Fla., April 3.—One person is believed to have perished in destroyed fire tourist hotels, the St. death in the fire here yesterday, which John's county court house and other property valued at approximately $750,000.

Workmen engaged in clearing away the debris today found charred bones of a man in the ruins of the Florida House, where the fire originated. It has been supposed that a guest and employee of the hotel, escaped. Efforts are being made tonight to establish the identity of the person believed to have been burned.

Settlement of the Panama Separation Question in Sight

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 3.—Information coming from Bogota today indicated that an agreement virtually has been reached on terms for a final settlement of the long-standing and bitter controversy between the United States and Colombia over the separation of Panama. It is said only minor details remain to be arranged and that the perfected agreement may be reached in about a week.

It would proceed immediately to Torreon, from which city he promised to report today. At a late hour tonight it is stated, nothing further had been heard from him.

General Carranza received information from all parts of the United States and Europe on the fall of Torreon.

CONTROVERSY IS NOW SIMMERING

PENDING CONSIDERATION OF PROPOSED COMPROMISES IN SENATE

LEADERS ARE BUSY

Republicans Will Unite Against The Repeal Policy of The President

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 3.—The Panama Canal tolls exemption controversy has reached the simmering stage in the senate, pending consideration next week of the repeal bill and proposed compromises by the committee on inter-oceanic canals. Leaders on both sides of the fight continued their activities today, however, preparing for the final clinch of the great legislative battle.

Two salient points were emphasized in the developments of the day. One was the concentrated effort being made by republican senators to unite against the President's repeal policy, and the other was the reinforced determination of administration leaders to yield to no compromise on the house bill providing for the repeal of tolls exemption for American ships.

Among the republican senators who have been classified as doubtful with regard to the repeal, there is a general tendency toward a line-up against the President's repeal policy. Democratic senators, who are championing the President's movement, confident that it can have no effect other than to solidify the democrats and aid in assuring success for the administration. These democrats, while admitting that five of their number cannot be induced to abandon their opposition to the bill, insist that there is every indication that all other majority senators eventually will support the measure. They are also assured of support by some of the republican senators, despite the effort to unite against the President.

Senator Bryan yesterday said that all other majority senators eventually will support the measure. They are also assured of support by some of the republican senators, despite the effort to unite against the President.

Each republican senator who will vote against the repeal bill, said today that he was confident the administration had the votes to carry the repeal, and that nothing would change the situation.

A bill authorizing the president to contract with American registered steamships and steamship lines using the Panama canal was introduced today by Representative Edmonds of Pennsylvania. Under it, tolls on the American ships would be remitted for a period of ten years, the amount of tolls to be payable out of the treasury every six months, and the American ships would be required to carry mails of all kinds without any charge to the government.

The contracts would be with first class vessels trading between the Eastern and Western coasts of the United States and Mexico, Central and South America, and subject to all existing or future general United States laws. Proofs would be required that these vessels were not railroad controlled.

THE REAL PROBLEM BEFORE COMMISSION

Is in the Manner in Which the Proposed Rate in Rates Should Be Made

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 3.—Argument on the application of Eastern railroads for the 10 per cent freight rate increase will begin before the Interstate Commerce Commission April 27, and the briefs in the case must be filed one week earlier, April 20. Chairman Harlan announced this late today, on the conclusion of presentation of testimony by the railroads.

The real problem before the commission would proceed immediately to a hearing on the proposed rate, and whether the additional revenue shall be paid in an advance in rates, or at least in a reasonable part, by a charge against shippers for various sorts of services now rendered by the railroads free.

If the commission should decide that the railroads have established the necessity for additional income, Chairman Harlan explained today, the commission would proceed immediately to determine how the additional income should be raised.

Ray J. J. Singleton of Starr was in the city yesterday for a few hours.

MUST EXCLUDE ULSTER

London, April 3.—Lord Roberts tonight was elected president of the League of British Covenanters. Resolutions were adopted pledging British covenanters to do all in their power to prevent the establishment of home rule in Ireland without the consent of the nation and the support of Ulster. Sir Edward Carson, a speaker, said the government either would have to exclude Ulster or make up its mind that it would have bloodshed and coercion.

WILL LIND RETURN BEING ASKED NOW

Official Washington Seems to Think That He Will Not Return

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 3.—Announcement of the prospective departure from Vera Cruz of John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative, revived interest today in the future trend of the Washington government's Mexican policy.

While the president had said that Mr. Lind would return to Vera Cruz after he had obtained a rest, many observers think he will never go back, as there has been a disposition for many weeks on the part of the Washington government to restrict diplomatic activities while the contending military forces struggled for supremacy in Mexico.

In the meantime, that has been concentrated on the Battle of Torreon, the Benton and Veracruz cases have been practically lost sight of, but there is every indication that with the battle over, and when another readjustment of military focus ensues, further information will be sought from both Constitutionalists and Federal chiefs as to the course they intend to pursue in satisfaction of the injuries inflicted by their subordinates.

Administration officials are emphatic in their declaration that Mr. Lind's movements at present mean no change in the Mexican policy. Charge O'Shaughnessy will continue at Mexico City to conduct an active business that may arise, and will continue in his message to congress Wednesday to the action of the United States in connection with the proposed re-assembly of the League conference did not imply, in the view of the officials here, and recognition of Huerta.

BECK WON THIRD IN GREENVILLE CONTEST

ANDERSON BOY DID WELL LAST NIGHT

FIRST TO FURMAN

Furman Fitting School Captured First Place, Seneca Second and Third to Anderson

Messages were received in Anderson last night to the effect that Jerome Beck, representing the Anderson High School, captured third place in the Piedmont Oratorical contest in Greenville. Nine schools from the Piedmont section of the state were entered and local people feel that Mr. Beck did well to even place Anderson where he did. The dispatch from Greenville last night said that Mr. Beck's opinion was that Mr. Beck should have had second place and many even thought that he should have been awarded first honor.

Lehr, of Furman Fitting School was awarded the first prize in the oration, "The Defense of Honor" while Willie Austin of Seneca, who took second place spoke on "The Death of a Hero." Mr. Beck's subject was "The Defense of the Anderson Track team."

Members of the Anderson track team will begin before the Interstate Commerce Commission April 27, and the briefs in the case must be filed one week earlier, April 20. Chairman Harlan announced this late today, on the conclusion of presentation of testimony by the railroads.

The real problem before the commission would proceed immediately to a hearing on the proposed rate, and whether the additional revenue shall be paid in an advance in rates, or at least in a reasonable part, by a charge against shippers for various sorts of services now rendered by the railroads free.

If the commission should decide that the railroads have established the necessity for additional income, Chairman Harlan explained today, the commission would proceed immediately to determine how the additional income should be raised.

Ray J. J. Singleton of Starr was in the city yesterday for a few hours.

REVOLT AGAINST SECRET SESSION

REPUBLICAN SENATORS TO CONTEND FOR PUBLIC DISCUSSION

MATTERS DOMESTIC

Contention Arose Over Closed-Door Sitting to Confirm Nomination of Daniels

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 3.—Nine members of the senate, headed by Senator La Follette openly revolted against proceedings behind closed doors tonight after an executive session in which the senate by a vote of 36 to 27 confirmed the nomination of Winthrop M. Daniels of New Jersey as a member of the interstate commerce commission. Senator La Follette declared on the floor that he proposed to defy the rule of the senate in the future and discuss publicly legislation not affecting foreign relations and later it was announced that Senators Bristol, Cummins, Clapp, Kenyon, Norris, Jones and Grona (republicans) and Poindexter (progressive) would maintain the same attitude.

The revolt created a sensation, and there was much speculation as to the effect it would have on future executive sessions. The general opinion was that there would be no attempt to take action against members who disregarded the rule of secrecy.

Confirmation of Commissioner Daniels by one of the bitterest debates heard at the capital in years. Opponents to the confirmation based their objection on the grounds that Mr. Daniels' views on the valuation of public service property were unsound.

Senator Hughes of New Jersey, called back from a congressional fight in his state spoke at length in support of Mr. Daniels and was joined by Senators Newlands, Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee, Egan and Williams.

The opposition was settled by the patch up in the split of the democratic ranks overnight. They had conceded to the postponement of a vote yesterday when victory was apparently in sight, to allow democratic senators to talk with the president about withdrawing Daniels' name, after the nomination had been recommended. They denounced the determination of democratic leader after a visit to the white house to force a vote on confirmation as little short of bad faith.

The senate voted down a motion to remove the pledge of secrecy as to the session and immediately began the consideration of another nomination behind closed doors.

Held for Murdering Family. Arkadelphia, Ark., April 3.—Elihu Reynolds, a farmer, was taken into custody late today and will be held pending an investigation of the killing of his wife and three children whose skulls were crushed presumably with an axe, and their bodies burned in a fire that destroyed the dwelling on the Francis farm near Arkadelphia early today.

STILL WORKING ON THE ANTI-TRUST BILL

So Far as Salient Features Are Concerned, It Is Practically Complete Now

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 3.—While the Panama tolls exemption controversy has been overshadowing all other legislation for several days, members of the senate committee on interstate commerce have continued to work in preparation for the anti-trust bill which is to be reported in the near future. It embraces provisions for the establishment of an interstate trade commission, a section to prohibit interfering directorships of competing concerns, and one to prohibit certain forms of holding companies and to regulate others.

"There remain to be worked out," said Senator Newlands, "some supplementary features, members of the committee differing as to the urgency of the Sherman Act as it stands."

When the senate bill will be reported is still uncertain.

Retired Contractor Killed. Richmond, Va., April 3.—Henry H. Holbrook, a retired contractor, was run over and instantly killed by an automobile driven by J. H. Morris, who was treated on a technical charge of murder was released tonight on bail.

BRYAN IMPROVING

Washington, April 3.—Secretary Bryan, who was unable to leave his bed, was reported improved tonight.

BENTON INQUIRY IS NOT FINISHED

Carranza Commission's Investigation Postponed for Reason of Dr. Lara's Absence

(By Associated Press)

Juarez, Mex., April 3.—Talking with reporters today General Carranza, the chief of the revolution, said the Benton investigation committee had not finished its inquiry.

"To inquiry was postponed, because it was necessary that Dr. Lara, one of the commission's surgeons, should be at Chihuahua to assist in caring for the wounded," he said.

"Some work is going forward, however, for we are going into every detail of Benton's life," he added.

Georgia Lumber Concerns Unite

Have a Total Capital Amounting Up To Two Million—Three Companies Concerned

(By Associated Press)

Savannah, Ga., April 3.—Announcement of the consolidation of timber companies in Georgia, with a total capital amounting to $2,000,000, was made here tonight. The consolidation will be known as the Seaboard Lumber Co. The latter company is already chartered under New York state laws and application for a charter in Georgia has been made at Springfield. The companies included in the merger are the East Georgia Saw Mill Co., the South Georgia Lumber Co., and the Georgia-Carolina Lumber Co.

Putting On Finishing Touches. Washington, April 3.—Finishing touches are being put on the proposed credit bill, which administration officials in congress hope to have passed at this session. Indications today were that the measure would be ready for introduction into hot houses early next week. Its framers expect it to meet little opposition.

Lind Changes Plans. Vera Cruz, April 3.—John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico, today changed his plans for departure for the United States. He now expects to leave here Monday on the American presidential yacht, Mayflower, for New Orleans.

FARMERS BEAT BLUE STOCKINGS

Fine Game of Baseball at Clemson—Play Exhilarating Again Today

Clemson College, April 3.—Probably the best college game of baseball played in the State this season was won by the Clemson team this afternoon when the cadets triumphed over the Erskine team. The game went 11 innings and was won by the score of 2 to 1.

The entire battalion, with about 100 visitors, saw the hotly contested game and it was the unanimous opinion that the game was as nearly perfect as college baseball ever gets to be.

The pitchers, Simpson for Erskine, and Gaudin for Clemson, was almost evenly matched, the advantage, if any, being with Simpson. Gaudin had more smoke and steam than the Erskine man, but Simpson had better pitching curves.

Gaudin's caught for Erskine and Brown for Clemson, and these two were almost evenly matched. Gaudin did far better work in base throwing during the early part of the game than did Brown but when the Clemson man finally got his arm unlimbered he managed to kill several runners on second base when their safe arrival would probably have meant ruin.

All in all, both Clemson and Erskine have splendid teams and the same yesterday deserves to be described as "the best game seen on the local grounds." The same two teams are to play again this afternoon and if Erskine has another pitcher as good as Simpson, the Due West lads will probably break even with the cadets.

Transferred Flag to Arkansas. Norfolk, Va., April 3.—Rear Admiral Badger, commanding the Atlantic fleet, today transferred his flag from the Wyoming to the Arkansas. The battleships Delaware and Kansas to be transferred to the Atlantic coast.

FRANK WILL NOT DIE ON DATE DUE

DETECTIVE WM. J. BURNS INTIMATES FINDING OF DEFINITE CLUE

FOUND THE GUILTY

Tracks of the Murderer are Plain And There is No Doubt As To His Identity

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, April 3.—William J. Burns, the detective, declared late today that he knew who murdered Mary Phagan, the Atlanta, Ga., girl for whose death Leo M. Frank is under sentence of death. Whether the murderer is Frank or some one else, in his opinion Burns would not say, but he intimated that from his investigations and comparing their results with the conclusions of the coroner's jury he did not think Frank the sort of man capable of making the attack on the girl alleged to have preceded her murder.

Burns, on his arrival today from Kansas City, related the story of his investigation. He said that the man first had been called to it by a young man from Atlanta who was a passenger on a steamer on which Burns was returning from Europe. The young man expressed his regret that Burns had not become interested in the case before the arrest and conviction of Frank. Through him Burns read in the newspaper of the trial and concluded, from the accounts he saw, that Frank was guilty. Later, while in Key West, three citizens of Atlanta, including two personal friends of Frank, saw the detective and asked him to undertake an investigation of the case.

Wanted Indispensable Evidence. At first Burns said, he refused on the grounds that if Frank were guilty his investigation would have no defendant. Frank's friends declared that they believed he had not been given a fair trial, but that it was sufficient of the crime, but that if guilty they wanted indisputable evidence of his guilt.

Burns then took the case. His investigations soon showed him, he said first that public opinion after a "corne" were, had resulted in the public making extraordinary efforts to induce "evidence" tending to convict Frank, and second, that a report making out Frank a man of abnormal characteristics was commonly criticized throughout the city putting everything against him. On the other hand, the testimony of persons was to the effect that the one who attacked Mary Phagan was abnormal. Then Burns interviewed many of the witnesses who testified at a trial.

"There is no mystery about the murder of Mary Phagan," said Burns. "The tracks of the murderer were plain and there is no doubt as to his identity."

"The story was all clear to me in a few days. I have made complete report to Frank's attorneys in Atlanta and it will be given out soon."

"I cannot anticipate my report, and therefore, I cannot say more definitely than I have what the report will contain. The murderer of Mary Phagan is known to me and he can't get away."

"I will say that in my opinion Frank will not hang on April 17, for the murderer of Mary Phagan. I believe the supreme court cannot ignore the evidence we have gathered."

Hearing of an extraordinary motion for a new trial in Frank's case is set for April 16, the day preceding that on which Frank is sentenced to die.

Frank was apprehended in the pencil factory in Atlanta. On April 27, 1913, Mary Phagan, employed in the factory, was found dead in the basement of the plant. Frank was accused of the crime, arrested, and convicted mainly on the testimony of James Conley, a negro employee of the factory.

Atlanta, Ga., April 3.—Counsel for Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the National Pencil Company here, under sentence of death for the murder of Mary Phagan, 14 years old, tonight said they had not received the report of witness J. W. Burns, who has been investigating the case. The detective himself is expected to arrive here tomorrow night.

It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion at present. It is said, in the motion at present, it is said, "It is understood that if the evidence collected by Detective Burns is favorable to the convicted man, an attempt will be made to add it to the motion already prepared. The reference to the investigation of Burns is contained in the motion