ANNA BELLE'S AND BROTHER JACK'S EASTER

Children, look at Anna Belle and her brother Jack in the center picture. They are leaving the little church on Easter morning and will enjoy an egg hunt on the lawn. See how happy they look; they're thinking probably of that rabbit's nest, hidden somewhere in the grass.

Their Easter costumes are shown this time, and as from them, first cut out all the figures and paste on to the little costumes. Then, place the cutouts of each year the same, head back the yellow scraps and the costumes will stay on.

Give you written your letter to Anna Belle yet? If so, well—you don't know what good things you're missing. Write to her now, and address it to ANNA BELLE, this paper.
