TODAY CELEBRATED AS EASTER SUNDAY

SPECIAL SERVICES IN THE ANDERSON CHURCHES

A PEACOCK PARADE

City Will Have First Opportunity This Afternoon to See Spring Fashions

Many a heart is sorely troubled this morning over the weather conditions this afternoon. Today is Easter Sunday and the feminine portion of Anderson's population will greet a rainy day with a sigh. The weather and the weathering of the streets and the weathering of the streets and the weathering of the streets...

In the churches of Anderson today will be heard special Easter music and without exception every congregation will be just a little larger today than it is at any season of the year. With the arrival of spring comes the joyous Easter season and it will be fittingly celebrated in Anderson this year.

ANDERSON TEACHERS HELD LAST MEETING

LARGE NUMBER GATHERED HERE YESTERDAY

DR. KINARD SPOKE

Miss Hite Was Unable to Attend But Splendid Address Was Heard on Shakespeare

The Anderson county school teachers gathered at the First Baptist church in this city yesterday for the last monthly meeting of the association for this scholastic year. The school terms will all come to an end next month and there will be no other opportunity for another meeting. The attendance yesterday was considerably larger than usual, being due to the fact that this was the last meeting. Considerable disappointment was occasioned by the fact that Miss Hite was unable to be present for her address, which was one of the decided features of the program. Miss Hite was detained in Louisville, Ky., by other school engagements and could not be in attendance but those who had yesterday's meeting in charge felt that the teachers present gained fully as much knowledge by reason of the address replacing Miss Hite's piece. Dr. James P. Kinard, the new president of Anderson county, kindly consented to speak to the teachers and those for his subject "Shakespeare." Dr. Kinard made a profound impression upon the audience, many of whom had never heard him speak before. He equaled himself in a splendid manner. The association yesterday passed resolutions thanking the members of the county board for their assistance and the officers of the teachers' association. Resolutions were also unanimously adopted thanking those who made the Anderson county field day possible. Dr. Kinard's address was a most interesting and helpful one. He pointed out the need of a better system of training for the teachers and the need of a better system of training for the teachers and the need of a better system of training for the teachers...

PREPARING FOR COLUMBIA MEET

Anderson Boys To Take Part In The Exercises of Brains and Brain

Anderson boys are now making their preparations for attending the annual athletic and oratorical contests of the high schools of South Carolina, which is to take place at the University in Columbia on April 24. The affair is the principal event of the year with the high schools of the state. Henry C. Davis will have charge of arrangements at the University for the students. He managed the meet last year and did it without a hitch. On Friday morning the preliminary or track meet will be held off in the afternoon the finals will be held on Saturday. In charge of the meet are referees and Coach Blackburn of the University will assist him. The Anderson county boys' team will enter the boys' beginning Saturday for supper. The Sylvan team will enter on Monday. The association is growing in interest and numbers. There will be over 30 schools represented this year. There were 23 last year. All communications about the meet should be addressed to R. C. Burks, Greenville, president of the association.

HORSE KILLED BY BLUE RIDGE TRAIN

Driver Narrowly Escaped Being Killed While Wagon Was Entirely Demolished

Passengers arriving in Anderson yesterday morning over the Blue Ridge railway told of a mishap occurring at Walthalla yesterday morning which came near resulting fatally for James S. Rutledge. As the Blue Ridge Passenger Train was backing out of town at 7 o'clock Saturday morning it struck the team driven by Mr. Rutledge at a street crossing the "horse" of Mr. Rutledge was dragged about 60 yards and was instantly killed. The wagon was demolished. Mr. Rutledge was thrown violently from the wagon and severely injured. That he escaped at all is almost a miracle. He was attended at once by Dr. B. F. Sloan. He has a number of bruised ribs, one or more ribs broken. The extent of injuries cannot yet be determined.
