STATE BUILDING FUND HELPS MANY SCHOOLS

FOUR SCORE COMMUNITIES ARE AIDED

FOR NEW SCHOOLS

Letter Received By Anderson Educator From State Superintendent of Education.

According to a letter just received by J. B. Felton, county superintendent of education, from J. E. Swearingin, State superintendent, about $30,000 will be available this year for the purpose of aiding communities to erect new school buildings.

The following is Mr. Swearingin's letter in full: "During 1913, no State aid for school building," says Mr. Swearingin, "was available. During 1912 the building fund was exhausted early in the summer, leaving a heavy deficit in this appropriation."

"Every county board of education was urged to protect the building application for 1912 by contributing the usual amount from the county building fund and a further amount from its discretionary county board fund."

"The carrying out of the policy was made possible by the second distribution of the state dispensary money in September, 1913, and by the setting aside for special purposes of one-half of the one mill state tax last year."

"I hope, therefore, that all buildings erected without State aid during 1912 and 1913 have been fully paid for. If any districts are embarrassed by unpaid bills arising from new school buildings during 1912 or 1913 the status of every such district will be fully considered upon the presentation of the facts."

"The 1914 appropriation must be used for the completion of building already under way, or for the erection of new schoolhouses before December 31 of this year. Building already finished or building to be constructed during 1913 cannot participate in the fund. The appropriation is for current needs. Contingent improvements cannot be considered, because they are frequently never made. Future improvements to be added after January 1, 1914, must be left to future appropriations."

"School buildings erected at public expense must be located on land owned to the trustee by the school district trustees. Blue prints of all proposed houses must be submitted to the county board of education for approval before extra aid can be legally granted."

"Prof. R. E. Lee of Clemson college has rendered valuable assistance to the schools by cooperating with the department in preparing a bulletin of school plans, and by distributing blue prints free of cost. Any plan recommended by him will be approved by this office."

"Application blanks for building aid are enclosed herewith. The blanks require the payment of these claims in the order of their receipt. Any board of trustees planning a new building during 1914, or desiring to complete the schoolhouse this year should confer with you and send in both their plans and their application at once."

"If any school or district is in need of extra aid, the local board should make application for a part of the $50,000 recently appropriated by the general assembly for needy schools. This fund is especially designed to protect the weak, short term schools in the rural districts. With it I hope you will be able to run every white school for a season of at least six months, or better still, seven months."

"I take it for granted that every county superintendent and each county board of education will have appended their county board fund derived from the state dispensary balance, as well as their county board fund derived from one-half of the 1913 one mill state school tax to any application is made for further State aid. Since these two county funds may be used in the discretion of county school officers, we cannot complain if for more money until the amount in hand has been fully utilized. At the same time the use of these two county funds during 1913-1914 should indicate and should regulate in no small measure the use of the State contingent fund frequently made available."

GLEE CLUB GAVE GOOD EXHIBITION

Clemson Boys Acquitted Thursday Lives in Fine Style at the College Last Night

The Clemson College Glee Club appeared in Anderson for the first time this evening when they were seen and heard in the Anderson college Auditorium. The Clemson delegation received a hearty welcome upon its arrival in Anderson yesterday, being met at the station by Prof. Eastburn and associates.

The attraction last night was for a benefit of the Clemson business department. The Anderson college glee club gave a most excellent performance for the benefit of the business department of the Clemson college.

The Clemson boys continued to give their usual good work and their rendition of the program last night showed that they had been carefully coached and drilled.

CHAUTAQUA MAN IS COMING TO ANDERSON

LADIES WILL PROBABLY SELL THE TICKETS

SITH IS SELECTED

Tent Arrives Next Week and Will Be Pitched on Ligon Lot On Main Street

Determined that the first chautauqua week Anderson has ever experienced should not be a failure, the Redpath Chautauqua Association is sending several advertising experts to this city to work up interest in the approaching attraction which is to begin here on April 28 and continue until May 4.

Raymond Harrington arrived in Anderson yesterday and spent the entire day in closing advertising contracts, arranging for the bill posting, securing the location for the tent and conferring with the members of the Ladies Civic Association concerning the selling of the tickets. Mr. Harrington will leave Anderson this morning but he will be followed in a week by another advertising man who will take up the work where he has left off.

This man will bring with him 15 gay banners, measuring 30 feet in length and these will be strung around the court house square, over the plaza and in the various places where they will be displayed to the best advantage.

Mr. Harrington yesterday closed a contract for the huge tent to be pitched on the Ligon lot on Main street. This is the best location possible for the attraction and no better site could have been secured. It is easily accessible from all parts of the city. The tent will arrive during the middle of next week, four college students will be in charge of the work of erecting it and getting ready for the first day of Anderson's week of entertainment.

The advertising man here yesterday placed numbers of programs in every store in the city and the public can secure these free of charge by calling at the stores or at the chautauqua office.

Mr. Harrington took up with the ladies of the Civic Association the question of their selling the tickets and it is understood that his proposition met with favor. The officers of the association did not readily agree to undertake the work but it is understood that they will probably accept and a meeting of that body has been called for next Friday afternoon at which time a decision will be reached. It is planned to make a house to house canvass in the effort to dispose of as many season tickets as possible, although a single ticket for one night's performance will also be sold.

This chautauqua week means a great deal to Anderson. It means that Anderson people will see quite a good bunch of money if the public falls to patronize the attraction and worse than that it means that 25 more such high class entertainments will be secured here if Anderson folks do not help make this a financial success.

MANY COMMENTS ON THREE SUNS

Anderson People Could Not Understand Sight Witnessed Saturday Morning

Anderson people could not understand the sight they saw Saturday morning when three suns were visible in the sky. One sun was on either side of the moon and the moon was of this seemed to be a half-crescent. None of those witnessing the sight could remember ever having seen anything of the kind before.

The circles were unusually large, millions of miles in circumference. Scientifically the halo is caused from a refraction of light coming through the moisture which is such a great part of the atmosphere. The rays of light are bending from one medium to another and from greater density are refracted or bent more than producing the beautiful phenomenon. The arc of the circle depends upon the distance of the sun from the earth, the higher the arc of air through which the sun's rays pass, the larger the circle. The halo Saturday was five times larger than the largest ones seen around the moon.

Col. Bert McCully says that he and a few other parties know what it is. One of the theories on the place told him all about it. That was what the older people know as a "dog sun." And it is a question of falling weather and numerous other explanations. Col. McCully denies the report that he is a specialist for the head of the weather bureau on the strength of meteorological information of the phenomena.

DATE OF BIRTH CHANGED

Editor Intelligencer: I am very sorry indeed, but will have to ask you to change the contents of your paper to announce that the day under the date "April 23" has been given as April 17, at the board meeting held on Wednesday night, Friday night, in changing the day for us.

Yours truly, ERIC SMITH, Anderson, April 13, 1914.

Miss Jullian of Clemson college was shopping in the city yesterday.

ELKS ARE EXPECTING A LARGE ATTENDANCE

All Portions Of the State Will Be Represented At Laying Of Cornerstone

Conventions

Members of the Anderson Elks lodge said yesterday that almost every town in the State boasting of an Elks lodge would send representatives here on April 16, which is next Thursday, for the exercises to be held by the local lodge in connection with the laying of the cornerstone of the new Home now being erected by the Anderson lodge.

Splendid progress has been made by the workmen on the job and the building is rapidly taking shape. The work has already proceeded far enough to make it evident that the new place is to be one of the nicest buildings of its kind in the State. It is planned to have it ready for occupancy by June 1 in order that the Elks may be installed in the new quarters before the coming of the State Association, which is June 17-18.

Members of the local lodge are jubilant over being able to secure such a splendid speaker for next Thursday, Rev. Kirkman G. Finlay, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church of Columbia. Mr. Finlay is one of the best known ministers in the State and a man of recognized ability. He lived at Clemson College several years. He is chaplain of Columbia lodge, 1190, and of the State convention, and a speaker of ability.

Several Columbia Elks are expected to be here Thursday, while Spartanburg, Gaffney and Greenville will also send delegations. All told there will be a gathering of all the most prominent Elks in South Carolina.

The cornerstone for the building was donated to the Anderson lodge by C. W. Frickehofer, past master of the firm which is erecting the building. Frickehofer will be among those present for the exercises Thursday.

The public in general has been cordially invited to be present and witness the event.

MUCH INTEREST IN MUSIC RECITAL

Affair of Thursday Evening Is To Be Quite An Attraction Here

Those Anderson people who love music, and they are many, will well pleased over the announcement that the ladies have arranged for a musical recital for the evening of Thursday, April 16, at the Anderson college.

The ladies of the Civic Association feel deeply grateful to the two musicians giving the entertainment because of the fact that these gentlemen are realizing a wish by a musical way from the evening, thereby giving the performance for the benefit of the association.

Anderson people will welcome the opportunity to hear their home boy, Mr. Von Hassen and Miss Edith Grubb, because of the fact that both are accomplished musicians. Mr. Von Hassen playing the violin while Mr. Grubb will perform on the cello. Their music at the first chautauqua Sunday night was greatly enjoyed by Anderson people.

Mr. Von Hassen has said his way around the world, taking part in concert tours that have given him a world wide fame. He is a well known soloist for a while.

Miss Edith Grubb is a well known soloist for a while.
