The music for the occasion was furnished by Sutton's orchestra, and from the first dance to the final strains of Home, Sweet Home, it was a perfect success.

A buffet supper was served.

Among the attractive visiting girls who were here for the dance were Miss Floride Carey of Pickens the guest of Miss Vina Patrick; Miss Vern Hattwanger of Greenwood with Mrs. D. A. Ledbetter, Miss Sara Witherspoon of Greenville with Miss Caroline Vance, Miss Nela Sloan, of Clemson with Miss Jessie Browne, Miss Rita Patrick, of Charleston with Mrs. J. P. Brown-McCalla.

The friends of John McCalla will be interested in the following clipping from the Gaffney Ledger.

The wedding of Miss Parnice Brown and John W. McCalla took place in the Buford street Methodist church on Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. Rev. G. C. Leonard, pastor of the bride, performed the ceremony and Miss Louise Potter played Lohengrin's wedding march as the bridal party approached the altar and during the ceremony she softly rendered "To a Wild Rose."

The bride entered with her father, Dr. B. R. Brown, who gave her away. She was unusually attractive in a coat suit of Mauve moire silk with hat and gloves to match. She carreid a shower boquet of lillies of the valley, and bride's roses, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Mack McCalla and was attended by Miss Gladys Jackson as maid of honor, who was exquisitely gowne in blue crepe meteor with yoke of Chantilly lace and a wide embroidered satin girdle. She wore a picture hat of white and blue, harmonizing perfectly with her costume. Her flowers were an armful of pink carnations. The ushers were Dr. W. K. Gunter, Mr. Louis Wood, Mr. Henry Moore and Mr. Charlie Smith.

The church was a lovely bower of palms, ferns and spring flowers, hydrangeas, primroses and carnations joined in the pretty pageant combined to make the beautiful setting for the ceremony.

Mrs. McCalla is the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Brown, and is a charming member of a prominent family with a wide family connection and her marriage was of much interest. She has, by her sweet nature, won for herself many friends whose wishes for her continued happiness go with her.

Mr. McCalla has a bright future and is a very popular young man of Abbeville county where his bride will be welcomed by a host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. McCalla left on Nor 35 of the Southern Railway after the ceremony for Baltimore and New York where they will spend their honeymoon.

The following clipping from the Western Courier will be read with much interest by Miss Eleanor Key's friends in this city. Miss Keys is a known here. Mrs. R. S. Thompson and known here. Mr. I. S. Thompson and Miss Linda Thompson attended the wedding.

There are many friends here and elsewhere who will feel a deep interest in the marriage, which occurred Tuesday afternoon at 5:3 o'clock at the home of Col. R. A. Thompson near town, when his grand-daughter, Miss Eleanor Keys, and Marvin Phinney of West Union were united in the bonds of holy wedlock. The event has been looked forward to with deep interest for some time by the host of friends of the young couple who are among the most popular of the young people of the community. The marriage was a very quiet affair, only the [illegible] room and their most intimate friends being present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Gen. M. Wilcox of the Presbyterian church. The home was tastefully decorated in honor of the occasion. The bride is the only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Keys and is a charming and accomplished young lady who has drawn to her a wide circle of friends near and far by reason of her uniformly lovable disposition and fine traits. Mr. Phinney is a young business man of West Union, enjoying the confidence and esteem of all who know him. He is the eldest son of James Phinney of West Union, one of the most successful business men of the section and has for several years been associated with his father in business undertakings. Mr. and Mrs. James Phinney will tender the young couple a reception today at their handsome new home in West Union. We congratulate our young friend upon his good fortune in winning the heart and hand of Miss Keys as his bride and the Courier joins with a host of other friends in wishing for them every joy and happiness in their journey through life. Mr. and Mrs. Phinney will make their home in West Union.

VILLA AND CARRANZA

Will Hold Conference Right Away—Villa's Army in Rags.

The long awaited interview between General Villa and General Carranza, is expected to take place at Chihuahua in the near future, as it is said General Villa, considering that the San Pedro victory closed the Torreon campaign, will now have leisure to turn his north-bound thoughts regarding the campaign against Saltillo and Monterey.

Villa's men need more clothing and shoes and a new supply of ammunition, orders for which are being submitted every day.

MARINE ETIQUETTE

Is But Fortunatery.

Washington, April 18.—Secretary Daniels said he had consulted the general naval board, who unanimously agreed that in all cases where salutes have been given they must be returned by the receiving vessel, even though in the possession of the unrecognized Huerta government, were saluted when they passed American warships.

He referred, too, to the recent visit to New Orleans of a Mexican gunboat which was not saluted by the shore batteries. The navy department inquired of the navy at that time about the precedents, and the army ordered no return the salutes.

The difficulties which arose over Secretary Tequesta's quarantine order created a situation of much gravity and unrest. Many high officials considered that Huerta had violated the neutrality proclamation by trying to force the quarantine, and that the dignity would not be lowered.

CONFIDENCE

Department store success is founded on confidence. There are two phases of it—the absolute confidence of the merchant in the value offered and the confidence of the public in the merchant. The crowded aisles of the Bee Hive mean CONFIDENCE. Sales of high quality standard merchandise at lowest prices consistent with good service means but one thing that follows confidence—
