CHILDREN at the REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA

Redpath Chautauquas will again this year emphasize work among the children of each community during Chautauqua week. During six days of the week a playground worker will meet with the children at the Chautauqua tent. She will conduct a story hour for the youngest children, and for the older ones will carry out a program of athletic and physical culture. The instructors for this work have all received their training in leading schools in Chicago. The playground work is under the supervision of Dr. W. A. Collins, director of the Department of Education of the Redpath Chautauquas. Throughout the entire country much is being made of the story hour and playground work. Many public libraries in the large cities have a regular story hour each Saturday.

Bulletin Board

(Received at Anderson 4:12 p. m. Monday) Washington, April 27--4:10 p. m.—Diplomats here have little hope that negotiations for mediation between the United States and Mexico will have a successful conclusion. They say that the mediators have an almost impossible task before them. The government, however, are hopeful. It was announced that arrangements have been made for taking all Americans from Mexico City. General reports were that the United States government were in conference until late Monday afternoon. It was said that no plans of procedure had been decided upon.

NOTE—It had been stated in Saturday night's dispatches that an effort had been made by Brazil to get the United States and Mexico together on peace terms. President Wilson expressed his entire willingness, and Monday's dispatches state that Huerta also will accept the offers of the South American mediators. But confidence is very weak.

THE GALA WEEK IS TO OPEN HERE TODAY

Those who have had chance of the ticket sale will be glad that the attendance would certainly be far larger than any ever had here and it is anticipated that there will be several hundred visitors from out of town to spend at least one day in the city each day during the Chautauqua. Arrangements have been made for the Chautauqua, including the opening of the Park and the fact that all these things will attract large delegations from all over the country. The city will charter a special train for the day here. They will come to Anderson on Thursday night for the purpose of the day here. Anderson has never before had a Chautauqua and therefore many are anxious to go out here to see what a treat it is. Here are those who are the first attraction for the city of the Redpath Chautauqua is presenting it.

To secure the attraction at all and it would be a matter of surprise to no one should the huge chautauqua tent be filled to its capacity for tonight.

The committee of the Civic Association and Chamber of Commerce, having issued the following announcement: "A complete check of the sale of tickets for the Chautauqua tonight shows that 94 tickets must be sold in order to complete the guarantee given. This is a small number and we hope the three persons who have not yet purchased, will do so before the tent is closed for the night."

Season tickets at the hands of this committee ceases. We must have them sold by then or make up the balance in cash. Every possible effort has been made, and it is pleasant to know that we are so near the goal. We appeal to the public spirited, progressive people of Anderson to see that with aid little further to travel, that they will make the rest of the journey easy. We want to sell these tickets as early as possible, Tuesday. It is absolutely your last chance to get a season ticket. This morning tickets will go to $2.50. Better get them early Tuesday. And remember the tickets are real, remember the bargain. Help yourself and get a ticket."

C. W. Keller of Starr was among the visitors in the city last night.

C. W. York of Columbia is spending a few days in the city.

S. F. Prince of Starr was among the visitors in the city last night.

P. H. Spillers of Starr was in Anderson yesterday on business.

Found a Cure for Rheumatism. I suffered with rheumatism for two years and could not get my right hand to my mouth for that time. writes Lee S. Chapman, Muscaton, Iowa. "I suffered terrible pain so I could not sleep or be still at night. Five years ago I began using Chamberlain's Linctum and it has cured me. I was well and I have not suffered with rheumatism since." ANDERSON DEALERS TO CLOSE EARLIER

MANY AGREE TO THE PLAN FOR SUMMER

PRESENT PETITION

Close at 6:30 O'clock For One Month and At 8 O'clock For Three Months

Following a request made some time ago by several of the clerks, The Intelligencer suggested that the Chamber of Commerce turn its attention to getting the stores of the city closed at an earlier hour during the summer months. Mr. Whaley yesterday advised the petition was accepted and this young man succeeded in getting many signatures to the petition presented, thereby making it possible for the clerks to have a few hours of recreation during the summer. Do not say unkind critical and bitter thing about me for if you do, I'll answer! When ever you see a head hit it—associate if it has any thing in it. And very rightly the question comes in: If marriage is a lottery—why don't they arrest the minister.

Mr. Johnson of Anderson, was here recently and took as his intention of enrolling as a pupil of the Harrah High School.

Last Saturday was dog day with a number of farmers near old Fellowship the facts as to their dog, that Mr. Williams (living with Mr. Finley Bruce) was aroused from his sleep, one night recently, and found a dog in his house that had entered through a window, that had been left open. We are told that Mr. Williams tried to shoot the dog out, but the dog counter-attacked and bit Mr. Williams. The dog belonged to Mr. Albert Hains, and he went to a magistrate to get a warrant for the dog. The magistrate issued all day for two farmers to attend the trial, and the juryman, after hearing all the evidence decided that Mr. Williams was justified in killing the dog.

Idle gossip causes more heart-ache, misery, was jealousy and unrest than any one cause in life. A remark made in a public way may be passed along by some serious minded soul, and soon the pack is in full cry and a fair name is torn to tatters.

The Rev. W. P. Fairbrough, when said that talking about other folks you have got more that ought to be in the penitentiary.

Some years ago Mr. Hubbard wrote little book on the subject of the early members. Suppose you get a copy for that tongue mouther and say, "Please when you get the book, please give me a stamp to the editor just read it yourself."

A CARD OF THANKS. We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for the many tokens of kind words and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our dear wife, Mrs. D. Geisberg, who departed this life on Monday, April 20, 1914, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Whitner, at Philadelphia, Pa. Her death was a great loss to our family and we are deeply indebted to all those who have shown us their sympathy and kind words during our bereavement. D. Geisberg, Anderson, S. C.
