

We Would Like To Show You

THE SUPERIORITY OF OUR WORK

There is none better to be had at anything like the price. Quality considered. Our plant is the best equipped in this section of the state, and every workman in our employ, is a master of his art. We use only the best materials to be had, and with the modern equipment of our plant, we are in a position to give you better grade of work on short notice than you can possibly get elsewhere. We will appreciate it immensely if you will let us figure on the next order you contemplate placing for PRINTING, BINDING, RULING, LOOSE-LEAF LEDGER WORK, or any kind of Commercial Printing. Good printing, like everything else good, is the cheapest in the long run—and when it comes to work of quality, we can talk to you intelligently.

"WE'RE NOT STUCK UP"

—Just proud of the kind of work we are doing. And of the fact that we are daily adding new, satisfied patrons, to the hundreds of boosters for "Good Printing" already on our lists. Let us do your work.

GREAT PARADES AT THE REUNION

Maid and Sponsors To Open Series On Morning Of The First Day

Bone of Veterans and Military Organizations Second Day, While the Veterans Parade Last Day.

Jacksonville, Fla.—With the near approach of May 6, interest in the 24th annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans' Association and Sons of Confederate Veterans, centers around the three parades, one each day of the reunion. It has been definitely decided that the first parade will be that of the maid and sponsors, and it will be given on the afternoon of May 4.

This parade will be confined to automobiles and carriages and all sponsors and maids of honor will be admitted to it. The Jacksonville Reunion Association has decided that, if possible, the parade of maids and sponsors will be the finest spectacle of the kind ever seen in the southern states. The route will be several miles long and passes through the principal residences and business sections of the city.

The parade of the second day, May 5, will be of the Sons of Confederate Veterans and local military organizations. It is the present plan for the Sons to march on foot and the parade will take in the business sections of the city.

On the morning of May 6, the last day of the reunion, the annual parade of the Confederate Veterans will be held. Jacksonville takes under a big advantage in staging this parade that no other reunion city has ever experienced.

There are very few available streets in Jacksonville, and as a result, it has been decided to make the parade a combination between horse, automobile and foot marching. The local association believes this will be possible for the commanders and their staff officers to be provided with mounts, but as a matter to be a difficult matter to secure a sufficient number. Nevertheless, a united effort is being made to secure all the necessary mounts in Jacksonville and nearby towns in Florida and South Georgia.

Arrangements for the reunion are being worked out rapidly by special committees. Gen. S. C. Stinson is chairman of the committee that will have charge of the Sons of Veterans' parade. He is being assisted by the local commander of Sons of Veterans, of which Judge John L. Dodge is commander. Gen. Stinson is chairman of the committee on entertainment of maids and sponsors, and has been working on plans for some time with a view to securing a fine entertainment and sponsors entertainment features and promises to give the visiting ladies a most enjoyable time.

FROM AN OLD COUNTRY LADY

Second childhood comes with the sweet, happy rest after years of toil and responsibility, and I find it with a heart full of joy. All the cares of fifty years have made me so tired, that now I want rest. And do you know I feel that my friends and loved ones realize the great strain I have endured, realize that both brain and body have been taxed to its utmost, and now I need rest, not only for myself, but for the sake of my loved ones.

No, I haven't lost my usefulness. They do not think that. I know they are not. I feel that I can do more for them than I can do for myself. I feel that I can do more for them than I can do for myself. I feel that I can do more for them than I can do for myself.

And tonight when I sit by my window and wait for the day to close, I try to imagine again that I am in the little house down on Broadway. All yesterday I made myself believe that I was down on the creek bank fishing. I fished under the trees, I caught my first fish, then I went up to the house there, was a little full of suchness, so I went out to the porch and sat for supper, and they were sure good.

Another always loved the best corn bread in the world and that night she did not eat a bit. I had my own share of the fish because he had to finish it all up, and he would help him finish it all up, and he would help him finish it all up, and he would help him finish it all up.

But this is all wrong; God would have us happy as in the days long ago. He would have our lives full of sunshine. We need the light now. In my younger days I did not mind the darkness, many times have I fallen and received bruises, but they soon healed, and I was up and about again, but now I may feel that all the time, and I feel this blessing in my life. Have I not bowed in prayer many times during these long years, and now I feel sure that God will be good to me and my second childhood will be as happy as the one fifty years ago.

HE GOT IT GOOD.
