SPORTS

TRAVERS NOT IN FORM

Did Not Play as Good Game in the Preliminaries.

Sandwich, England, May 15.—Form displayed by the American entrants in the first round of competition for the St. George cup here today was hardly up to the standard that had been expected.

Jerome D. Travers returned a score of 77, which tied him with the others for eighth place. He is now regarded by the observers here as the only one among the Americans who stands a chance of winning the coveted trophy. In practice the other day he covered the same course in 68 and it is said that if he repeats that performance tomorrow he will still come out ahead.

In the ransome, the English player, who heads the list with 72, was favored with extraordinary luck.

Francis Ouimet, the open champion of the United States in whose play a great interest is centered, turned a card of 79.

Harold H. Hilton, the British amateur champion, gave a brilliant display of golf in the first half, reaching the turn in 33, but he took ten more than that coming back, making a total of 75 for the round.

H. D. Gillies of London, the holder of the trophy, covered the course in 77, tying Travers.

HARD ON THE BOYS

Coach Stagg Will Not Let Athletes Break Training.

Chicago, May 15.—Amos Alonzo Stagg, athletic director of the University of Chicago, does not approve of athletes who dress in filmsy draperies and dance as "fairies" in campus dramatic productions. Consequently, Pete Russell, quarterback of the last year's football team and Stellan Windrow, it is announced, will not compete in the dual track meet between Chicago and the University of Illinois tomorrow at Champaign.

Dressed as women Russell and Windrow took part in a classic dance in the annual play given by the Black Friars' club last week.

"Aside from the necessity of conforming to the rules of discipline," said Stagg today, "I have a theory of wearing dresses or living in an atmosphere which is essentially effeminate does not put iron in the blood and is not conducive to good athletics."

Russell is a hurler and Windrow puts the shot.

TRAVERS LOST OUT

And Ouimet Is a Disappointment To His Friends.

Sandwich, England, May 15.—American golfers today were outclassed by Scotch and English players over the Sandwich links, in the final round of the St. George championship grand challenge cup. With an aggregate of 148 strokes, nine better than his nearest American competitor, Jerome D. Travers, the American amateur champion, John D. Graham, Jr., of Scotland won for the second time won the coveted trophy. He also lowered by two strokes the play for the cup.

PLAYERS SOLD

Chicago, May 15.—Poloasos announced by B. B. Johnson, president of the American league of professional baseball, includes:

By Washington — Schwartle to Portsmouth; C. R. Barton, optional, to Newport News.

By Chicago — Graves to Balti-

AMERICAN

At Boston 3; St. Louis 9.
At Philadelphia 6; Cleveland 3.
At New York 2; Detroit 4.
At Washington 6; Chicago 3.

FEDERAL

At Buffalo 0; Chicago 7.
At Brooklyn 12; St. Louis 6.
At Pittsburgh 0; Kansas City 1.
At Baltimore 2; Indianapolis 1.

NATIONAL

At St. Louis 2; Philadelphia 3.
At Pittsburgh 3; New York 5.
At Cincinnati 2; Boston 4.
At Chicago 5; Brooklyn 12.

SOUTH ATLANTIC

At Charleston 6; Macon 1.
At Augusta 6; Albany 3.
At Savannah 6; Columbus 3.
At Columbia 2; Jacksonville 6.

North Carolina League

At Winston-Salem 1; Charlotte 3.
At Asheville 3; Raleigh 6.
At Durham 2; Greensboro 1.

VIRGINIA LEAGUE

At Portsmouth 5; Petersburg 4. (first game, ten innings.)
At Portsmouth 5; Petersburg2. (second game, six innings, darkness.)
At Newport News 3; Roanoke 2.
At Richmond 5; Norfolk 10.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

At Atlanta 4; Nashville 3.
At Birmingham 6; Chattanooga 6; (12 innings darkness.)
At New Orleans 7; Memphis 5.
At Atlanta 4; Montgomery 13.

WOMAN'S CHAMPION

Hunstanton, England, May 15.—Miss Gladys Ravencroft, women's champion of the United States, and Miss Cecelie Leitch, won their matches here today in the semi-final round of the British women's golf championship.

Miss Ravencroft's opponent was Miss Marie Dodd, holder of the British and Canadian woman's championships, while Miss Leitch met Miss Legrant Suttie. Each of the winners defeated her opponent by one up.

BUYS BOSTON CLUB

Boston, Mass., May 15.—J. J. Cannin of New York and Boston, president of the Boston club of the American league, today became its sole owner. The announcement was made by B. B. Johnson, president of the league.

Terms of the sale were not given out.

THROWN INTO JAIL

Newspaper Photographer Imprisoned Under Suspicion by Mexicans.

Vera Cruz, May 15.—A. J. Sutton, a Washington newspaper photographer, has been released by the federals after three days imprisonment at Cordoba during which time he was subjected to a severe cross examination to make him confess he was a spy. He is on the way here on a refugee train.

The release of Sutton, who was first taken into custody with other newspaper men in Mexico City on May 9, was effected by agents of the British consulate here who induced Sutton to promise that he would leave the country immediately.

Forty American and eighty Mexican refugees who reached here from the capital today reported that conditions there virtually were unchanged.

ARTILLERYMEN BUSY

Six Thousand of them Are Getting Ready to Go To Mexico.

New York, May 15.—Orders recently issued by the war department for 6,000 artillerymen stationed along the Atlantic coast to hold themselves in readiness for departure for the South have resulted in unusual activity at the army building here and at Governors Island. Arrangements are now so nearly complete that the men could be moved on short notice.

It is the intention of the government it is said here, to add two brigades to the troops intended for possible service in Mexico. Should they be ordered South the coast artillerymen will form provisional regiments of infantry.

WILL STAY FOR FIGHTING

Texas Girl Refuses to Leave Mexican City Where Battle Is Impending.

Jaurez, Mex., May 15.—Miss Ida Chaves of Waco, Texas a teacher in the mission school, will be in the city of Saltillo when the constitutionalists' attack is begun, according to word received here Friday. Miss Chaves is a director of the Madero institute, a school for girls at Saltillo, and has refused to leave, although warned by the American consul.

She fears that if she abandons the institute it will be used by the federals as a barracks and probably be destroyed in the fighting.

Petersburg, Va., May 15.—The Virginia Retail Jewlers Association, in convention here today, have unqualified endorsement to the Heckerson bill making deceptive advertising a misdemeanor, and the Stephens house bill prohibiting the coating of prices on galeted articles of jewelry.

"A Word To the Wise Is Sufficient"

By MOSS.

"OPPORTUNITY knocks once at every man's door."

Opportunity knocks many times at the door of readers of this paper who conscientiously follows the advertisements contained therein.

"A penny saved is a penny earned."

There are a lot of pennies lying around loose in this paper waiting to be saved. Aren't you going to save them?

"Honesty is the best policy."

Our advertisers base their success on this proverb; both in advertising and in other lines of their business activities. It pays.

"A stitch in time saves nine."

You can save many stitches of expense by reading carefully on what our advertisers have to say in this paper.

SCENE FROM "ASHES OF THE PAST."

STARS of the SILVER SHEET

ALICE JOYCE.

BLANCHE SWEET and George Kirkwood play the leads in a new two reel release, "Ashes of the Past." The action of the play is quick and filled with human interest. It is one of Miss Sweet's best parts.

"Winky Willy's First Cigar" is a new comedy release. Winky is on a visit to his aunt, who insists upon his taking a "spring tonic." To get rid of the bad taste he tries a cigar, which proves too much for him. As sick as he is when questioned he maintains that the "tonic" was responsible for his illness. But the odor of the cigar still lingers to convict him, and Winky Willy gets his.

"A Celebrated Case" (in four parts) is adapted from the famous old play. The awful struggle between English and French at the battle of Fontenoy and the sentencing of Jean to the galleys for life are some of the incidents which stir you.

"Handsome Harry Minds the Shop" is a film farce just exhibited. He chaffs his friend Daly, a jeweler, about the ease with which jewelers might be robbed. He suggests that jewelers were not the sharpest people in the world and it was not very difficult to take them in. Daly asks him to take his place in the shop for a week, which he consents to do. The first day Daly, disguised as a customer, succeeds in robbing Handsome Harry of a diamond pendant, and the latter is made to look very foolish.

"The Brass Bowl" is a drama adapted from the popular novel by Louis Joseph Vance, in two parts. The resemblance of a society man to a notorious crook forms the basis of this dramatic, thrilling romance. The crook is after the other's jewels, and a young girl is [illegible] important paper. All three are involved in a tangle, which reaches a sensational climax in the death of the crook.

Alice Joyce, a famous movie star, played the part of a cabaret dancer in one of her recent pictures and made a big hit. Miss Joyce once studied to be a classic dancer, but gave it up for a career in the movies.

A burglar and lover find themselves in the same house under questionable circumstances in "A Sentimental Burglar." One helps the other and they become fast friends. Fate removes the only barrier to the true love and happiness of the lover and his sweetheart. The lover helps the burglar redeem and establish himself as an honorable and desirable citizen. The burglar nurses the lover back to health and indirectly restores him to his sweetheart, making their reunion possible and their happiness complete.

PROGRESS BEING MADE BY CRIMINAL COURT

WHEELS OF THE LAW ARE NOW TURNING FAST

TWO MURDER CASES

Four Cases Were Completed Yesterday and Another In Progress Before Adjournment

The best record yet made at this term of Court of General Sessions for Anderson county was established yesterday. Solicitor K. P. Smith kept his end of the affair's moving and the court's business yesterday was transacted in record-breaking time.

At the time of the adjournment Thursday evening the court was occupied in hearing the case of Oscar Lewis, charged with selling liquor. This case was completed early yesterday morning, together with Henry Harris. Harris was charged with being an accessory before the fact. All three named are negroes and much interest was excited among the negroes of the county over the hearing. Following the completion of the testimony Solicitor Smith asked for a directed verdict of not guilty in the case of Harris, since it was not shown that he was connected with the case, and Washington's case went to the jury. They returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter.

The next case taken up was that of Dock Brown, charged with murder. This case did not occupy the attention of the court for any considerable length of time and the jury returned a verdict finding the defendant guilty of murder with a recommendation to the mercy of the court. This means that Brown will be sentenced to life time in the penitentiary.

At the time of adjournment the court charged in the trial of Irving Brown, charged with murder, and this case will be completed this morning.

Solicitor Smith said last night that the court was making splendid progress with the many cases on the docket and that he hoped to clear almost the entire docket before the three weeks of court are over.

Eugene Tribble, Secretary.

Will you please announce for the benefit of the democratic voters in Ward 1, that Mr. J. L. Sherard has resigned from the office of secretary of the democratic club of Ward 1 on account of the fact that he has entered the race for senator from this county and that I have appointed Mr. Eugene Tribble, as secretary of the club, and that Mr. Tribble has kindly consented to act. The members of the club and those desiring to join the club will please take notice and act accordingly.

Jno. K. Hood,
Pres. of Ward 1 Club.

DR. W. E. WOODS
SPECIALIST
DISEASES of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat — Glasses Fitted
Hours:
9 a. m. to 1 p. m. — 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.
Offices: 208-10 Peoples Building
Residence by Appointment
TELEPHONE CONNECTION
ANDERSON, S. C.

A NEW WRINKLE BY LAFOLLETTE

Published In Congressional Record Remarks to Extent of $13,760—In Cost Not Value

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, May 15.—Democratic economists of the house, including Representative Bernhardt, of Indiana, chairman of the house printing committee, were stirred today over the appearance of a special edition of the congressional record containing information Senator La Follette of Wisconsin desired published on the question of railroad rates.

The special edition contained 368 pages and was devoted to communications on the railroad freight rate question inserted as "remarks" by the Wisconsin senator.

Mr. Bernhardt told the house that the publication meant a total cost to the tax payers of the country of $13,760.

"If each of the 531 senators and members of congress were to pad the congressional record like that," said Mr. Bernhardt, it would cost the country $7,307,011 and to this safely could be added several more thousand dollars as the cost of the wrapping and franking necessary to get this publication to the reading public—in all a colossal expense."

Girls want but little here below,
Which all can plainly see;
A dress with just a scrap or so
Of goods below the knee.
—Youngstown Telegram.

Girls want but little higher up,
But maybe that's their way,
At least their Easter waists are cut,
Dreadfully collete.
—Warren Chronicle.

Girls want but little round about,
Maybe a sunny arm,
They dress for this without a doubt
Well, [illegible] harm
—Pepperpust.

Girls want but little here below,
It's so with all you meet,
But what they all want lowest down
Is pretty little feet.
—Washington Observer.

Girls want but little here below,
Of course, it isn't wrong,
For them to take a little kiss
And like that little long.
—Tarentum, Pa., Telegram.

Girls want but little here below,
And that is what they get,
At least the boys they go out with Light up a cigarette.
—Houston Post.

Girls want but little here below,
(Maybe it's but a short.)
But when they've married, goodness knows
A million ain't enough.
—Florida Times-Union.

Woman wants but little here below,
And she wants that little will;
That when she longer would sit she can
Walk a little [illegible]
—Spartanburg Herald.

Girls want but little here below—
It seems to be their desire,
To have the dresses up, oh well,
The cost of living is higher.

A. H. F. Sarykes.

Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church.

Sabbath School at 10:15 a. m. The Supt. Mr. C. T. McConnell, the pastor and your teacher will be pleased to see you there, with that new pupil.

Preaching by pastor at 11:30 a. m. and 8:15 p. m.

Christians love God's house, because they love God's Son.

Come and worship with us.

THOS. WATSON AGAIN INDICTED

For Second Time Within a Year, Editor Faces Charge of Sending Obscene Matter In Mail

(By Associated Press)

Augusta, May 15.—Thomas E. Watson, former representative in congress and once a candidate for president of the United States on the ticket of the Peoples party, was indicted by the United States district court here today, charged with sending obscene matter through the mails.

The indictment was returned in connection with the publication in Mr. Watson's papers at Thomson, Ga., of attacks on the Roman Catholic church. It is charged that the matter in question was "obscene, lewd and lasitious."

Counsel for the defendant appeared before Federal Judge Sheppard immediately after the indictment was returned and asked that an early date be set for the trial, saying that Mr. Watson was ready to go to trial at once.

Today's indictment is the second that has been returned against the editor for publication of the articles. The previous indictment was held to be invalid by Federal Judge Sheppard on the ground that it was improperly drawn.

CONGRESS MAY FINISH

May Rush the Anti-Trust Legislation And "djourn.

Washington, May 15. Formal steps to start the anti-trust legislation through congress will be taken by the house rules committee when it will meet to formulate a special rule for the expeditious passage of the three bills which make up the anti-trust "program." The rule's adoption is assured and it seemed probable tonight that general debate of the anti trust bills would begin next week.

House leaders today were interested in a report that in case the senate does it impossible to put through all the trust legislation the house will pass and get away from Washington about July 15, and effort will be made to effect a compromise, put through part of this legislation and go home.

TELEGRAPH TICKS

Senator Kern threatens to have night sessions of the senate in order to complete anti trust legislation.

Mexican peace representatives reached Jacksonville Friday afternoon but had nothing to say, and stated that they had made no statements.

The Panama tolls exemption matter is yet being debated in the senate.

Representative Henry of Texas has introduced a bill along same lines as that of Senator E. D. Smith to stop gambling on stock exchanges.

President Wilson will today sign bills making our legations in Argentine and Chile full salaried embassies.

Senator McLean appeals for an arbitration of the canal tolls matter.

Ty Cobb got hurt yesterday in sliding to second. No serious [illegible]

Market, Va., was celebrated yesterday. [illegible] fought in that battle and 430 of them were present yesterday.

A military aviator in Russia fell and was killed yesterday.

Taube, a Swedish aviator, flew 267 miles without stopping in 6 hours and 30 minutes.

Mount Vesuvius is again active and a high column of [illegible] flame were shooting out Friday night.

War on Tyranny.

Erie, Pa., May 15.—The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor today passed a resolution instructing members to federation not to patronize Federal league baseball parks. It was the resolution charging the Federal league team is owned by a company that manufactures a non union product.

A Surreptitious Gift

By F. A. MITCHEL

"Martin," said my father to me one day, "I have been speaking with your mother about you, and we have decided that it would be pleasant for us all if you would go to Stuttgart and make the acquaintance of your cousins. When I came to America I left a sister, of whom I was and am today very fond. I cannot leave the business to make the trip myself, but later, when you have taken my place in its management, I hope to do so. It is better that you should go now before you have become absorbed in other matters."

I was delighted with the prospect of a trip abroad. My father not only gave me a liberal sum for the trip, but a separate amount which he intended that I should turn over to the family I was going to visit. "They are very sensitive," he said, "and I rely on your tact to turn this money over to them without hurting their feelings. I don't know exactly how they are situated, but I fear they are not overburdened with this world's goods."

I found my aunt and my cousins exactly what my father had described them. Never was there a more amusing and, to me, touching instance of a family striving to put the best foot forward. Having been coached as to this by my father, on my arrival at Stuttgart I put up at a hotel and announced my arrival by mail rather than go at once to their home, thus giving them time to make any preparations they might wish to hide their real circumstances. I heard nothing from them for twenty-four hours, when my uncle called on me and apologized for the delay in welcoming me, saying also that on no condition would the family permit me to remain at a hotel, but that their guest chamber needed attention, and they had been overhauling it.

I thanked my uncle for the proffered hospitality, but declined on the ground that I was troubled with insomnia and must be in a house in which I could go about at all hours of the night. However, I accompanied him to his home, a house of diminutive size, but very neat, and my aunt welcomed me affectionately. My cousin Anna, a girl of eighteen, I found so comely and with such a kissable pair of lips that I took advantage of my cousinship and tasted them at once.

All expressed much disappointment that I would be prevented by my insomnia from making their house my home during my sojourn at Stuttgart, but I was quite sure that they were much relieved. They invited me to dine with them, and, fearing they would be mortified at having to sit at a meagre table, I declared that I was a victim of dyspepsia and would only accept their invitation if they would promise not to tempt me with any except the plainest food. And, remembering that sausage was a delicacy and inexpensive food in Germany, I said that sausage was about all I ate. It did not occur to me that no worse food could be used by a dyspeptic than my aunt expressed surprise.

I spent a couple of weeks with my relatives, they trying to hide their poverty and I trying to hide the fact that I noticed it, or, rather, pretending that I could not see what they were unable to give me. And all this time I was studying how I could turn over to them what my father had sent them without their knowing whence it came, for I feared their pride would be hurt if I offered it in the form of money, yet I knew that was the only form in which it would meet their requirements.

The only method of giving them pleasure without racking my ingenuity was to ask my cousin Anna to show me the objections of Stuttgart, paying the expenses, of course, myself. Going about in that way with a pretty girl brought about a love affair. Indeed, though my father had not mentioned the matter to me, when I saw Anna I suspected his real motive in sending me abroad was to make a match between her and me. At any rate, long before the end of my visit I proposed to her and was accepted.

The time of my departure drew near, and I had found no plan by which to leave my father's gift without hurting the beneficiaries. The amount was the equivalent of $4000 in American money and could not be surreptitiously transferred in any ordinary manner. There was an old clock in the house which I thought I might pay that amount for, but when I expressed a desire to possess it my aunt begged me to accept it.

All ordinary plans I tried having failed, I was forced to a special expedient.

Anna consented to return to America with me, and I went for a tour through Europe. I said goodbye then went to my hotel, made myself up as an old man, and returned to leave the money. As the house followed him out he entered a trolley car, took a seat behind him and slipped a roll of bills into his side pocket.

When I returned from my tour I found that my uncle had a very comfortable outfit, but no one of the family hinted whence came the where[illegible] morning I have no trouble in making gifts to the family. I give the money to her, and she passes it over to them.

My father in time transferred the management of the business to me and went abroad to see his sister and her family. When he returned he brought them with him.

IS WHITEWASH DECLARES MANN

With Reference to the Dorremus Case For Soliciting Contributions for His Campaign

Washington, May 15.—Political campaign contributions became a subject of debate in the house today when Representative Barker, of Missouri, chairman of the house elections committee presented a report embodying resolutions declaring that it was not a violation of the penal code for senators or representatives to solicit contributions from colleagues as was declared by Representative Mann, of Illinois.

Representative Doremus, of Michigan, chairman, issued a circular September 15 last, assessing each senator and representative $100 for campaign purposes. The committee's report held that Representative Mann misinterpretated the law. Representative Mann characterized the report as a whitewash of the democrats. The resolutions went over until tomorrow.

Dun's Review.

New York May 15.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

"Further strengthening of confidence is manifest as a result of the betterment in some branches of business. Improvement is still slow in developing and progress is not uniform yet, rather more cheerful reports are received from the leading centers.

"Conditions as a whole are not entirely satisfactory, but most advices indicate that the trend is in the right direction. Perhaps the best feature is the more hopeful feeling in iron and steel, and the signs of reviving actively apparent both in finished lines and in pig iron. There also is a better sentiment in the dry goods trade.

"Failures this week are 336 against 290 last year. In Canada 40 against 45.

PRAY FOR PEACE

Methodist Church of the Northern States Make Appeal.

Washington, May 15.—Prayers for the success of mediation in composing the Mexican situation were requested in all Methodist Episcopal churches on Sunday, May 17 in a communication addressed to all the churches today by Earl Cranston, senior bishop of the church.

In his statement, Bishop Cranston called upon district superintendents and pastors of the church "to pray in public congregations Sunday and to exhort all the people to continue to pray in private for the divine blessing upon the efforts of the mediators."

SHUBERT'S CHIEF AIDE FALLS 7 FLOORS! DEAD

New York, May 15.—Howard Jacott, aged 34, was known as the right hand man of Lee Schubert, the theatrical magnate. In the seventh story of the most palatial hotel ever erected, the St. James Hotel cary today and was instantly killed.

Stop Torture

Lice stop hens laying and chicken the growth of young birds. You can easily get rid of all lice, mites and vermin with

Pratts Powdered Lice Killer

Spread on roosts and dusted in nests and save money. Also the best insecticide for dogs, cats, plants and flowers. Refuse substitutes; insist on Pratts. Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back. Get Pratts Big Poultry Book.

News Is Stranger Than Fiction

By MOSS.

SUPPOSE ADvertising of all kinds the world over were wiped out for a month—utterly obliterated.

Yes, it would ruin business, but it would do more—it would make this old world positively STUPID.

Why?

Because ADVERTISING IS NEWS, and we must keep pace with the news or grow stale.

Newspaper advertising—THE BEST ON EARTH—is prepared news, paid for with a price.

The latest news in newspaper advertising, a special sale before, a big reduction in suits, a saving in groceries, furniture at unusual sale prices or five bars of soap for the price of three—all this latest news is as important to every housewife and the husband who pays the bills as the last word from Mexico or the latest of the municipal or society scandal.

Advertising is POSITIVELY and ABSOLUTELY news.

Successful advertisers make their ads as NEWSY as possible, and read one in the issue as NEWS. Keep up with them. TRUE IS NEWER than fiction. So is news.