and would have taken on more bolls than it did if it had been properly side-dressed. You will not see the fong skips between bolls in side-dressed cotton that you see in other cotton, and you will see more boils to the stalk.

Every stalk of cotton grown in South Carolina last year would have "shed" less if it had been properly side-dressed. The reason epiton sheds is that it is deficient in plant food. The only way to supply this plant food is to side dress your cotton. You can't pump it into it. A young, tender, growing child should be fed frequently to make it grow rapidly and develop and come into its own, and it is the same way with young, tender growing plants, they should be fed (side-dressed) frequently. You don't expect to feed your mule enough in April to last until October and the plant food you supply your crop with in April will not last until October either. When the plant exhausts your cotton sheds. Your crop is "cut."

You can only make one cotton crop a year, that is your money You want to make all the cotton you can. You want to make all the money you can. For every dollar you pay out for fertilizer for side dressing you get back from three to five dollars. This man Rodgers in Florence county who fertilized every time he cultivated his crop, made $80 pounds of lint cotton to the acre, lint cottonnot seed cotton-lint cotton.

By side dressing early your cotton grows off early and maturity early and opens early, for when cotton gets its growth and maturity and ripens it is going to open. Your early cotton weighs better than late cotton. It takes about 120 bolls of cotton picked in September and October to make a pound. It takes from 200 to 400 bolls that are picked in the fast half of November and later to make a pound. When the boll weevll strikes a country the early cotton is all the farmer gets. The boll weevil gets the balance, You don't know when the Boll Weevil will strike you, or I don't.

Experienced ginners say that 1,500 pounds of side dressed cotton will make as heavy a bale as 1,500 pounds that has not been side dressed. The lint is better developed and there is more of Suppose sidedressing makes two extra bolls to the stalk. The ri cind properly applied will add more than that and make ev boll heavier. It will add three and four to the stalk. You will h at least 12,000 stalks to the acre, taking two extra bolls to the st
