SOLDIERS ENCAMP

August 12, 1914, inclusive.

In reply I yill state that the reafons which you assign for refusing to allow the National Guard to participate in these instructions are not well tounded, because of the fact that should the National Guard be called out for duty in case of war being declared with Mexico, they could be transported to the mobilization grounds in this state within five hours from the time orders were issued. In fact, they could be mobilized much more quickly from this camp of instruction than if they were at their home stations. In view of this fact and the tendency to stiffe the interest of the National Guard, especially the enlisted strength, should they not be allowed to parficipate in these instructions. I trust that you will reconsider tions. I trust that you will reconsider your decision and advise me at once of this change, in order that detail of arrangements can be arranged be-tween thir department and the depart-ment of the east for this camp of inriruction, as it requires a considera-ble amount of correspondence, to-gether with proper estimates and requisitions, which must be made in advance of such encampment."

Farmers in the Eastern Section of the State Have Elegant Stands and the Weed Is Strong and Healthy

Mr. J. H. Land that brought less up four to six inches and many squares have been noticed in the fields. The people down there have needed rain just as it has been needed here, but for some reason the crops have not been held back. Saturday night and Sunday the entire eastern part of the state, with the exception of most of Chesterfield county, was visited by good rains. A cotton man, who had travelled all over the Pee Dea section stated to Mr. Godfrey that more than 75 per cent of the cotton in the ground had come up, and he considers this as an unusually good crop, under the conditions that have existed.

Mr. Godfrey states that the tobacco crop outlook is very gloomy indeed. in the recent years the tobacco crop has been the paying crop in that sec-tion of the state. In March of this year when the tobacco planters bedded their plants the cold and ice came along and practically ruined the sup-ply of plants. And those plants that survived the cold weather perished in the dreath that followed. In Marion
