EUREKA NEWS The day school at this place closed Friday after a very successful term of seven months, taught by Miss Valeria Crowther. The exhibition at night was fine. The music between the acts rendered by Miss Winton Crowther was highly appreciated by the audience. The children carried out their parts well and showed fine training on the part of their teacher. The exercises consisted of songs, recitations and dialogues interspersed with instrumental music on the piano. The audience, and especially the patrons, went home well pleased with the evening's entertainment. Misses Genevieve and Tommie Shirley and brother of Honea Path spent the week end at Mr. J. W. Shirley's. Miss Winton Crowther of Antreville was up for the school entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Anderson visited the home place of the former's grandfather in Greenville county. Growing Children

They Should Be Protected Against Internal Uncleanliness as Well as External Uncleanliness. The delicate organs of the maturing child are more susceptible to the influence of disease and infection than are the more seasoned organs of the grown-up. Malaria take an early and strong hold on the child's liver and cause headaches, coated tongue, indigestion, cramps and many other dangerous conditions. These are the signal posts of warning nature provides that your child may be relieved of impending sickness. The proven remedy, CARSWELL'S LIVER AID which is purely a liquid VEGETABLE compound should be in your medicine chest ready to administer at the first sign of a disordered liver. Fifty cents purchases a large bottle at Frierson's Pharmacy, under the absolute guarantee that price will be returned without quibble if you want it.

ELECTRIC CITY SPARKLETS

Items of Interest and Personal Mention Caught Over the Wireless on the Streets of Anderson

Despises Polley of Cat-Tail Swinging. The latest candidate to announce in Anderson county for commissioner is R. A. Mullikin who is offering for commissioner to represent Hopewell, Garvin, Honea Path and Williamston. Mr. Mullikin says that he will make a good race and will poll a good vote and that he will do it on his own merits. He has no use for the cat-tail swinging methods and will not be doing that when the campaign opens. Judge Prince is On Supreme Bench. Judge George E. Prince is spending a few days in Columbia where he was called for the purpose of sitting on the supreme court bench. Judge Prince adjourned court in Anderson on Wednesday, after having presided for almost an entire month here. The next term of court for this county will be the court of common pleas, which is to convene on June 15. Greenville Man Here Yesterday. O. P. Richardson of Greenville, a well known man connected with the firm of Jennings & Bryant, spent yesterday in Anderson on business for his company. Mr. Richardson says that the outlook for the cotton crop is not nearly as bad as some people seem to be intimating and that in some sections the farmers are well pleased, as they have a right to be. Making Progress On New Buildings. Splendid progress is being made on the three new store rooms now being erected on Main street, to be known as the Watson-Vandiver building. Only a few weeks ago the Imperial hotel stood on this site and within a very short length of time the old building has been torn away and the new one has secured a good start. It is said that the owners of the building have contracted for considerable floor space on the new building and by the time it is finished the entire building will probably be rented. Candidate Will Speak Here Today. It is expected that a number of Anderson county voters will be on hand this afternoon to hear John B. Adger Mullally, candidate for governor, speak in the Anderson court house. Mullally has spoken in a number of counties and comes today to his home county. He says that he is a supporter of "that distinguished gentleman, Coleman Livingstone Blaise," and seems to have no doubts about being elected to the governor's chair. Purple and White Seen Everywhere. Anderson will be ablaze with color on June 17-18 when the State Convention of Elks comes here, according to a statement made by the committee to charge of the decorations yesterday. The chairman of the committee said that a majority of the business houses of the city had consented to decorate their places for the event and on every street will be seen the purple and white banners of the order. The same firm in charge of the decorations in Anderson for the Confederate reunion will return and will have charge of the Elks' decorations and this is sufficient assurance that the city will present a beautiful appearance when the first delegates arrive on the morning of the 17th. Estimates are steadily climbing as to the number coming here from all parts of the state for the two days. Mill League is Starting Today. Much interest is being manifested all around the circuit over the games to be played in the mill league today. There will be a game at Beuna Vista park in Anderson this afternoon and another game is scheduled at the Belton park. The fans of both places should turn out and give the mill boys all the encouragement possible. It is said that every team in the league boasts of some splendid players and it is believed that some fast ball will be seen before the season closes. The attendance at the Anderson game this afternoon is sure to be large. Is Glad To Get Back Home. J. E. Cannon, who left Anderson last spring, to make his home in Columbia, has returned to the city and has announced that he will continue to make his home. Mr. Cannon says that the "Square Meal Town" may be a day in Anderson than a month in all right but that he would rather live Columbia.
