DEATH CAUSED BY EXPLOSION

STOREROOM DEMOLISHED BY BURSTING GAS TANK CAUSING DEATH

M. E. TYUS, VICTIM

Clarence Pearson Also Seriously Cut By Flying Glass and Debris---Narrowly Escaped

W. E. Tyus, proprietor of the drink stand, pool room and restaurant, located at No. 1903 South Main street in the Orr cotton mill village, met his sudden death yesterday morning at 11:45 o'clock, when the gas tank connected to his soda fountain exploded. The tank was an old style one, having been in use approximately 15 years, with a tested pressure strength of 380 pounds when new, but after such long period of service, the gas corroded and had eaten its way until a mere hull only remained. But to all appearances it was as strong as ever. It is estimated by the amount used from the tube that was used in charging the tank, that about 180 pounds was in the tank at the time of explosion. Of course his is only a supposition, as there was no gauge used, as should have been in transferring the gas from one tank to another.

From the extent of the damage done by the explosion, it would appear that dynamite had been used. The entire front of the building was blown out, the wall back of the fountain, looking as though gone with an ax, the fountain completely demolished, and the victim of the explosion, severely crushed. The death was instantaneous was the opinion of physicians who were on the scene in a few minutes. They stated that either of the injuries to the head would have caused death. A close examination showed that the skull was completely crushed above the left eye, the face bone broken to the base of the skull and the brain torn entirely loose. The right knee cap was completely torn away in such a manner, had it been the only injury, Mr. Tyus would have been a cripple for many a day.

It seems that Mr. Tyus was rocking the tank, to and fro which was the way that it had to be charged, and the full force of the explosion was on the striking base of the fountain before wreckage, and the position Mr. Tyus was lying. Had he been directly over the tank he would have been literally blown to pieces. But being struck only glancingly, his body was hurled into the corner several feet from the fountain, and not the street, as was at first stated on account of the large quantity of blood seen on the pavement. In the course of an hour the coroner arrived on the scene, but decided that it was unnecessary to empanel a jury, the cause of death being evident.

Mr. Tyus has been a resident of Anderson for about 10 years, having come to this city from Augusta, Ga.

Only a short while back he acquired the ownership of the pool room located in the Brown building on North Main street. Mr. Tyus was married about 18 months ago to Miss Ethel Evans a resident of this city, he was also a member of the Ruff lodge of Masons. The interment will take place this afternoon at four o'clock at Silver Brook cemetery, with Masonic honors.

Clarence Pearson was resting very well last night. He was not injured other than that the leaders in his right wrist were cut and several minor hurts were sustained.

It was stated that Mrs. Tyus was shocked into unconsciousness by the news of her husband's tragic death and remained in a serious condition for the greater part of the afternoon. Friends were doing all possible to help bear the brunt of her great sorrow, and later in the day, it was said that Mrs. Tyus was partially recovered from the effects of the cruel blow.

FOUR BIG REELS EVERY DAY 10c.
THE MAN THAT PUT THE "MOVE" IN MOVIES.

and short crops. One of the blooms was brought in by H. P. Eaton of Route 6. Mr. Eaton stated that his cotton was planted on March 18, and had blooms on the 14th. Mr. Eaton says that he does not have to have rain to make cotton. The second plantation, five miles from the city, the cotton being planted and worked by Bennie Moss. These blooms are as early as in any preceding year, and from the reported rains now coming in all sections of the country, there is every reason to presume that the largest cotton crop ever raised in Anderson county will be gathered this fall.
