

BASEBALL MUDDLED AMONG THE MAJORS

The National Game is in Shape Calling for Strong Mediatorial Measures.

(By Associated Press.) New York, June 19.—Although representatives of organized baseball were here in numbers today, presumably to consider ways and means of offsetting Federal league opposition, there was little evidence that the situation was seriously considered.

Various rumors were in circulation as to the probable action to be taken. That something radical was likely to result from the convocation of the magnates was a general belief.

That out of war, peace might be evolved was one persistent report. The peace plan contemplates, it was said, involvement in one move the demands of the American Association and International leagues, which wish to be raised to the major league status by the abolition of the draft, and composing the president of the federals by taking them into the ranks of organized baseball.

There is strong dissatisfaction among International League magnates with existing conditions. Manager Dunn of Baltimore, said he would not wait later than Sunday to decide whether he would accept offers to sell half a dozen players, for whom President Gomsisky of Chicago would pay $50,000, or the transfer of the Baltimore franchise to Richmond, Va., for a similar sum Dunn to retain 51 per cent. of the club's shares.

Every one has some secret sorrow, says a philosophizing friend. Even the fattest and jolliest of us has a skeleton in his midst.

DROP BURNS NAME OFF HONORARY LIST

Association of Police Chiefs Criticize William J., and Then Drop Him.

(By Associated Press.) Grand Rapids, Mich., June 19.—William J. Burns, the detective, today was dropped from honorary membership in the International Association of Chiefs of Police in session here.

No official reason was given for dropping Burns, but it was stated by members of the association that a majority of the delegates informally decided to eliminate him and to do so the honorary membership list was revised and his name omitted.

Several times during the convention police chiefs criticized statements which Burns was alleged to have made concerning police methods.

His action in the Leo M. Frank murder case which he investigated in Georgia also brought forth rather caustic comment from some of the delegates.

It also was ordered that all police chiefs, detectives and other officers who are not members of the association and who use its official insignia, on their stationery without permission should be legally prosecuted.

The convention resolved that cities which found segregation the best method of controlling the social evil were justified in retaining that policy. Papers were read on both sides of the issue, some declaring against rigid law enforcement and others advocating that every law should be enforced by the police, including those against the liquor traffic and the social evil.

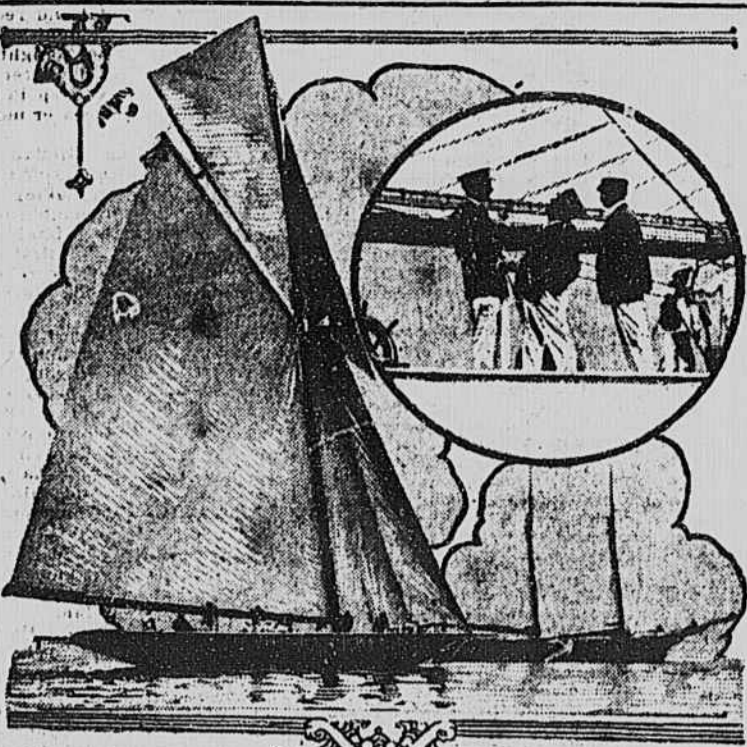

By acclamation the association today re-elected Major Richard Sylvester, of Washington, D. C., and Michael Regan, of Buffalo, N. Y., respectively, president and first vice president.

Chief C. G. Kiser, of Norfolk, Va., delivered an address on "The Police and the Press." He declared himself a firm believer in legitimate publicity and asserted that men in public offices in general and police chiefs in particular make a grave mistake in refusing to recognize the value of a newspaper's friendship. He said:

"Previous training makes me incline toward the press, but the inclination has been justified by years of police experience and a splendid treatment accorded me by the press. Norfolk not only has justified my attitude but has been of incalculable support in making the police work of the city as effective as it has been."

A new by-law was adopted which provides no man can belong to the association who had been publicly charged with dishonesty or other corruption in office and been found guilty. The association rejected the plan to amalgamate with the national organizations of sheriffs and railway detectives.

Ultimatum To The Mexicans

Lascruain was minister of foreign affairs under Madero and at his overthrow became provisional president, appointed Huerta to his cabinet and then relinquished the presidency to him.

The following paragraph from the memorandum of the American delegates sums up the stand Justice Lanier and Frederick W. Lehmann have been instructed to hold:

"The United States is a party to the mediation in the hope that it might lead to peace and that the peace would lead to prosperity. The plan the American representatives propose and on which we must insist will be formulated solely with that end in view."

In another paragraph which is the American government's practical rejection of the mediators' plan, reads: "American objections to the plan approved by the Mexican representatives have been based on the profound conviction that the adoption of that plan would not stop the progress of the victorious army nor bring that speedy peace which the American government so sincerely desires."

Naon Conferred With President

and General Huerta was that military operations at Vera Cruz should be suspended during the progress of the mediation; there is not the slightest intention of General Fuertes' part to take the initiative in any offensive operations in the immediate future.

Moreover, it is well understood at the war department that for his part, General Huerta does not intend to order an attack on Vera Cruz. Huerta would probably much prefer to have the Americans in control of the only port through which he can count on making his escape from Mexico in case of need than to have it fall into the possession of the Constitutionalists.

HINDUS IN CHARGE

Denied Admission to Canada they Have Taken Ship. Vancouver, B. C., June 19.—Captain Yamoto, of the Japanese steamer Komagatack, which brought 376 Hindus to Vancouver and whose vessel with all its passengers aboard still is anchored in the harbor, will confer tomorrow with officers of two visiting Japanese warships, Asama and Idzumi, which are in port.

Owners of the Komagatack plan to place a guard of white men aboard the steamship Saturday or Sunday and tow her about below the three mile limit off the British Columbia coast. Outside of territorial waters, it is expected the Japanese cruisers will provide an armed guard to assist the crew in taking the vessel back across the Pacific.

At present the Hindus, denied admission to Canada, are in control of the ship and the thirty members of the crew can do nothing with them.

JOHN M. CANNON SHOT IN THE BACK

Is the Testimony Brought Out in the Trial at Laurens on Friday

Laurens, June 19.—That the two wounds in the back caused the death of Col. John M. Cannon, who was killed at Gray Court several weeks ago by Joseph G. Sullivan, was the statement of Dr. Rogers, who was the first witness for the state in the case against young Sullivan, who was placed on trial for his life today. The physician stated later that wound on the shoulder might have caused death. He testified that five bullets entered the body of the dead man, two of them striking him in the back.

REVISION

The Ruling of the Georgia Railroad As Regards Shippers.

Atlanta, June 19.—The final order of the state railroad commission just handed down in the matter of revision of the express rates, rules and practices in Georgia, is the first general revision that has been attempted since 1899, and is in the belief of the commission, the most important and far reaching work that the body has accomplished during the past 6 years.

In the revision of the express rates, for instance, particular and careful consideration was given in making a favorable and attractive rate on fruits and vegetables and the commission has applied very low rates to this class of traffic in the hope that it will encourage truck farming and fruit growing, as it has never been encouraged before by offering these attractive rates to Georgia markets. It is hoped that the reduction in revenue to the express companies on these commodities will be more than offset by an increase in the volume of business.

And now the commission in its advance sheets to the report to the governor and the legislature, is earnestly calling attention to the necessity of making a complete and radical revision of its freight classifications and standard tariff. Such a work would be monumental and would be of incalculable benefit to the shippers of the state.

A thorough revision, the commission states, will be long and expensive task involving large clerical force and more funds, but as the revision is essential to the interests of the shipping public the commission is hopeful that these funds will be forth coming from the state.

Lumber Business Hoge

Buffalo, N. Y., June 19.—The manufacturing lumber industry of the United States employs about 758,000 men and its annual manufactured products are valued at $1,160,000,000—more than that of the iron and steel industries of the country. This statement was made by E. V. Babcock, of Pittsburgh, accepting the presidency of the National Hardwood Lumber Association which ended its seventeenth annual convention today.

Change Tactics In Senate Fight

a petition to have the best man in town hanged at 7 day."

First Flowers. Senator Smith made his usual speech in defense of his stewardship, of what an uphill climb it had been to get cotton legislation through the senate, when there were only five farmers there and two exclusive farmers from South Carolina. He presented facts and figures as proof conclusive, and pledged to continue his efforts in this direction if returned.

This was the home of Senator Smith's first wife, and he was consequently no stranger here. This is the town where he was the day of the Haskellite convention in Columbia which he was accused of attending. Two large bunches of flowers were presented him by admiring friends. These were the first bouquets to be "thrown" since the campaign opened.

Not more than 400 person attended the meeting here today. Rains have been farmers are busy. The party goes to Charleston tonight, where the meeting will be held at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Bala Hampered Military.

Torreon, Coahuila, June 19.—(Over Military Wire to El Paso.)—Heavy rains in the states of Coahuila, Durango and Zacatecas have made the operation of the troop train extremely difficult. Washouts and the destruction of bridges on the Torreon-Zacatecas line kept General Natera from arriving here as expected to confer with General Villa regarding the campaign against Zacatecas. Troops of the division of the North are now before Zacatecas number 11,000. The remainder of the division will be moved within the next two days.

Couldn't Settle Differently. Columbus, O., June 19.—Efforts by the sub-committee of the joint conference of Ohio coal operators and miners to settle the strike of 45,000 miners were again unavailing here today. The committee adjourned until Tuesday when a disagreement will probably be reported to a joint conference. Operators and miners tonight said the outlook for a settlement of the wage dispute was not bright.
