COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Household.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—“I suffered for three summers,” writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, “and the third and last time, was my worst.

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my household work.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether.”

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallown cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

COMPLIMENTED ON SPLENDID SERVICE

Furman Geer, Driver of Auto Fire Truck Had A Year Without Any Mishap

Mr. R. Furman Geer, the driver of the automobile truck of the Anderson Fire Department, yesterday received the following highly appreciated letter which shows his valuable services to the city:

Dear Sir: On looking over my inspection reports for the past year I find that you have a clean score card and that your car has gone through without a mishap or any trouble whatever. I simply write this letter to let you know that we appreciate your efforts in keeping your machine in first class condition, and we thank you very much.

With best wishes,
Yours very truly,
E. L. Weiant, Inspector.
Chief W. L. Jackson said yesterday that he is very proud of the record of Mr. Geer, whom he considers one of the best men for this work that could be found in the country. Chief Jackson says that the big fire fighting machine since the first installment, for the remainder has been kept up by returns from the insurance companies' taxes to the state. Chief Jackson says that while the city needs a fire alarm system badly, he considers the greatest need is a pump engine. This city is building so rapidly that an engine is almost an imperative necessity. He is also very much in favor of a building code, so that buildings will be put up with some regard to the protection of the firemen in case of conflagration.

CITY MANAGER PLAN ENDORSED BY BOARD

Municipal League Furnished With Data Concerning Government of Sumter—Pamphlet Issued.

The National Municipal league has just issued a pamphlet giving an analytical study made by a committee of experts of the commission plan and commission-manager plan of government. The committee consisted of Charles A. Beard, associate professor of politics, Columbia university; Ernest S. Childs, secretary of the National Short Ballot organization; William Bennett Munro, professor at Harvard university, and Clinton Rogers Woodruff, editor of The National Municipal Review.

Among other things the committee's report says: “Commission government is a relative success as compared with the older forms. The people who live under it are generally more content. They feel that they are more effectively politically and that commission government is an asset to their town. Substantially financial improvements have generally resulted, demonstrating a striking increase in efficiency and a higher standard of municipal accomplishment, and this may fairly be credited to the better working of the new plan.

“This relative success of commission government,” says the report, “results primarily because it is more democratic (i. e. sensitive to public opinion) than the old form.” The committee reached the conclusion that the commission-manager plan is better than the commission plan.

Save the report concerning the commission-manager plan.
“In June, 1912, the plan was adopted at Sumter, S. C., and put in operation January, 1913, whereupon it became widely known as the ‘Sumter plan’.” The idea soon after took root in Ohio, where it has been adopted by Dayton and Springfield. Dayton, because of the association of its new charter with the flood disaster, and because of its offer of the city manager plan to Col. Goshals, has made the city manager plan a ‘household word.’

Killed His Jonah.
Atlanta, Ga., July 1.—Gertie Parks is now awaiting a sentence of hanging on July 21. Gertie, who is a coal black negro, shot and killed Horace Reed, of the same complexion, because Horace “Jonah’d” him at a crap game. “I was shootin’ de bones, Judge, and calling for Little Joe, when dat nigger comes buttin’ in and wants to borrow a quarter.”
“What you mean, nigger, talkin’ to me while I’m rollin’ for a four-spot, I says to him.”
“Den I rolled de bones and dat seven come out. I lost my money and den I rises up and shoots dat Jonah, Yes sub.”
Witnesses say the slain man had been Parks’ best friend and had served six months in the chain gang rather than turn state’s evidence against Parks in another case.

GOVERNOR STATION TALKS Denies That there were Strings to West’s Appointment.
Atlanta, July 1.—Branding the charges that there were any strings tied to his appointment of W. S. West as United States senator, Governor John M. Slaton has addressed a letter to the editor of the Brunswick News which should effectually answer the attacks made on the governor by Thomas W. Hardwick, one of his opponents in the senatorial race.
“In an address at Brunswick,” Mr. Hardwick related a startling story to the effect that Colonel West had told Governor Slaton that if he were given the appointment he would not make the race for election, but if he were not given the place he would spend

$75,000 to defeat the governor Governor Slaton says:
“The above story is absolutely untrue. Mr. West sent me no such message nor was such a suggestion made by him nor any of his friends. He was appointed without a restriction of any kind. Until 6 o'clock of the evening before I made the appointment I did not know what he was going to do and when he telephoned me that he had not decided to make the race I asked that he not do so because of me and told him I had not decided whether I would run even if he did not.”

REJECT ALLEGIANCE
Another Rebel Leader Turns From Carranza
Mexico City, June 30.—News reached Mexico City today that Emiliano Zapata, the Southern revolutionary leader, had published a decree rejecting any allegiance to Venustiano Carranza, and saying that the constitutional chief had refused to accept the “plan of Ayala,” the original agrarian proclamation of the Southern leader.

Zapata is said to have declared that he intends to extend his operations along the western coast of Mexico as far as Sonora, and that he will fight Carranza “forever.”

The information was brought to Mexico City by persons who arrived from towns under the control of the followers of Zapata in the State of Morelos.
