COUNTY SUFFERS FROM HEAVY STORM

DAMAGE DONE YESTERDAY FROM HAIL, LIGHTNING AND CLOUDBURST

FEW SEVERE LOSSES

Property and Crops Damaged Near Rock Mills and Flat Rock Section is Almost Devastated

Anderson county yesterday experienced one of the most severe storms in its history when some sections experienced a cloudburst, others were visited by a terrific hail storm, while in still other sections the lightning did great damage.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the sky became overcast with storm clouds and in a few minutes the storm broke. Trees were uprooted, barns were blown down, a church was wrecked from its pillars by the terrific gale and growing crops were entirely destroyed by hail.

The hail storm seems to have done the greatest damage near the Gluck Mill, although other sections may have suffered also. Telephone connection with outlying districts was impossible last night on account of the poles and wires being blown down but no reports were received of a hail storm except from the Gluck section. Near and place the cotton was greatly destroyed, the stalks being cut into shreds. It is said that the hail fell for only a few seconds but during the very short space it was sufficient to practically kill all the growing crops. E. L. McKinney, who lost his entire crop by hail last year, was again a sufferer yesterday and he told The Intelligencer last night that his crop seemed to be gone. His neighbors were also badly damaged.

It is said that at Donalds the country experienced what may be termed a cloudburst. The rain fell with great velocity in some of the farm land and passenger coming in on last night said that so much of the water ran above the rails, a cut on either side of the track and completely covered the track.

At Starr, Elias McGee's gin house was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, together with all the gin machinery, farm machinery and about 11,000 bushels of oats. Mr. McGee estimates that this loss alone will reach about $1,500.

In the Flat Rock section the wind was terrific, the Flat Rock church being blown from its pillars by the high wind. About 100 trees were uprooted in that immediate section and barns and fences were blown down on all sides. Pink Tate's barn was struck by lightning but it is thought that the building was saved.

It is said that almost the entire county suffered losses from barns and chimneys being blown down and from losses by fire, following the electrical display and it seems strange that great damage was done right around the edge of the city while no loss was suffered in Anderson.

So far as was reported yesterday there was no loss of life.

JOHNSON OUT FOR A COUNTY OFFICE

Popular Citizen of White Plains Section Would Fill Post of County Supervisor

The latest candidate to aspire for an Anderson county office is W. J. Johnson of the White Plains section, who announces in this issue of The Intelligencer that he is a candidate for Supervisor of Anderson county.

Mr. Johnson is a well known farmer and has followed that calling in his section with success. He has never figured in politics before, although he has been a school trustee in his district for some time and has been discharged by order. His was in the mercantile business at Pelzer for seven years and has come in contact with almost all the people of Anderson county.

In discussing his candidacy yesterday Mr. Johnson said that he had received assurances of support from all parts of the county and he believes that he will be elected. He says that if he should secure the office he will do the best he can for all parts of the county and will stand for all Anderson county roads being improved.

English Agriculture.

As Somersetshire is devoted chiefly to dairying, cattle raising and sheep-herding, the Somerset horned sheep, the Devon long wools, and the hardy Exmoor breed are there found in great numbers, as well as herds of numerous breeds of sheep for the production of the famous Cheddar cheese. Agriculture is extensively carried on in Gloucestershire and Wiltshire also, but one does not there find the variety of Somerset.—London Mail.

School Picnic.

The former pupils of Calhoun or Shady Grove school are cordially invited to attend a picnic on the school grounds on Saturday afternoon, July 4. Bring well filled lunch baskets.

NEGRO STABBED YOUNG WHITE BOY

Abbeville County People Became Aroused and Trouble Was Narrowly Averted

Capt. R. J. Ramer returned last night from Abbeville and stated that he had a very eventful trip. At Antreville he found the community somewhat stirred up over the fact that a white child had been stabbed by a grown negro man. The boy was tearing the negro and finally threw a bucket of water on him. The negro stabbed the boy in retaliation.

This happened Wednesday. The boy's condition became very serious yesterday and there were some mutterings. Sheriff Lyon, of Abbeville, was notified, but rather than take chances, some of the cooler heads among the neighbors decided to take charge of the negro and to rush him to the Abbeville jail.

Between Carswell Institute and Gluck Mills, Captain Ramer passed through the track of a severe storm. The road was littered with branches of trees and the signs of severity of the wind were many. He saw the McGee gin house burning at Starr.

John Horton Rustling, Tugaloo Tribune.

Mr. John A. Horton, Mayor Ross Mitchell, Mr. Albert Fant of Belton and Messrs. Robert Price and W. C. King of Townville, were in Westmaster last Thursday afternoon. They were travelling in Mr. Horton's touring car. Mr. Horton is in the race for Congress from the Third district, and his card appears elsewhere in this paper. While here he made a favorable impression on all who met him. He is a son of ex-postmaster J. E. Horton of Belton and is also related to our townman, Messrs. O. K. and J. G. Breazeale.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES TO HOLD MEETING MONDAY

COUNTY ASSOCIATION IS CALLED TOGETHER

DR. WARD COMING

Miss Eva Hite Will Be in Attendance and J. E. Swearingen Will Make Effort to Come

It was announced yesterday that the meeting Monday of the Anderson county School Trustees Association will probably be one of the most interesting events ever held by any school association in this county. Dr. W. A. Tripp, president of the association, and J. B. Felton, county superintendent of education, are expecting a big attendance and they say that a majority of the trustees from every section will be here for the day.

The meeting is to be held in the court house, beginning at 11 o'clock and a number of able speakers will be on hand. Foremost among these is Dr. J. L. LaBruce Ward, director of rural sanitation in South Carolina, and Miss Mary Eva Hite, head of the rural school improvement association. They will both address the trustees.

Dr. Tripp yesterday mailed out the following letter to all the trustees in the county:

"To the Trustees of Anderson County: "Dear Trustee: "The next regular meeting of the Anderson County Trustees Association will meet at the Court House in Anderson on Monday, July 6th, at 11 A. M.

"Dr. LaBruce Ward, of the State Board of Health, will give an illustrated lecture to the Trustees and will give a number of things that may be put in practice in the public schools of the county at a very small cost.

"Miss Eva Hite, president of the State Rural School Improvement Association, will be present and will talk on rural school improvements in every phase of the subject. This is an opportunity that no trustee of the county can afford to miss.

"Supt. J. E. Swearingen, State Superintendent of Education, has been asked to be present, and this should be a drawing card to all School Trustees, and especially if their district is not doing what it should from a standpoint of school activity.

"The Association will complete the organization at this meeting and there are a number of things that will vitally effect every district of the county.

"Expecting to see every Trustee of the county present at this meeting, and expecting to see 1914-15 the best school year in the history of the county."

Tribute of Respect.

THE BOLL WEEVIL

Heard Address at Charleston Meeting Saying that Weevil Arrives in 5 Years

One of Anderson's well known bankers said yesterday that the people of this section would do well to bear in mind the remarks made at the State meeting of South Carolina Bankers, held at Charleston, on the subject of the boll weevil. This is a danger, hardly to be termed imminent as yet, and still it is a foregone conclusion that the boll weevil will reach South Carolina and Anderson county within the next few years.

"The boll weevil has about 250 miles to travel before it reaches the South Carolina border and at its average rate of migration this will require about five years," said B. H. Rawl, chief of the dairy division, bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture, in an address on the boll weevil delivered before the South Carolina Bankers' association recently in Charleston. On this premise Mr. Rawl developed plans for the people of the State by which they can better cope with the situation when the boll weevil appears and reduces the cotton crop about 50 per cent. He told of the ravages in other States and drew a parallel of similar conditions for this State. His remedy is that the farmers learn to grow other crops or to raise live stock and that the bankers cooperate with them by lending them money to build up these new ventures.

Mr. Rawl traced the gradual advance of the boll weevil from the time that it first appeared in the Brazos river region of Texas, and showed by statistics the devastation that this little animal has done. In Louisiana, for instance in 1904, the cotton crop was over 1,000,000 bales, but after the boll weevil had fully entered the State the crop decreased to less than 250,000 bales, and since then it has not exceeded 400,000 bales per annum. But worse are the figures for ten counties in the southern part of Mississippi. In 1906 they produced an aggregate of 262, 436 bales, which was reduced in 1912 to 38,133 bales.

Speaking of the change in financial conditions due to this astounding decrease in cotton production, Mr. Rawl said: "Since cotton has become unprofit-
