ROCK MILLS. Rock Mills, July 6.—I was at preaching on last fourth Sabbath and after preaching was over the minister walked up to me and said: "I enjoyed your article in The Intelligencer and made it a part of my sermon and I hope you will write some more along the same line. I promised him I would. If the editor would allow me and if the article would escape the criticism of the editor. Yes, the people make me think of the people of Israel, when they were left in the hands and care of Aaron, while Moses went up to the mount to receive the law from God to govern the people. The people commenced to grumble to Aaron saying, "We want a God to worship that we can see." So Aaron granted their request and in the place of grumbling there was music and dancing in the camp. They had their god where they could see him and they seemed to be satisfied. Yes, I say the people make me think of those Israelites. I never in all my life saw as many long faces and heard as much grumbling about the cotton not coming up. Their god was under the ground and they couldn't see him. They couldn't understand what was the matter and why their God did not make his appearance as he always did. Yes, they tried every way they could to see if the could not get their God to make his appearance, but all proved in vain. Also when the people saw they had no power over the work of the all powerful God, they then quietly waited God's time. How impatient plant cotton, but no one could tell them how to make it come up. How often did I hear some of the people say: "If my cotton don't soon come up I am a ruined man."

Gentle reader, are you depending on your cotton to keep you from ruin? If you are let me say to you, you are ruined already and the sooner you realize that fact the better it will be for you. Yes, I say in my first article, if we as a people had lived up to the requirements of the divine writ, I did not have to repeat it. Now as the drought has come and the little cotton has come up, you hear the people wondering and asking "Do you think that little stuff will do any good?" "Can it make anything?" At first it seemed all they wanted was to see the cotton come up. Now as it has come up their chief desire is for some one to tell them of their long looked for god was going to do them, any good. In conclusion let me say to you; humble yourselves, wait and see the manifestation of the power and goodness of God, for your grumbling didn't bring the cotton up or will your wondering if the little stuff will make anything any good. Yes, the sooner we as a people acknowledge we are powerless the better it will be for us. J. L. O. Shaw.

WEATHER BULLETIN. Washington, July 7.—Local showers over large areas in the cotton region east of the Mississippi greatly improved the outlook for the national weekly weather bulletin for the week, which ended yesterday, announced today and the early crop is nearly everywhere reported as in good condition. "Westward of the Mississippi," says the bulletin, "no rain occurred over the greater part of the cotton growing portions of Texas and the late planted in that state is suffering for moisture. The early planted, however, is making satisfactory growth in that state as well as in most portions of Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. Boll weevil are reported as increasing in several sections. "In the principal trucking regions of the south local rains improved the late crops in Florida but in other portions early crops are generally reported as short."

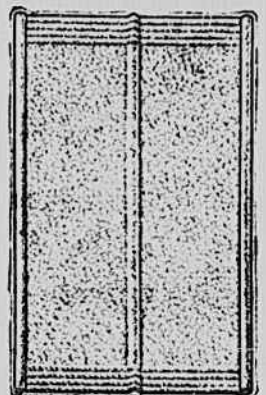

Conditions have greatly improved in Georgia, with more moderate temperatures and widely distributed local showers, except in the southwestern portion, where drought continues.

Notice to Members of Enrollment Committees, Secretaries of Clubs and Voters. It is absolutely necessary for every citizen who intends to vote in the coming primary election for State and County Officers, member of Congress and United States Senator, to personally enroll his name upon the club roll. Sign the roll nearest to your residence by the most direct practical route. Sign your name in full. There is some apprehension that a great number of citizens will fail to place their names upon the roll and thereby be deprived of voting, either through indifference, procrastination, or close application to business. Those who neglect to take time to enroll before the book closes which will be on the 28th day of July, cannot vote. It is the duty of the members of the enrollment committees of the various clubs to keep the enrollment books in a convenient place in the precinct accessible to those desiring to enroll their names. The secretaries are notified to impress upon all those who have not enrolled the importance of doing so before the books are closed. S. D. Pearman, County Chairman.
