

THE ANDERSON INTELLIGENCER

Founded August 14, 1860. 126 North Main Street ANDERSON, S. C.

WILLIAM BANKS, Editor W. W. SMOAK, Business Manager

Entered According to Act of Congress as Second Class Matter at the Postoffice at Anderson, S. C.

Member of the Associated Press and Receiving Complete Daily Telegraphic Service.

Annual Weekly Edition—$1.50 per copy Daily Edition—$5.00 per annum; $2.50 for three months; $1.25 for three months.

Subscription rates: Single copies 5 cents; 12 for 50 cents; 3 months for $1.25; 6 months for $2.25; 1 year for $4.00.

The Intelligence delivered by carriers in the city. You fall to get your paper, please notify us. Opposite the label on your paper is a box in which your paper is paid. All checks and drafts should be drawn to The Anderson Intelligencer.

The Weather. Washington, July 8.—Forecast: South Carolina—Partly cloudy Thursday and Friday.

A HIGH IDEAL. To teach the truth; to stimulate the mind; to broaden the sympathies; to inculcate right principles; to quicken the spiritual sense; to prepare for the office of womanhood; that is the aim of Anderson College.

Swat the fly. Not in malice, but with determination.

The corned candidate "curses" the newspapers, some one has said.

The man who gets it wants to know what to do with it—the vacation.

The farmers and the top crust are now at plows' points with each other.

The man who makes a "tart reply" may not be a chef, nor yet a ventriloquist.

Some one has said that none but the corrupt fear the publicity of the newspapers.

The split log drag of common sense and kindness should follow a mud-slinging campaign.

Draw the lines. Make every candidate in this country say "Anderson College is My College."

In Pittsburg 150 tons of soot fall on the roofs and trees daily. Reminds us of some politics.

Oconee county is holding court this week with our own Anderson judge and solicitor at their posts.

When the "sentence" of a suffragette is cut in half does it mean her talk or her prison term.

Irish potatoes should be a big crop in the south. The duty on imported potatoes is $400,000 a year.

"Too low they build who build below the stars," said Young. He was not referring to theatrical stars.

The man who mortgages his home to get an auto doesn't need a home anyhow, or he wouldn't be around much.

Every farmer in Anderson should put up a barrel of sauer kraut for winter consumption. Fine and healthy.

The right way—give every candidate a respectful hearing and holler for the man of your choice—at the proper time.

We are surprised that no gubernatorial candidate has been "flat-footed" for a salt that will not clog the shaker.

Clemson College should have a statue of John C. Calhoun—a bronze replica of the marble masterpiece in the Hall of Fame.

About the most difficult thing in the world to prove is a peonage charge. See the result in Savannah. Case was strong but evidence weak.

In 1900 the total value of automobiles in the United States was $5,000,000. Anderson county alone has now 10 per cent of that valuation.

If Gov. Blease's opponents' attacks are helping, as they appear to be, why should said opponents be "howled down" by their said attacks?

Something About Anderson

Government statistics show that Anderson's percentage of growth is greater than that of any other city in the state.

That its present population is now estimated, based on school census, at something around 20,000.

That more than $1,210,000 is now being expended in Anderson on various public and private developments, and that $400,000 more in improvements is contracted for.

That more building is under construction in Anderson today than in any other city in the state, far exceeding other Greenville or Spartanburg and being nearly as much as both combined.

Anderson is the second largest textile center in the South, and the value of the manufactured product of Anderson now approximates $15,000,000 per annum, the largest in the state.

Anderson has more pupils in her public schools than any other city in the state except Charleston or Columbia, leading Greenville by 125 and Spartanburg by 52.

Anderson's 34 factories employ approximately 4400 people, paying annually several million dollars in wages.

Anderson's six banks have deposits aggregating nearly $3,000,000.

Anderson is close to more points on the Interurban Lines than any other city in the Piedmont.

Anderson's postoffice receipts are growing at the rate of 20 per cent per annum.

Anderson county leads the counties of all the South in aggregate value of farming products, exceeding $7,000,000 per annum.

Anderson merchants pay more than $1,125,000 per annum freight charges alone.

Anderson offers more opportunities for investment than any other similar sized city in the Carolinas.

Work will shortly start in Anderson on the most costly and up-to-date theatre in either North or South Carolina, to cost approximately $53,000, unequipped.

Anderson college, located here, is becoming a leading female educational plant; it was erected at a cost of more than $150,000 donated by public spirited citizens of the city.

Anderson Hospital, take College car.

North Anderson, North Anderson car.

Rose Hill Country Club, take North Anderson car.

New Telephone Building, West Whitner street.

City Cemetery, take Riverside car.

Brogan Mill, take Brogan car.

Orr and Gluck Mills, South Main car.

Riverside and Toxaway Mills, take Riverside car.

City Fire Department, South Main street.

Anderson Mill and Coneross Twine Mills.

Postoffice and Public Library, North Main street.

Y. M. C. A.

For Pendleton and Seneca, take Blue Ridge, Union Station.

For a delightful trip to the foothills of the mountains go to Walhalla, via Blue Ridge Ry., Union Station.

For Belton, Williamston, Honea Path, Greenville, Spartanburg and Greenwood, take Interurban, nine trains a day, depot on North Main street.

For Augusta and western Carolina points, take C. & W. C., Union station.

For Clemson College, take automobile at Anderson.

Sunset Forest.

Portman Shoals.

Townsend Springs.

Sulphur Springs, Williamston.

Anderson Is Yours

Few of the editors of the weekly and daily newspapers of South Carolina have ever seen Anderson. Some of them who have recently paid their first visit to this city expressed great surprise that there should be here remote from the main lines of railway a city of more than 17,000 inhabitants. Anderson wishes to extend her most cordial welcome to these visitors today. At the risk of appearing vain and of being accused of impropriety, we wish to state a few things about our Electric City.

Anderson now has under construction 26 store rooms.

The Public Service company is spending here between $25,000 and $50,000 on water extensions, etc.

The Bell Telephone company is just completing a new three-story steel and concrete building and is making other improvements aggregating more than $100,000.

The Charleston and Western Carolina railway last year spent $150,000 for terminals here, and is now spending something like $50,000 in improvements.

The Southern Railway is spending $100,000 on its new Blue Ridge passenger station here, and last year spent $100,000 on a steel and concrete bridge five miles west of the city. These improvements indicate that the Blue Ridge, which now runs from Belton to Walhalla a distance of 45 miles will be completed to Knoxville at some date, not long removed.

The panic of 1907 hit the Anderson mills more heavily than any other in the state, and this city was given a staggering blow. But a city that can live through that and can come again as Anderson is coming today is a substantial city.

The Cox mill was liquidated last year and as the Equinox mill is now doubling its capacity and in a few days will resume operations, working on contracts for the United States navy, duck and sail cloth.

The Riverside and Toxaway mills for the establishment of a new provisional administration which "would assure political peace in Mexico and make clear President Huerta's willingness to resign, if thereby such peace could be secured."

The minister addressed an earnest plea to the constitutionalists to meet the Huerta government half way by co-operating in the establishment of a new provisional government, thus assuring the country's political pacification.

In this connection the minister affirmed President Huerta's willingness to resign, provided his resignation should bring about pacification of the country.

Praises America's Attitude. The minister designated the course of the American government "in waiving satisfaction for the Tampico incident and a war indemnity," as reasonable and just. He declared intervention by an outside power in the internal affairs of Mexico "had been avoided as a principle, for while it was true that the protocols invoked the obligation of establishing a provisional government to replace that of General Huerta, on the other hand, it was clearly stipulated that such government should be the subject of an agreement of the warring political parties, to the total exclusion of any outside power."

Warburg Urged To Accept Appointment. Montgomery, Ala., July 8.—The convention of representative banks and bankers comprising the sixth district of the federal reserve bank today nominated eighteen candidates for the six places as directors, these eighteen to be voted on by the individual banks by mail within the next several weeks.

Resolutions were adopted urging Paul M. Warburg, of New York, to accept appointment on the federal reserve board, and stating he would be of material value to the banking interests of the country. Representatives of six states comprising the sixth district, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana, requested Mr. Warburg to forget the differences that may have arisen from the questions propounded by the senate committee.

Allanca, First Big Seagoing Ship to Test Panama Canal Locks

Photo copyright, 1914, by American Press Association. THE first freight carrying steamer to pass through the locks of the Panama canal was the Allanca, a vessel belonging to the Panama railroad. She carried 9,000 tons of sugar, and the test of the great locks was thoroughly satisfactory to Colonel Goethals, governor of the canal zone. The rise at the Gatun locks is eighty-five feet.

MORE TROUBLE IN MEDIATION

(Continued From First Page)

ternal conflict in Mexico, "owing to plans which will be made known and the assistance and support given by the United States to the revolutionists."

The report expressed readiness on the part of the Huerta government to negotiate with the constitutionalists for the establishment of a new provisional administration which "would assure political peace in Mexico and make clear President Huerta's willingness to resign, if thereby such peace could be secured."

The minister addressed an earnest plea to the constitutionalists to meet the Huerta government half way by co-operating in the establishment of a new provisional government, thus assuring the country's political pacification.

In this connection the minister affirmed President Huerta's willingness to resign, provided his resignation should bring about pacification of the country.

Praises America's Attitude. The minister designated the course of the American government "in waiving satisfaction for the Tampico incident and a war indemnity," as reasonable and just. He declared intervention by an outside power in the internal affairs of Mexico "had been avoided as a principle, for while it was true that the protocols invoked the obligation of establishing a provisional government to replace that of General Huerta, on the other hand, it was clearly stipulated that such government should be the subject of an agreement of the warring political parties, to the total exclusion of any outside power."

Warburg Urged To Accept Appointment. Montgomery, Ala., July 8.—The convention of representative banks and bankers comprising the sixth district of the federal reserve bank today nominated eighteen candidates for the six places as directors, these eighteen to be voted on by the individual banks by mail within the next several weeks.

Resolutions were adopted urging Paul M. Warburg, of New York, to accept appointment on the federal reserve board, and stating he would be of material value to the banking interests of the country. Representatives of six states comprising the sixth district, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana, requested Mr. Warburg to forget the differences that may have arisen from the questions propounded by the senate committee.

BUBONIC PLAGUE SCARE. Practically Over—Inmates of Industrial Home Released. New Orleans, July 8.—Twenty-eight inmates of the Industrial Home of the Volunteers of America, who were isolated following the discovery of bubonic plague here, were released today. None of them had shown symptoms of plague infection. It was at the volunteers' home that Charles Lundene, a Swedish sailor, and W. W. Wilkinson developed the contagion. Lundene later died and Wilkinson is recovering.

Atlanta, Ga., July 8.—The state board of health will meet here tomorrow to consider plans for the extermination of rats in Georgia. The work is aimed as a precautionary measure against the possible spread of bubonic plague, which recently developed in New Orleans. It was understood tonight that the general assembly, now in session here, would be asked to make an appropriation to meet any emergency that might arise.

Columbus, O., July 8.—Fearing attacks on mine property by striking miners, several Belmont county coal operators today sent telegrams to Governor Cox asking that state troops be called out to guard the mines. State Mine Inspector John Roan advised the governor there was no immediate need for troops and Belmont county authorities tonight notified the governor that the situation was not serious.

NAMED AS ASSASSIN WIFE OF CARMAN COMMITTED TO JAIL

(Continued From Page One.)

and is a comedy production of the famous Electric Film Company. The C. A. Reed Piano and Organ Co., state that they have had such an unprecedented demand for pianos that their stock is just about exhausted, but that they are making a strenuous effort to take care of the orders. Shipments are on the way and are being rushed through.

An editorial in the Sunday issue of the Intelligencer stated that the Greensboro, N. C., paper had copied a design from this paper of the Coca-Cola advertisement which appeared. This though was a mistake. The design used by the Greensboro paper was that of the Chero-Cola Bottling Co. The Coca-Cola design was used by the Rock Hill paper.

The Anderson Bakery reports a phenomenal increase in the sale of "Old Homestead" bread for the past day or two, and attributes it to the reader ad which appeared last Sunday in the Intelligencer's classified page. Of course, if "Old Homestead" bread didn't have merit, all the advertising in the world wouldn't sell it.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

Washington, July 8.—Senate met at 11 a. m. Debate was resumed on sundry civil appropriation bill.

The Alaskan railroad license law was repealed and a new income tax was enacted for those lines.

An appropriation of $500,000 for expenses of a Federal exhibit at the San Francisco exposition was also passed.

Acting Chairman Hitchcock of the banking committee, issued a statement explaining why the committee wanted to question Paul W. Warburg the nominee of the Federal reserve board.

Passed sundry civil appropriation bill carrying $111,000,000.

Adjourned at 6:35 p. m. to 11 a. m. Thursday.

House met at noon. Bills under calendar Wednesday rule considered.

The Senate resolution empowering the president to invite foreign delegates to the home education Congress in Philadelphia in September was adopted.

Representative Cantor, of New York, proposed a constitutional amendment to permit the president to veto a portion of an appropriation bill.

Adjourned at 5:43 to noon on Thursday.

PRÉSIDENT HARRISON CONES TO ANDERSON FOR CONFERENCE

(Continued from page 1.)

ing. The hardwoods of Kentucky, Tennessee and Arkansas, the main supplies of the south, are beginning to give out and shortly the vast tracts of these woods in the Blue Ridge mountains can be economically cut and manufactured, ultimately giving a great traffic. The possibilities of the apple industry, now undergoing remarkable development in northeast Georgia, southwestern North Carolina and east Tennessee, where a splendid product is being produced, is another factor in future traffic from the Blue Ridge. This also applies to the Irish potato industry, just beginning its commercial development there. President Harrison views all these things as factors in the necessity for the completion of the Blue Ridge. These are really more important than the shortage in track to the middle west which would be secured.

Luncheon at Mr. Farmers. President Harrison arrived in the city yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and was met at the station by several members of the chamber of commerce and was taken to Mr. A. S. Farmer's residence on West Whitner street, where after the conference Mrs. Farmer served those present a delightful luncheon.

Those present at the conference and enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Farmer were Messrs. M. M. Mattison and T. Frank Watkins, members of the railroad committee of the chamber of commerce; Jas. D. Hammett and W. L. Briesey, of the executive committee, and Secretary Porter A. Whaley of the chamber of commerce.

Following this pleasant occasion the party went to Williamston in automobiles, President Harrison having expressed a desire to see some of the farming lands of Anderson county. He was met there by his private car and left immediately for Washington.

Atlanta, Ga., July 8.—The state board of health will meet here tomorrow to consider plans for the extermination of rats in Georgia. The work is aimed as a precautionary measure against the possible spread of bubonic plague, which recently developed in New Orleans. It was understood tonight that the general assembly, now in session here, would be asked to make an appropriation to meet any emergency that might arise.

Columbus, O., July 8.—Fearing attacks on mine property by striking miners, several Belmont county coal operators today sent telegrams to Governor Cox asking that state troops be called out to guard the mines. State Mine Inspector John Roan advised the governor there was no immediate need for troops and Belmont county authorities tonight notified the governor that the situation was not serious.

"Keep your temper, keep your friends, keep your health and keep well dressed and the world is yours." This store, stock, salesmen and courtesy make clothes buying a pleasure. Your money promptly returned if any purchase disappoints. Every style in light weight suits good enough for you to wear. $7.50 to $25. Order by Parcel Post. We prepay all charges. B.D. Transit Co. The Store with a Conscience.