HAY FEVER GERM

When the fall of the year approaches and the rag weed and the golden rod begin to fill the air with nollen, then is the time when hay fever asserts itself. It is a most troublesome, annoying and debilitating For instance it says in a recent num. not to be succeed at.

The fact that thousands of persons in all parts of the country annually leave their homes for weeks at a time to rojourn in places where hay fever does not occur, indicates that the afchecks and fliction is no mere agment of the imagination. Person who have undergone operations for appendicitis have formed organizations more for social purposes than any other, but so fas as is known, hay fever victims are the only ones who have, banded together to study means of preventing and curing the disease, going about the matter in a scientific manner.

> The fact that at last year's convention a former president of the association, who delivered an address, confessed that he had suffered from hay fever for 70 years and had employed every known method of treatment. would seem not very encouraging, but Col. Henry S. Muckle, of Philadelphia, who enjoys this rather unenviany of his associates that eventually the skin mighty thin." a cure will be found. "I begin to feel that we are on a sure road to curing hay fever" was the cheerful declaration. His hope is founded on the fact that the hay fever germ has been isolated by scientists.

A valuable fature of the work of the association is the reports from members concerning localities exempt from the disease. They are found in New England in the Adirondacks, in various parts of Canaada and in many of our northern and western states. Hay fever is practically unknown in Europe and on the ocean, that is to say, far out at sea. The sufferers, therefore have one consolation denied to victims of most other ills that flesh is helr to, that a change of air may enable them to escape from the enemy.
