No Candidate Has

Votes Sewed Up.

A well known Anderson politician, who has traveled over the county considerably for the past month, said yes-terday that as far as this county was concerned in the governor's race, that it was any candidate's race up to this time. The great majority of voters, especially the mill people have not yet decided on their choice for governor and the candidate who gets some good work put in in Andersn county just now, will likely get the jump on his opponents.

An Interesting

Question Brought Up. Several gentlemen were yesterday discussing the races for district com-missioners, when Whit McClure brought up the question: "Can the people of the city of Anderson vote on these commissioners?" Some argued that they could, while others claimed they could not, since they are not in a district. This is a question which may be worth looking into at Determined that Rock Mills town-ship shall have her share of office holders, Col. Gilmer Todd, who acquired the handle to his name by wearing a red shirt in '76, and later effering to raise a company of the same command to wipe Huerta and his crowd from Mexican soil. about decided to offer for commissioner from his district. To a friend, he stated that in case he did run, he would announce himself 'thus: "On behalf of my wife and children. nounce myself a candidate for com-missioner from my district, etc." As a platform orator, Col. Todd has the senatorial bunch beat the length of Panama canal. Not since the days of Sam Wilkes, has Anderson county boasted of an orator of Col Todd's type. Even William Jennings Bryan is not in the same class and in case this Rock Mills ctilzen decides to shy his sombrero into the political arena, Anderson county will hear a silver-tongued orator with no superior.

Women Can't Hold Office.

Tom Anderson doesn't discuss politics often but when he does, he goes down to the core. Some charge that Tom is in favor of woman suffrage because he has been trying to find a wife for the past fifteen years and hasn't yet succeded, but those who know him best, declare that while he is still in the market for a mate, this is not his real purpose in advocating woman suffrage. Tom is not only in favor of women cops, but favors women holding offices when competent.
