EUROPEAN WAR BULLETINS

accepted the proposal of Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, that a conference be called with the object of finding a solution of the Austro-Serbian situation.

Paris, July 27.—Violent anti-war demonstrations occurred on the Boulevards last tonight, accompanied by the singing of revolutionary songs. Large forces of police and mounted republican guards, under the direction of Prefet Penning, repeatedly charged the crowds. Many persons were knocked down and injured. The disorders were complicated by patriotic demonstrations and on several occasions attempts were made to rush the cafes frequented by Germans, which finally were guarded by police.

Frankfort, Germany, July 27.—The Frankfurter Zeitung in an obviously inspired Berlin dispatch answers the French demand that Emperor William intervene to secure the peace of Europe, and says: "Emperor William's consistent record shows that such an appeal is not necessary, particularly as Germany has nothing to gain in the event of war. No act of the German policy threatens peace. The appeal should be directed to Russia, whose ruler, the convoker of the peace congress, holds in his hands the decision, war or peace."

Constantinople, July 27.—The Greek minister here today declared that in the event of war between Austria and Serbia, Greece would be compelled to dispatch 100,000 troops to the assistance of Serbia.

Paris, July 27.—The war tension has caused more than the ordinary number of withdrawals of savings from various banks. The Socialist party tonight issued a general manifesto denouncing war and has called meetings to protest against hostilities between Austria and Serbia.

HAIL SUFFERERS ARE GIVEN ADVICE

Want Farmers in Hail District To Plant Cotton Land In Peas If Crop Has Been Ruined

"If those Anderson county farmers suffering the most loss from the recent severe hail storms will plant their land in peas they will be surprised to learn next year that they lost mighty little" said a well-known farmer yesterday. J. W. Rothrock, county demonstration agent, said yesterday that he was urging every farmer, wherever he found a tract where the hail had completely ruined the cotton, to plant the land in early maturing peas, peas ready to cut within 60 to 90 days and he is sure that they will be in much better shape than they now even hope for.

An effort has been made to have the government furnish free to the farmers of the stricken district a quantity of peas for planting and a telegram was also sent to Congressman Aiken, asking that he lead his aid in getting some selected seed for the farmers of this section. Meanwhile, Anderson planters can get all the peas they want, right here at home, from a local seedman. The agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce is trying to get the farmers to make experiment with growing Irish potatoes on a large scale which has been devastated by the hail. The committee realizes that growing Irish potatoes requires a certain amount of expert knowledge, but the committee also figures that even though the farmers made nothing from the potato crop this year, their experience would be valuable, and would enable them to get a money-making crop for the next season. A number of the farmers seem to look on the proposition with favor and are thinking of trying the better plan. vy81dFlac

FROM SEPTUS

My God! Politically where are we at? Honestly and truly, politics is so rotten, corrupt, low, mean and disgraceful, that when it comes to knowing who to vote for we are betwixt the devil and the deep sea.

Today we can see our way clear as to who to vote for and tomorrow, politically, we are in the heart of the great Rocky Mountains with no guide to show us the way out.

One day we know what to do and the next day we are wool-gathered, baffled, "bumfozzled" and crazy as a bat.

If we knew that the New York Sun, the Wall Street Journal, and the New York Times were supporting Smith as charged and if we knew that Smith joined the Haskellites in 1890 we could not and would not support him.

We sometimes pick up our pen to write, as best we can, the partitioning record of Gov. Blease in setting aside the verdict of so many good men by freeing so many rascals, but about that time we pick up a newspaper and see where some judge has said the verdict of good men by suspending the sentence during good behavior on the guilty party and so there we are again in the middle of a bad fix.

We feel that we have followed Gov. Blease to his political death, and that we would not be showing any disrespect if we should refuse to go to the burying.

We must say that it takes a man of grit and courage to come out for compulsory education as did John G. Chinkesides, knowing that he has been fought so hard and in so unpopular a way with a great many people. But John G. Chinkesides is right. We must not sink enough to "throw up" our spots to hear some people oppose compulsory education on the ground that it would force the negro children into the schools. Let it be said to the credit of the negroes and to the discredit of some sorry white men, over this state, that it does not take us to force the negro children into school. Give the average negro kid a "hunk" of corn bread and a quart of buttermilk and a school within five miles of him and he will do the stunt of going.

It is said that there are two sides to all questions, but in this Dr. McIntosh incident there seems to be more than two. With no more at stake, we do not see how any sane man could believe that Dr. McIntosh would shoot himself. In the meantime a man would indeed be a very poor friend of Blease, knowing that to do a thing like that and it be found out would mean for every man in the state with a spark of manhood in him to resent a thing like that by doing everything possible to defeat Blease and such damnable lawlessness.

Of course it stands to reason to believe that a friend of Smith, Jennings and Pollock would also be a friend of Dr. McIntosh, consequently it is very posterosus to believe that this dirty work came from that side.

The crime is a black as hell and those who are responsible for it ought to go to the chairgang for the remainder of their days, let it be who it may.
