Items of Interest and Personal Mention Caught Over the Wireless on the Streets of Anderson

Who Is To Be Presiding Judge?
Some discussion has been heard around Anderson within the last few days as to who will be the presiding judge at the next term of the court of General sessions for Anderson, which convenes on Monday, September 7th. Some of the attorneys were under the impression that Judge John S. Wilcox would come to Anderson for this term, while others thought it was time for Judge Memminger to come. Judge Prince yesterday stated that neither of these gentlemen would come to Anderson for the approaching term as the roster of judges shows that Judge DeVore will come here. This settles the matter, since the roster is the only guide that the judges themselves have and therefore Judge DeVore will probably be in Anderson next week.

Drainage Board To Hold Meeting
The final meeting of the Board of Viewers appointed to investigate the possibility of draining the Rocky River Swamp lands will be held in the office of James N. Pearman, clerk of court, on Tuesday, September 8, at which time the proposition will either be launched or will be refused by the people owning the property along Rocky River. There is little possibility of the land owners refusing to take part in the scheme and indications are that after this meeting the work will at once be begun. This means that Anderson county will be richer by thousands of dollars in agricultural lands than she ever was before.

Has Hawkins A Wife Here?
According to the people around town Luther Hawkins, the young white man who was just convicted in Greenville county on a charge of bigamy, was sentenced to a term in the State penitentiary, once made his home in Anderson and some have said that he even now has a wife living in the city. Hawkins, all told, some of them in Greenville and others in Georgia. When he was arraigned for trial he entered a plea of guilty and was yesterday sentenced by the court.

Executive Commissioner Pleased With Anderson
Albert Blum, executive commissioner for the South Carolina Exposition committee, says that he likes Anderson as well as any town that he has seen since he came to this state. Mr. Blum has been in Columbia for some weeks and came to this city yesterday to confer with the local business men regarding Anderson's taking part in the coming exposition. He says that he likes Anderson and Anderson's people and he already feels assured that this city will do her part and do it well when the question of financing the state exhibit comes up for consideration.

War Caused More Smoking
Possibly Anderson people had never thought of it but men smoke a great many more cigars and cigarettes when they are excited, interested or are worried than they do when they are perfectly normal. As an example of this may be cited the fact that one of the principal cigar stores of the country has just given out a statement on their last month's business by which it will be seen that they sold more cigars than ever before in the history of the company. Officials of the company say that this was undoubtedly due to the fact that the foreign war has broken out and that the average newspaper reader devours a whole cigar while he is reading the accounts in the newspapers of the battles fought. The theory seems plausible.

Telephone For Farmers' Homes
A campaign is shortly to be inaugurated in Anderson to place a telephone in the home of every white farmer in the county, according to a letter which was received in this city from Morgan B. Spier, general manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company. This matter was agitated by people of the city simply because it would surely mean money to the farmer and the merchants of the city as well. The farmers look on the plan with favor and in all probability many of them will agree to install telephones when the special inducements planned by the company are offered them.

Col. Maxwell Seriously Ill
Word has reached Anderson from Salisbury, N. C., that Col. J. D. Maxwell is very ill and that his condition is regarded as serious. Col. Maxwell is the father of Jeff Maxwell and Fred Maxwell of this city, and he has a number of friends here. Some time ago he went to the mountains of North Carolina in the hope that a change of climate might prove to be beneficial but his condition grew worse there and he is now in a hospital in Salisbury. People in Anderson hope that he may soon be improved.

Williamston To Have a Concert
So well pleased were they with the band concert which was held at Williamston last Sunday, the officials of the Piedmont & Northern lines have announced that they will run another excursion to this place this afternoon. They plan to allow the same low round-trip rate and the concert will last from 3 p. m. until 6 p. m. Last Sunday afternoon about 500 Anderson people went to Williamston and they said that the trip was very enjoyable. In all probability an even larger number will make the trip today.

Entomologist To See Caterpillars
It was understood in Anderson yesterday that an entomologist had been detailed to come to Anderson from Clemson college and investigate the cotton worm which is playing havoc with some of the crops in this county. It is understood that the worm much resembles the caterpillar and it is known that this worm is in the state, and the Anderson farmers are inclined to believe that it is the caterpillar doing all the damage here. The expert from Clemson will probably be able to suggest some remedy for the trouble here.

Fine Hose May Be Manufactured Here
The Anderson chamber of commerce has been conducting negotiations for the past several weeks with two hoisery mills in an effort to induce one of them to come to this city. One of the mills is located in New York state while the other is in Linville, N. C. Owing to the fact that the manufacturers have not yet been able to reach any decision in the matter, the secretary of the Anderson chamber of commerce says that no definite assurances in the matter can be given out, but he believes that one of the industries may be induced to move here.

Mr. Mattison To Enter Yale Soon
Marion Mattison, a son of M. M. Mattison and a graduate of Davidson college left yesterday for New York, where he will spend a week and then he will take up a course of preparatory field work which he will have to do before he enters Yale in October.

Mr. Mattison will enter the Junior class of the famous institution, and will study civil engineering. He has a talent for this work and the future for him should be very bright.

Baseball Game Was Rained Out
The baseball game scheduled for yesterday afternoon between a picked team of college men from the city of Anderson and a team of electricians at work in the city, was postponed on account of wet grounds. The rain which fell about 3 o'clock made the diamond so muddy that it was impossible to play until a later date. This game is being awaited with much interest by the local fans.

Singing School Has Been Closed
Prof. John T. Milford has just closed a very successful singing school at Welcome and the people of that section say that they are very much pleased with the good work done by Prof. Milford in their community. Prof. Milford also closed a school at Hopewell about two weeks ago and he gave as much satisfaction there as at Welcome.

Back From Their Honey Moon Trip
Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hollyrod have returned to Anderson. They have gone to housekeeping in West End. Mr. Hollyrod is the efficient bookkeeper at the Farmers and Merchants bank. His bride was a popular young lady of Greenville and they both have many friends in Anderson. They are receiving a warm welcome.

Automobile Had A Bad Mishap
A public service car running along Main street last night, broke an axle when just in front of the Intelligence office, throwing one wheel entirely up on the sidewalk. Fortunately the car was going at a slow rate when the accident occurred and therefore none of the occupants met with injury.

He's Not Going to Move on the 1st
He'll tell you its because they can't get the tile and glass front in his new building by that time.

DREW HEAVY FINE
Failure to Secure Health Certificate Costs Large Sum.
(By Associated Press.)
Norfolk, Va., Aug. 29.—Because he failed to produce a health certificate, Captain Luise, of the Italian steamer Atlantide, which has just arrived from Genoa, was today fined $5,000, 000 by the custom authorities.
Captain Luise said he was unable to secure a health certificate from the American consulate at Genoa because the consul was too busy looking after American refugees who were trying to get back to the United States.
The secretary of the treasury will be requested to remit the fine.

To Harvest Crops
London, Aug. 29.—12:45 p. m.—According to the Ostend correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Company, Monsignor Coenraets, vice rector of the University in Louvain, was one of the prominent residents shot by the Germans there. All able bodied men of Louvain, according to the correspondent, have been sent by train to Germany to aid in harvesting the crops.
Places Blame on Others
London, Aug. 29.—The British official bureau repeats its statement that England has laid no mines in the North sea and adds:
"England, therefore, cannot be charged with any injury up to the present caused by mine laying."
