Dear Sir:-
I think it is only right that I tell you of two incidents that have occurred recently by our advertising in your paper. Yesterday a man walked into the office and said that he wanted to look at the Chamberlain farm that we were cutting up West of the city. I showed it to him and sold him one of them, before I got back to the office. I asked him where he saw the advertisement and he said in The Intelligencer.
Recently we had an inquiry from Columbia about a farm and when the man came up we sold him the place. He also said he saw the advertisement in The Intelligencer.
Yours very truly,
L. S. HORTON,
First Vice President.

I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation," writes Mrs. M. J. Gallagher, Geneva, N. WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, Has Found Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework."
The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pain any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."
Cardui goes to all the weak points and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired nervous, irritable women who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly troubles, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

PRICE OF WHEAT SOARS SKYWARD

Demand for Breadstuffs in Europe Shows Wheat To Soar
Price on Record

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Trans-Atlantic calls for breadstuffs, said to be without parallel in the history of trade, today brought the wheat pit to the boiling point. The wheat market option sold as high as $1.31 1/4.
This marked an ascent of 41 1/2 cents for May Germany assortment, hitherto had become inevitable. Virtually no speculators were hardy enough to oppose the advance. The profit taking sales by holders turned out to be altogether insufficient to act as more than temporary check on the violent upturn.

MARKET REPORT

Dun's Review

New York, Sept. 4.—There is further abatement of the tension in financial circles, although money continues very firm and new business is still closely restricted to urgent needs. The disorganization of foreign exchange is slightly less marked and international banking arrangements are very slowly but gradually improving. Efforts to restore more normal transportation facilities with foreign markets are meeting with gratifying success. The shipments of grain abroad are becoming more extensive and buying for foreign accounts continues heavy. The higher prices induced by these purchases cause a considerable expansion of offerings of wheat from the country, and the sales abroad will hasten a return to more normal conditions in the international exchange. Considerable irregularity is manifested in reports from the leading mercantile and industrial centers, but in view of the existing conditions, the movement of commodities is quite well maintained.
"Failures for the week in the United States were 864 compared with 205 last year; in Canada, 55 compared with 19 last year."

Weekly Cotton

New York, Sept. 4.—The attention of the floor trade is still practically monopolized by the effort to close out the old contracts, which were left outstanding when the markets were closed more than a week ago. The plan proposed by the international conference and approved by members of the local exchange on Thursday is considered likely to result in an ultimate adjustment of the straddle interest, but the fact that the progress of such liquidation is to depend upon the marketing of the Liverpool stocks, has created apprehension that it will be some time before the interests are completely eliminated.
For the past week or two the Liverpool sales have been averaging only about 200 bales per day, while it is estimated that the Liverpool short interest here is in the neighborhood of 300,000 bales, but the English importers are not attempting fresh importations of anything more than sufficient cotton to fill out assortments until the old stock is disposed of and the British government is said to have placed larger orders for cloths which may increase the demands on the supply available.
Meanwhile, estimates of the new crop have been increased as a result of the government report, showing an improvement in the prospect during August and almost every day during the week there have been reports of gradually declining prices in the South. In particular, it is reported to be offering cotton to the New England mills at very low prices.

New York Cotton

Committee Will Hold Daily Meetings in Effort to Relieve Situation.
New York, Sept. 4.—The conference committee of the New York cotton exchange issued a statement today that it would hold daily meetings for the purpose of facilitating the liquidation of the straddle interest and establishing a plan for such operations in accordance with the general plan approved by members of the exchange at yesterday's meeting. All members of the exchange having open contracts in Liverpool who so desire have been requested to cable the Liverpool correspondents to tender their interests for liquidation by ballot, and to put all their orders into the local market on Tuesday, September 8th, before 10 a. m.
Otherwise, the fresh development was reported with reference to the contract situation, and there seemed to be little change in the news from the South. Prevailing weather conditions are considered favorable to the crop and while very little business is reported in spot cotton, there were rumors of offerings from the southwest today at lower prices.

Dry Goods

New York, Sept. 4.—The primary cotton goods market today was steady. Bids for large quantities of print cloths were made, but no business resulted as the mills declined to make further reductions. Staple ginghams were in good demand. Dress ginghams continued to show an improvement. Domestic wool prices held firm. Fine wools were reported to have declined sharply on the Australian markets. Financial pressure caused some silk manufacturers to reduce prices on crepes.

Money on Call

New York, Sept. 4.—Mercantile paper: Sterling exchange market for cables 602 1/2 for demand 602 1/2. Bar silver 53 1/4.

Liverpool Cotton

Liverpool, Sept. 4.—Cotton for retail at warehouse rates: Sales 4,200 bales including 1,800 American on the basis of 50 lbs. 73 1/2 middling. Imports 1,705 bales, all American.
Total forwarded to mills, 24,000 bales of which 7,000 were American; stock $81,000, 500,000; American; imports 20,000. American 2,400 exports 1,000.

Cotton Seed Oil

New York, Sept. 4.—Cotton seed oil was weak, final prices showing a net loss of 14 to 18 points. Liquidation coupled with hedge selling of January and lack of outside support were responsible for the break. Tenders up for this month amount to about 15,000 barrels.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Profits were realized in earnest today on exchange. After advances of 6 3/4 a bushel, wild closed wild at 5 a 5/8 above yesterday's finish. All other leading staples showed net gain.

Hester's Report

Giving Total World's Consumption of American Cotton for Season
New Orleans, Sept. 4.—Total world's consumption of American cotton during the season ending August 31, in statistics issued today by H. G. Hester, secretary of the New Orleans cotton exchange, was put at 14,332,000 bales divided as follows:
Northern mills 2,525,000 bales; Southern mills 3,087,000; foreign mills 8,670,000.
The commercial crop of 14,588,000 bales was divided among the cotton growing states in this way:
Alabama 1,530,000; Arkansas 1,081,000; Florida 70,000; Georgia 2,454,000; Louisiana 485,000; Oklahoma 81,000; Mississippi 1,336,000; North Carolina 894,000; South Carolina 1,462,000; Tennessee 618,000; Texas 3,904,000.

World's Finances.

New York, Sept. 4.—A notable financial event of the day was the very abrupt decline in foreign exchange. London cables fell to 502 1/4 and demand to 501 1/2. These quotations represent a decline of as much as five in the pound sterling from the highest rate of the week and are believed to result directly from an outcome of negotiations between New York city officials and a banking group, which is said to have agreed to finance all of New York's foreign obligations maturing between this and the expiration of the year.
Call money was offered at 6 per cent by the representatives of Canadian banks, which stipulated, however, that fully 50 per cent of the collateral in excess of the loan would be required. As these terms were almost prohibitive little money was loaned at the 6 per cent rate. The market for the time loans continues nominal around 8 per cent.
Money brokers see no indications of a pronounced hardening of the market unless the foreign conflict is unduly prolonged.

WHAT HAS AIKEN DONE

T. Frank Watkins Replies to the Recent Advertisement in These Columns By His Opponents.
Editor The Intelligencer: In your issue of Sept. 4th, Mr. H. Dominick, the candidate for congress against Mr. Aiken, in a recent advertisement in your paper asks what has Aiken done for Anderson, and in replying to his own question states that he has done nothing to have the federal government deposit any of its crop moving money in this county.
On first thought I would seem that this county, with its great cotton production, should be entitled to, and its congressman should secure for it a part of the deposit which the secretary of the treasury has been making in various parts of the country for the purpose of moving the crop. The facts are, however, that under the rulings of the treasury department Anderson county was not qualified to receive any of this deposit, and if we had had ten congressmen, Mr. Dominick included, we could not have gotten one cent of this money for this county. I think, however, that it is only just to Mr. Aiken that the reasons why this money was not available for this county be stated. This deposit of $24,000,000 was to be distributed through the agricultural sections of the United States. The banks in which it was deposited had to put up security for the deposit and they had to have the government in each place where the money was deposited to protect its interests of the government in the matter of these securities. There was so much red tape connected with it that deposits were placed only in banking centers, and as the federal government deals only with national banks, that means that only national banking centers could get any of the money. Anderson county with its eighteen banks has only one national bank, and so we are not entitled to share in this deposit. Only Greenville, Spartanburg, Charleston and Columbia in this state received any of the money, and there are at least four national banks in each of these places. Neither Sumter, Orangeburg, Rock Hill or Greenwood, or any other city except those mentioned, was entitled to share in this money. I am connected with the national bank of this county and know that Mr. Aiken made an effort to have this county participate in this deposit. But the rules of the department were made for the whole country, and no departure from them was allowed. This deposit, however, was a small matter as compared to the new emergency currency issue which the government is now making for the purpose of allowing farmers to hold their cotton. This currency is now being issued, and the Citizens National Bank, the only national bank of this county, will share in the distribution of this currency to the same extent national banks in Columbia, Greenville, etc., do.
It cannot, therefore, be justly charged against Mr. Aiken that he failed to do his full duty and all that any congressman could have done in the matter of securing federal deposits for cotton moving purposes in banks in this district.
Respectfully yours,
T. Frank Watkins.

SEWERAGE IN THE COUNTRY

One great problem peculiar to the rural districts is that of the proper disposal of organic refuse and similar waste matter. In the cities such matter is completely and satisfactorily taken care of in the modern sewerage systems, and thus the city is enabled to preserve a cleanliness which is of greatest aid in fighting disease.
When such matter is allowed to stand in the open, as every rural resident knows, it becomes a swarming place for flies and a hot bed for disease germs; it pollutes the soil and the drinking water, and is always an unsightly and embarrassing nuisance. Such conditions are generally the cause of sickness and disease.
The Sanitary Septic Tank, especially designed along improved lines, for use in the rural districts, are manufactured by Weston & Hooker, Columbia, S. C., completely solved the problem of sewage disposal for the rural home. It is of small size, made of reinforced concrete simple easy to install, never gets out of order nor needs attention. Placed just beneath the surface, and connected with the house by a short pipe line, it securely keeps the poisonous organic waste matter enclosed until by natural process, it disintegrates, and then seeps out into the ground, harmless mineral matter and water. There is no odor, no soil pollution. Approved by health authorities.
Its cost is small. It affords all the conveniences and the full protection of the city sewerage system. It is well worth your while to know all about this Septic Tank, and you can do so by simply writing to Weston & Hooker, Columbia, S. C.
