Some say that swearing is only a habit. Perhaps it is but it is a very bad habit and one that every person s' ild break away from. Some try to j. dfy themselves on the ground of moderation, but a moderate awearer is like a moderate drinker—he sets a bad example to others. We read in God's holy book, that "No man liveth into himself and no man dieth unto himself; therefore we are brothers and we are our brothers' keepers I knew a father whose little son came habit. Perhap's it is ,but it is a very I knew a father whose little son came running along with other boys using profane language and the father rashed up to him and punished him severely, at the same time swearing if he ever heard him use such language again he would give him an even greater 'punishment. Why, the little fellow could not be blamed, he was only following his father's example, and if a father swears he has no right to blame his little boy for swear. ing; if he drinks he has no right to blame his little boy for drinking, and if he is evil and sinful he has no right to blame his little boy for doing what By hr. bimself, is doing. The father should not complain since the little lowing in the foot-Set's or his own father. I heard of m stenz father who walking through deer snow and he heard a voice behind him saying: Father, I am walking in your footsteps. I will soon catch up. Fathers and mothers, do not say anything or do anything or go anywhere that you would be ashamed of your children following in your footsteps! Some of us are so selfish in this respect we do not seem to think that it matters as long as we ourselves are having a good time. History tells us of a country where nearly everybody awore. Her statesmen swore while making the laws of the nation, the lawyer swore while pleading his client's case in the courts, the judge while he was prohouncing sentence upon the crim-inali swore, the employer swore at the emrloye and the employe answer. ed bac! with the same class of adjec tives. The church members were not very much better than some other classes, either. They went to church in the morning and partosk of the holy communion, and on the way home, at the least provocation, they would swear, and it is even said that the clergy swore also. Now, this was an awful condition of affairs in so ciety, in the state and in the community, and no one paid much attention to it bua in a certain college there was a few clean young men, encouraged by God-fearing and God-honored mothers and they began to go out and started a campaign for clean speech and clean living, and in a few years the vocahi lary of the nation was changed, a new song was in their mouths and they were praising the name of the Lord with clean hearts pure minds a...d. clean speech. During the great Welsh revival a fcw year ago, for many months you could not hear a profane word on the public streets in Wales. Everybody was talking about the great revival. Everybody seemed to be interested in that which was interesting thousands of miners The miners were a godless kind of men. They were very profane in al' their speech and it is said that wher ther speech and it is said that wher the great light of God shone into their hearts and when twenty thousand of these men came up to the different churches in Wales and asked for admission, all Wales was, stirred as never before. It is said that even the 82 horses were terribly puzzled because the men no longer drove them by ob-scenity and kicks. They had not ve learned the new vocabulary. Johr Bunyan was so profane that when he began to swear his companions shuddered, but when Bunyan found "The Christ he lost the swearing habit and became an immortal dreamer. When a man becomes thoroughly converted he quits awearing and cursing. He soon learns that profanity and pure speech do not go together well. When the Lord God gave to Moses the Ten Commandiments, one of them was Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord, thy God, in vain, for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain. When men lears to know God they will only speak His name with reverence in the spirit of true worship. The Ten Commandments are a revelation of God Himself of His character. His will, and His relation to mankind. He claimed authority in the earliest times, and He still claims authority. God says, "Ye shall not swear by My name falsely. neither shalt thou profane the name of the Lord, thy God." Again, the Word spoke by the prophet Jeremiah, saying, "Because of swearing the land mourneth," All through the scrip-tures we are commanded not to blaspheme the name of the Lord. We learn from James that even professing Christians get into the habit of profanity. He says, Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and curs-ing. My brothers, these things ought not to be. When our thoughts are clean, our lives will most certainly not to be. clean. You say we are in a free untry. INDIAN RUNNER DUCKS GOOD EGG LAYERS

Ma

Those who have raised other breeds of ducks with good success sometimes fail utterly with Indian Runners and complain of their being delicate, writes a correspondent of the Rural New Yorker. If a few rules are followed there is no trouble in raising a large per cent of the hatches. Of course it begins with the breeding stock. Select vigorous mature birds and mate those not akin, five ducks to one drake, and not too large a flock, so every one has a good chance at the feed and water. Let water be clean and shells kept before them always. Cracked corn is good for a night feed, especially in cold weather, but the main feed should be mash, never sloppy, but just to the Indian runner ducks are not mar-ket birds. They are called the Leg-horn of the duck family and are well worth raising for egg produc-tion. However, they make fine meat and are much preferred by many to the larger breeds. A swimming pond is not necessary for them, but a bath once in awhile greatly im-proves their appearance and is much enjoyed. The box score:

Confine them in a house or small yard at night, and do not let them go before 10 a. m., when all eggs will be laid and can be gathered, washed and put in the cellar. Duck eggs spoll very quickly and must be kept cool. If to be used for hatching turn every day, and do not keep them over a week if a good hatch is expected. Indian Runners are excellent layers. If fed for it they will begin at four and one-half months old and lay steadily a good part of the year. The eggs bring as much as or more than fancy white hens' eggs in the city market. Duck eggs require much moisture during incubation. If placed under a hen dip in warm water every fourth day and the twenty-eighth day wet nest thoroughly. If in incubator sprinkle with warm water every other day. Ducklings pip the shell and then lie Idle twenty-four hours or longer before coming out. When taken from the incubator place in a warm brooder or in a covered box in a warm room and never let them chill. If hatched with a hen do not let her raise them; she will kill more than she saves.

The first feed, given four or five times a day, is equal parts dry bread and oat flake moistened with warm water. After three days omit brend and substitute equal parts bran and cornmeal. After three days more give the same feed as to laying ducks, except that 1 per cer' zrit is added. Warm water is given with each feed in very shallow dishes. Hot sun, wind and wet are fatal. Ducks grow rapid-ly and get their second feathers at about twelve weeks. Weight is about three pounds at ten weeks, and all culls and surplus drads can be marketed at that time.
