FARMERS UNION WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

FAVOR "BUY-A-BALE" MOVEMENT

A GOOD MEETING

Almost Every Section of County Was Represented at Meeting Held Here Yesterday

The meeting of the Anderson county farmers' union held in this city yesterday, was one of the best this city has ever had the pleasure of entertaining.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted: Resolved: That the Anderson County Farmers' Union, in session in the city of Anderson, does heartily endorse the "buy-a-bale" movement.

A WARM WELCOME FOR DR. VINES

Baptist Congregation Told Their Pastor of How Glad They Were to See Him Return Home

At the First Baptist church last night there was an immense outpouring of friends to give a "welcome home" to Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Vines.

The spirit of the occasion was most cordial. The addresses of welcome were full of fun and at the same time touched a deep note of kindly feeling and fine sentiment.

When the services were concluded everyone of those in attendance said that they had derived as much pleasure from the occasion as either Dr. or Mrs. Vines, but it hardly seems that this was possible since Dr. Vines said that he had never experienced a more pleasant evening in his life.

SCHEME CONSIDERED FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

ANDERSON MAY TRY A NEW PLAN

OF HOME CREDITS

People in Other States Say They Have Solved Problem of Getting Pupils to Work at Home

While the school children may not like the plan so well at first, it is safe to say that every parent of a school child in Anderson county will be enthusiastic when they hear of the new "home credit" plan which has recently been inaugurated in some of the public schools of the country.

While the system is perfectly simple, it requires some time to explain it. However, it provides that every pupil will be given a certain number of credits for performing simple tasks at home.

An Iowa newspaper tells of what has been accomplished there: "Harry S. McVicker, county superintendent of Keokuk county, has solved the problem of inducing youngsters to work cheerfully at home."

"The way it works is something like this: Whenever little Johnny feeds the pigs, or carries in an arm load of wood, or carries a horse, or studies his lesson at home, or does something else to make himself useful he gets a credit at the school he attends.

"When a youngster has earned 200 credits in this way he gets a certificate of reward from the county superintendent and when he has earned 500 credits he gets a diploma of honor.

"A list of fifty important tasks a youngster can perform at home or in the yard has been formulated and the schedule of credits arranged. Not more than 50 per cent on the grades can be earned, so a pupil cannot earn his way through school by home work alone.

"The interest in this unique system has become intense in the county, according to Superintendent McVicker. Youngsters who formerly could be hardly dragged to work have manifested a feverish appetite for performing home tasks.

"We are finding that it gives the children a joy in their work and devotion to home effort." Superintendent McVicker said in discussing the results he had obtained.

NEW CHAIR CARS MAKING A HIT

Public Pleased With New Services On P. & N. Lines Which Began Yesterday Afternoon

The new parlor cars on the Piedmont & Northern line railroad made their appearance yesterday and it hardly expresses the pleasure of the public to say that the traveling public are "tickled to death."

In yesterday's Intelligencer there was a typographical error in the advertisement of T. L. Cely Co., which made it appear as if they were selling the famous Stetson hats for three dollars; whereas almost every body knows that no Stetson hat is ever sold at less than three dollars and a half.

FORMAL OPENING OF THE FITTING SCHOOL

FRAZER'S PROSPECTS ARE VERY BRIGHT

SESSION IS BEGUN

Pupils Enrolled Yesterday. Instructors Took Charge of the Classes—Work Begins Today

The Frazer Fitting School opened its doors for the third session of its work Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. Quite a number of interested persons were present and the occasion was one for congratulation in every respect.

The devotion exercise were conducted by the Rev. D. Witherspoon Dodge, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church. The entire city council, including the mayor, was present and each one responded with words of greeting and well wishing.

The faculty of the institution is as follows: Rev. Dr. W. H. Frazer, headmaster and professor of Bible; Prof. E. Manly Parks, principal and instructor in science and history; Prof. S. M. Harden, instructor in English, German and Greek; Prof. A. R. Banks, instructor in Latin and mathematics.

BELTON FAIR IS BEING BOSTED

Automobile Drivers of Belton To Make a Second Trip In Interest of Coming Event

So well pleased were they with the success of the first "booster excursion" run in Belton automobiles for the purpose of advertising the Belton fair, that people of that enterprising town have decided to conduct a second excursion of the same kind.

The Belton Brass band, which is easily one of the best bands in the state, will accompany the party, riding in the Belton Coca-Cola plant's automobile truck.

CELY CO'S AD

A correction in T. L. Cely Co's ad. In yesterday's Intelligencer there was a typographical error in the advertisement of T. L. Cely Co., which made it appear as if they were selling the famous Stetson hats for three dollars.

SAFE CRACKERS ARE WORKING AT SENEGA

THREE ATTEMPTS MADE TO OPEN SAFE

BUT TO NO AVAIL

Officers of Surrounding Counties Have Been Asked To Round-up All Suspects Seen In Cities

Word has reached Anderson that the police of Senega would like the local officers to keep their eyes open in an effort to catch the safe-crackers wanted for taking part in an attempt to crack the safe of the Seneca Cotton Oil mill.

The following article from the Greenville News of yesterday tells of the three attempts made by the thieves to get into the vault: "Three explosions were made between midnight Sunday night and daylight yesterday morning by safe-crackers in an attempt to enter a safe vault at the Seneca cotton oil mill."

No one can recall any strange men about the place the night of the robbery. The plan was pretty well formed, it seems, and but for the fact that the safe proved of stronger fiber than had expected, the robbers would have doubtless made a big haul.

MURDER CASES HEARD IN CRIMINAL COURT

ULYSSES DAVIS CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER

MAKING PROGRESS

Bozeman Is Now Being Tried For Killing of Matthew Jones At Mt. Olive Church In July

When criminal court convened yesterday morning Judge Memminger delivered his charge to the jury in the case of Ulysses Davis, charged with the murder of Jim Emmerson.

This killing occurred in North Anderson on August 20, following services at a negro church. A large party of negroes had been to preaching and as they were returning home some negro struck Jim Emmerson behind the ear with a rock, fracturing his skull and causing concussion of the brain, killing the negro instantly.

The next case taken up was that of 'Newel' Williams, a young negro from Pelzer charged with indecent exposure of the person. His trial lasted but a short time and in this case the jury returned a verdict of guilty. Williams was sentenced to 18 months on the county chain-gang.

Os Bozeman, charged with shooting and killing Matthew Jones, is now being tried. Bozeman was arraigned yesterday morning just before the noon hour and his case occupied the attention of the court till adjournment yesterday evening.

The killing occurred at Mt. Olive church in Savannah township on July 26. According to the testimony offered yesterday Bozeman had the father of Matthew Jones to enter the church and that his son had a man on the outside desired to see him. When Matthew Jones came from the building he and Bozeman had some words, following which the fatal shot was fired. The attorneys for the defendant have made a strong plea of self defense.
