DON'T FAIL TO SEE THE OPENING BILL ON MONDAY ENTITLED

A trip to Panama

The following article clipped from the Asheville Gazette, will give you an idea of the kind of performance to expect Monday:

"IN PANAMA" Proves Popular at the Majestic.

"In Panama" the rollicking musical comedy tabloid show at the Majestic theatre for the first three days this week, proved decidedly popular at the matinee and night performances yesterday. Some of the song numbers were encored so often that the show had to be stopped while the management requested the audience to desist. La Neva, the operatic singer with the company rendered several pleasing selections. The show is clean, the wardrobe good, scenes cleverly arranged, and the chorus is well drilled and undeniably pretty. In addition to the regular tabloid show, Miss Louise List, the girl with the baritone voice, rendered several new selections. The combined bill will hold the boards at the Majestic today and tomorrow changing Thursday."

The best act that has as yet been offered in Anderson for the same price as usual. Enjoy a good, hearty laugh, it will do you good. The $300.00 Piano Will go Saturday night, you may be the lucky person. Buy a ticket. We give the chance free.

Electric City Sparklets

Clemson Boys May Camp Here.

It was definitely decided last night that an invitation would be forwarded to the cadet corps of Clemson college to come to this city during the latter part of October or the first of November and go into camp for a week here. Heretofore it has been customary for the corps to go to Columbia either in October or November and to go into camp while the state fair is in progress but it has been found that such a trip will be impossible this year therefore the graduates of the institution now living in Anderson got busy last night and perfected the plan for bringing the battalion here. There is but little doubt that the invitation will be accepted and Anderson will have the pleasure of entertaining the "soldier boys."

Anderson Needs Map of County.

A party of business men were discussing conditions around town yesterday when a stranger stepped up and asked as to where a map of Anderson county might be obtained. No one could give him any information although one man vouchsafed the information that such a map had been made about 1895 or something like that year. This provoked a discussion on the part of the business men present and they all agreed that such a map is badly needed, likewise a map of the city of Anderson is almost a necessity. There is a chance for some one in Anderson to make a little money by having this map prepared and at the same time to do the city a genuine service.

Insurance Man Visited the City.

H. W. Long, a representative of the Southeastern Tariff Association of Atlanta, Ga., is spending a few days in Anderson inspecting some of the new buildings which are now in the course of construction here. Yesterday Mr. Long went through the new building of the telephone company and inspected that place. Later he will visit several of the other new buildings being constructed and will inspect them so that they may be properly listed in the next bulletin of the association. Mr. Long says that the rate at which Anderson is growing is remarkable.

"Buy-a-Bale" Is Gaining Ground.

The "Buy-a-Bale" movement has met with a tremendous reception in every part of the south and as a result southern farmers are far better fixed right now than they would have been had not the people of the towns and cities done their share toward holding up the price of cotton. Parker & Holt, one of the best known firms in the city yesterday announced that the store would accept cotton at 10 cents per pound for merchandise and on accounts and Frank M. Unger of the Columbia Tailoring Co., has joined the association by buying a bale at 10 cents per pound. The movement is gaining ground every day.

Florida People Here Yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Carter and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Bailey of Hardaway, Fla., and Miss Katherine Carter of Madison, N. C., were in Anderson yesterday on an automobile tour of the country. They say that they found the roads in splendid shape and that there are almost as many tourists on the road now as in the midst of summer.

The Clerk Has Started System.

Having become tired of attorneys in Anderson and from other parts of the county coming into the office and taking out papers which were sometimes never returned and other times hard to find, Jas. N. Pearman, clerk of court for Anderson county, has had a large book printed which has space for the attorney's name, the nature of the paper which he secured the date on which it was taken out and the time when it was returned. Thus, if a paper comes up missing in the office of the clerk of court he consults this register and finds the name of the attorney responsible for the document. Mr. Pearman says the plan is proving to be a success.

Crops Helped By the Rains.

"Late cotton and vegetables have been helped wonderfully by the recent rains," said J. W. Rothrock yesterday. In his travels all over the county in his capacity as county agricultural agent, Mr. Rothrock has an opportunity to come in contact with the farmers and to inspect the growing crops and he therefore has a more accurate idea of crop conditions than any one else in the city. Mr. Rothrock says that all indications point to favorable weather for the next few days and he believes that the farmers are going to get almost twice as much cotton as they had counted on.

Mr. Mattison Is At the Convention.

M. M. Mattison, general agent for the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, left yesterday for Atlantic City to attend the annual convention of general agents which convenes in that city Tuesday for a three days session. From Atlantic City Mr. Mattison will go to the home office at Newark, N. J., and will spend several days in New York before returning to Anderson.

Anderson Has Amethyst Find.

Not long ago a gentleman in Anderson received a very handsome amethyst in rough shape from a gentleman living in the lower part of the county and when John M. Hubbard, a local jeweler, went to New York a few days ago, he carried the stone with him, had it cut and polished and mounted in a pretty Tiffany mounting. When he returned he brought with him one of the prettiest rings ever seen in An-

Anderson and as soon as anyone might well be proud. The amethyst was sent to the Anderson man because of his kindness to the other gentleman during the old soldier's reunion when that body met here in May. It was found in Anderson and is absolutely a beautiful stone. Its value is probably $40 or $50.

Belton People To Hold a Reception.

Anderson people connected with the mill baseball league have received invitations to a banquet which the Belton baseball team of this association will tender to the manager and captain of each team in the league and to the officials of the league together with the newspaper men of each of the towns in the mill league. The evening is to take place at Belton next Friday night and it is probable that it will be a highly enjoyable event. The people of Belton, interested in the league have aided very liberally in the preparations for the affair and the Belton team plans to make every visitor enjoy the night.

Depression Here About Forgotten

Notwithstanding the fact that the business men of the city have been somewhat worried for several weeks past about the business conditions prevailing around town they all forgot this pessimism yesterday simply because they were too busy waiting on customers to worry about "hard times." One Anderson merchant said last night that he had heard so much talk about the lack of money that he was beginning to believe there was some truth in it, but after his splendid business yesterday he had decided that it was all rubbish. And several other merchants agreed with him.

Parade Watched Six Unfortunates

If there is anything in the world that a negro likes to see it is to watch another negro in trouble, according to a gentleman standing on the streets yesterday when a chain-gang guard passed with six negroes in tow taking them to the county jail to serve sentences ranging from three months to ten years. Yesterday being the last day of the annual county convicts' race, the convicted ones were carried out to the jail to begin their sentences. As the guard passed through the streets about 100 negroes fell in behind and walked to the edge of town to see the last of the unfortunates men.

Easy Enough To Rent Buildings.

E. P. Vandiver, who has charge of renting the store rooms in the new Watson-Vandiver building on Main street, said last night that he was at a loss to account for people complaining about so many new buildings going up and prognosticating that they could not be rented. In the new building referred to there are four large store rooms and before the building was completed three of them had been rented. Yesterday H. H. Rosenberg closed a contract for the fourth one and within the next few days Rosenberg's Tailor shop will be moved from Whitner street to the new building. This would seem to indicate that there is yet room in Anderson for additional store rooms.

Maybe Abattoir Row is Settled.

Maybe the question of the Anderson abattoir is settled and then again, possibly it is not, since dozens of misunderstandings have arisen about this matter long after it was thought that the entire affair had been settled. At a special meeting of the council, held Friday afternoon, that body agreed to allow Mr. Henderson to increase the price for slaughtering from 80 cents per head to 90 cents per head and he is to allow all parts of the animal to go to the butcher if desired.
