COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

IT'S GRANDMOTHER'S RECIPe TO KEEP HER LOCKS DARK, GLOSSY, THICK

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Use Razor-Backs For Armor Plate

One Anderson county farmer spending yesterday in Anderson says that he is going to suggest to the foreign countries now involved in the war that they use razor-back axes for armor plate instead of the metal construction and he says that they will find this to be far more satisfactory if they have the same experience that he has met with. He had a fine Berkshire pig and also a razor back. He needed some fresh meat and therefore got his gun and went out to the hog pen where he took a shot at the Berkshire. The pig dropped instantly and then the gentleman planted a shot squarely between the eyes of the razor back. The hog kept on eating corn. The muzzle was then placed behind the razor back's eyebrows and again the shot was fired. The hog merely looked at his tormentor in a reproachful manner and continued his luncheon. The Anderson farmer swears that he shot the hog eight more times and that the animal is still alive, all of which may be true, with emphasis on the "may."

Give One Day To the Children

Almost every man and woman in Anderson can well afford to give one day to the homeless and helpless little children of the state, without a father or mother, and it therefore behooves everyone in the city to remember that tomorrow is "Work Day for the Orphan." This day has long been observed in the two Carolinas and every one heeding the call is supposed to give his earnings of this day to the orphanage of his particular church. In South Carolina there are four important institutions of this kind, the Connie Maxwell, Baptist, at Greenwood; the Episcopal Orphanage at Yorkville and the Thoswell Orphanage, Presbyterian, at Clinton. One day's work makes but little difference one way or the other to the average business man but the sum total in that one day will mean much to some poor little friendless one. Remember that tomorrow is the day and try to do a particularly good day's work and give the proceeds to this cause.

Franklin Car Made Test Run

Fred Cooper, driving a car for R. N. Tanehill Company of Greenville, passed through the city yesterday morning driving on the 100-mile endurance test which all Franklin cars must make. In accordance with a National campaign the Franklin company advertised yesterday that their dealers in every section would make a 100-mile continuous, low gear run in a Franklin car. The stipulations about the run was that the engine must not be stopped and that the entire trip must be made on low gear. The party left Greenville yesterday morning at 8 o'clock and returned the same way, making the run in three hours.

Is Dr Hopkins In Anderson?

A rumor is heard here that Dr. J. R. Hopkins, a wealthy metropolitan physician, is in Anderson while he is being searched for in other sections by Pinkerton detectives. The story goes that Dr. Hopkins is being sued for divorce in New York by his wife and that for the last few days he has been under the constant eye of three Pinkerton detectives while he was stopping at the Ocoee Inn in Pickens. It is said that Dr. Hopkins yesterday secured an automobile, which happened to be the only one in town at that time, and slipped away and it is believed that he may have come to Anderson so far as is now known the three detectives have not appeared here as yet.

To Sell Brick For the Theatre

A telegram was received yesterday from J. A. Cook, of the Georgia-Carolina brick company of Augusta, Ga., in which Mr. Cook advised that he would be in Anderson today to confer with the theatre contractor as to the brick for the front of the new theatre. The order for the brick to be used in this building has already been placed with the Pendleton kiln, but some especially fine white brick are required for the front of the building and this is Mr. Cook's mission in coming to Anderson. Splendid progress is being made with the construction of the new theatre.

"Pretty Peter" Is No Gentleman

"Pretty Peter," a handsome parrot, owned by a gentleman living on So. 4th McDuffie street has for years enjoyed the reputation of being a perfect gentleman, but according to the story told yesterday by the owner of the bird, he has decided that Peter is no gentleman, notwithstanding that he answers to the pronoun, "he," and has always been referred to in Anderson as a masculine bird. When a fresh parrot egg was found in a cage three mornings, hand-ringing, no gentleman parrot would do it, at least not in Anderson.

Says Anderson Is Better Than Others

A northern capitalist owning extensive interests in Anderson county, was in the city yesterday for a few hours, following his return from an extensive Southern trip. The gentleman says that Anderson's business men, instead of taking a gloomy view of the conditions here when compared with other cities in the South, he says that Anderson is in far better shape than Columbia and Savannah and several other cities of the section, and that the town looks like it is booming when compared to them.

No For Season In Mill League

At one time it appeared that everything had been arranged for a post-season of baseball games between the winner of the mill league cup in Anderson and the winner of the trophy in the Greenville league but it was said yesterday that the prospects for such a set-to are not now as bright as they were a few days ago, and that the attempt may be dropped. The fans of Anderson will regret to hear of this as considerable interest had been manifested on the part of the sport-loving public of the city.

Pretty Wedding at Campbell's Store

A pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at Campbell's store when Miss Irene Bradshaw became the bride of Paul E. Bradshaw of Anderson. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, W. C. Campbell and Rev. H. C. Martin officiated. Only a few intimate friends were present. Immediately following the conclusion of the ceremony the couple left via automobile on their honeymoon. They will visit Asheville, Hendersonville and other North Carolina points and then will make their home in Anderson.

Judge Prince Made Very Strong Charge

Judge Prince made a very strong charge yesterday night says that George E. Prince, now presiding over the court of general sessions for that county, made one of the strongest charges to the grand jury when court convened that Lexington people ever heard. Judge Prince stressed the need of better educational facilities and more attention for South Carolina children and it is said that the people of Lexington were wonderfully well pleased with the effect which Judge Prince's effort had.

Republicans Hold State Convention

Republicans in South Carolina are just about as much interested in a convention in Columbia on September 29 as were the Democrats a few weeks ago in their convention, notwithstanding the fact that there will be considerable difference in the personnel of the two conventions. According to the announcement issued by the Secretary of the Convention, Anderson county is entitled to nine delegates to the convention but who these nine are nobody knows.

Mr. Frierson Will Go to Baltimore

Millen Frierson, who has been in the employ of Evans' Pharmacy, No. 2 in Anderson for several years, has resigned his position and will leave the city today for Baltimore where he will study medicine in one of the foremost colleges of the country. Mr. Frierson has a number of friends in Anderson and they are glad to see him take the step.

Wives of Elks Received Cards

The Anderson lodge of Elks, No. 1236, yesterday mailed out to all Elks' handsomely printed cards in which an invitation was extended to the last members of every Elk's family to attend the ladies' receptions on Tuesday. The invitations urge that the ladies make themselves at home at the local club house, on the corner of Sharpe and McDuffie streets and assures them a warm welcome.

Cotton Market Still Declines

The cotton market yesterday declined a little and cotton fell to 8 1-2 cents on the local market. Wednesday it sold for 8 3-4 and the business men of the city and the farmers with regret learned of the further decline yesterday. Practically no cotton is being brought to the Anderson market and the offer of 10 cents per pound from some of the merchants and business men of the city does seem to be exciting much interest.

Give Mains To the City

The property owners on Prevost and Linley streets met several days ago and after discussing the matter at some length decided to request the Anderson city council to accept a deed to the sewer mains on these two streets. The action is taken so that the city can force all property owners living within a certain distance of the mains to make sewer connections.

Many Birds South Bound

Crowds of people gathered on the streets of Anderson last night to watch flocks of white birds, large as ducks and larger, flying in a Southern direction. There were countless hundreds of the birds and unfamiliar to the people gazing upward at them. This is taken as an indication that winter is fast approaching and that cold weather will soon be experienced. The birds were as large as turkeys and flew at an express train rate.

AN ANDERSON FARMER PRESENTS SITUATION WOULD NOT LET ALL FARMERS GET BENEFIT PLANT MORE GRAIN

Pendleton Planter Says That Farmers Who Do Not Plant At Least 10 Acres Be Excluded

According to a letter received in Anderson yesterday by The Intelligencer, and also a communication received by F. M. Smith, the seedsmen of J. C. Stripling of Pendleton, S. C., who says that Anderson county farmers are allowed 10 cents per acre for seed cotton, by the Buy-a-Bale movement and individuals of the city, unless they can show that they have at least ten acres of their land in small grain. He thinks that this would go a very long way towards encouraging the farmers in the planting of more small grain and says that in this lies the salvation of the South.

In his letter to Mr. Smith, Col. Stripling says: "One more day with the drilling machine will have every acre of cotton on the whole plantation with three rows of oats between rows of cotton, except a few acres left for wheat and barley. All my land sown in small grain last year now has a good crop of pea vines growing on it. No renter or tenant farmer should receive any benefit from the Buy-a-Bale movement without first showing a certificate that he has at least 8 or 10 acres of cotton land in oats or other small grain."

Along this same line, Col. Stripling has addressed a communication to The Intelligencer in which he says that the demonstration on the part of the general public and the interest being supplied by Clemson College should cause every farmer in the county to throw his hat into the air and shout "Glory."

Col. Stripling in connection with his work about small grain, says that the planting of small grain in connection with the cotton movement, were followed, it would result in the county being supplied with more feed-stuff and more stock and the cotton acreage reduced in proportion to the encouragement offered the "Buy-a-Bale" movement and the help offered thereby will help only those cotton growers who make an effort to help themselves. All the stock growing and the dairying as you have the cotton growers and all will be well. Within a radius of 5 miles of Pendleton (and there are other Piedmont sections similar) there are more than 1,200 acres of splendid grass lands, well set in Bermuda and other grasses and clover that are utilized only to a partial extent for stockraising and dairying.

Col. Stripling points to the fact that those generous of entering the dairy business can get all the help they need in the matter of selecting cows from Clemson College and also calls the attention of the farmer to the fact that dairying will yield monthly returns and handsome profits while cotton will only yield yearly returns and sometimes no returns at all. He also emphasizes the fact that dairying will tend to improve farm lands rather than to injure it and that it will also materially improve the farmer. He believes that this is the solution of the "high cost of living problem" and advises every farmer in Anderson county to heed his remarks and watch the results.

Preparing for Battle

Washington, Sept. 24.—Advice to the war department today said Carranza was concentrating his forces at Escobedo and that the army was preparing to cross the Rio Grande communication between these points has been severed.
