Clemson College urges the farmers in all parts of South Carolina to put a considerable part of their land in Oats this Fall.

Mr. W. L. Hutchinson, professor of Agronomy of Clemson College, states that the climate and soils of this State are well suited to oats. They are adapted to a wide range of soils and good yields may be had on lands varying from sandy to heavy clay loams.

Oats may follow cow peas, corn and cotton, so that practically all the farm is available for an oat crop, if desired, and there will still be time left next year for all Summer crops. Buy your

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS TO OBSERVE FLAG DAY

LOCAL LODGES WILL HOLD EXERCISES

DATE IS OCTOBER 7

Lodges in All Parts of Country Will Hold Fitting Ceremonials On That Day

A pleasing innovation at the meeting of all Knights of Pythias lodges is the introduction of the "flag ceremonial" that was adopted at the meeting of the supreme lodge held at Winnipeg, Manitoba. Greenville Knights will observe this unique ceremony saluting the colors on and after Oct. 7, the date set for the introduction of it in the lodge meetings.

The "flag ceremonial" will add greatly to the impressiveness of the proceedings of the Pythians. The statute as adopted says that the flag of the country in which the lodge is located shall be displayed at the organized branch of the order in Canada.

The Service

The statute gives the ceremonies as follows: The flag of the country in which the lodge is located shall be displayed and saluted at all lodge meetings. Prior to the opening of the lodge the chancellor commander orders the master-at-arms to bring in the flag, saying as follows: "Master-at-arms, you will retire to the ante-room and bring in the flag of the country."

The master at arms then goes to the ante-room and returns with the flag of the country on a staff, the ensign being unfurled. It is brought into the castle hall and is placed opposite the station of the chancellor commander.

To Salute the Flag The chancellor commander open the ceremony by ordering the members to stand up, saying: "Brothers you will salute the flag of the country." The members will salute the flag in unison, saying: "Long may it wave." After the conclusion of the salutation, the flag will be placed in a socket at the right of the chancellor-commander. There it will remain throughout the session.

Effective October 7th The new ceremony, according to the Pythian regulations goes into effect 60 days after the adoption of the statute by the supreme lodge. The supreme lodge met at Winnipeg on August 7. Accordingly October 7 will see the inauguration of the most patriotic ceremony in all the subordinate lodges. The homage will willingly be paid to "Old Glory" at the meeting of the two lodges.

CIRCUS TO BRING DUMB ACTORS

Ringling Bros. Have Whole Company of Animal Performers Including Clowns

Trixie Congo, is a modest, demure little miss despite the fact that she is the leading lady of the troupe of comedians whose antics are laughed at by young and old in every state in the Union. Trixie is one of the stars of Ringling Brothers' zoo and she is to appear here Thursday, October 8.

Trixie is only one of a number of wild animal actors who will amuse the children and grown-ups. Never before in their career as showmen have the Ringling Brothers offered so many trained wild animal features as they are presenting this season. In addition to Trixie Congo, the wonderful educated orang-outang, there are two marvelous boxing and wrestling kangaroos, a troupe of trained baby elephants, five herds of performing elephants, who do most every kind of feat from playing baseball to dancing the tango; two troupes of educated seals and sea lions, and a number of marvelously trained herds of horses and ponies.

The menagerie is greatly enlarged and now totals 108 cages, housing more than 1,000 animals, many of them rare specimens never before seen in captivity. There are 41 elephants, 32 camels, five giraffes, 10 zebras and a large number of lions, tigers, leopards, pumas, rhinoceros, gau, antelope and other interesting jungle inhabitants.

The circus this season is featuring a massive new spectacle, Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, produced at a cost of $1,000,000 and requiring a cast of 1,250 characters and 300 dancing girls. The ballet is under the personal direction of Ottokar Bartik, ballet master of the Metropolitan opera New York, and the music has been written by Felix Effendi, late bandmaster to the Khedive of Egypt. The spectacle is said to be the most elaborate ever staged under canvas.

REVIVAL IS PLANNED

Private Prayer Meetings for This Week

The Rev. J. W. Speake, pastor of the St. John's Methodist church, has meetings to be held in the church, but there are many other meetings to be held at the homes of various members of the Methodist church and of other churches. These meetings are to be held simultaneously at the different residences and each will be presided over by one worker and one leader.

For Monday afternoon, starting at 4 p. m. meetings will be held as follows:

At the home of Mr. Ira G. Watson, 121 Ellis street, Mrs. B. D. Dodd is the worker in charge and Rev. D. Witherspoon Dodge is the leader; at the home of Mr. B. B. Gossett, in North Anderson with Mrs. S. L. Prince as the worker and Rev. S. W. Danner in charge, as leader; at the home of Mr. F. D. Skelton, with Mrs. J. H. Anderson as worker, and Dr. W. M. Frazer as leader; at the home of Mr. J. M. Davis, on Calhoun street, Mrs. F. W. Folkel as worker, and Rev. J. W. Speake as leader; at the home of Mr. J. B. Marshall, on McDuffie street with Mrs. K. M. Shargo as worker and Rev. J. M. Garrison as leader; at the home of Mrs. W. C. Broyles as worker, and Mr. F. M. Burgett, the leader; at the home of Mr. W. C. Martin, 87 McDuffie street with Mrs. J. T. Hornmond as worker and Dr. John P. Vines as leader; at the home of Mr. G. E. Turner, 131 Murray avenue, with Mrs. J. P. Hutchison as worker and Mr. D. S. Lyon as leader; at the home of Mr. J. R. Paul, Earle street with Mrs. W. R. Garrison as worker and Rev. W. T. Belvin as leader.

This is the list for the meetings of Monday afternoon which will start promptly at 4 o'clock and last for only an hour or so. Be this means the people in all parts of the city are reached and the plea of inconvience is avoided.
