ANDERSON JURIST MADE IMPRESSION

Judge George E. Prince Delivered Forceful and Convincing Charge to the Grand Jury

Recognized for his ability in Anderson as a jurist, other towns and counties in South Carolina are learning that there is no more capable man on the South Carolina bench than Judge Geo. E. Prince who made a great impression a few weeks ago at Lexington and the following dispatch seems to indicate that he has done likewise at Saluda:

Saluda, Oct. 6.—Fall term of court of general sessions convened here Monday, with Judge Prince presiding. Solicitor George Ball Timmerman missed connections and did not arrive in Saluda till afternoon, Judge Prince in the meantime devoting the morning to delivering his charge to the grand jury.

Without doubt Judge Prince's charge to the grand jury excited more comment and made a more profound impression than that of any judge delivered here in years. No need for hurry being apparent, an account of the solicitor's absence, he took occasion to touch upon very nearly every subject in which the grand jury has jurisdiction, and he flayed lawlessness.

Much of his speech was epigrammatic. In the beginning he charged the grand jury with responsibility for existing conditions, good or bad, as regards official affairs of the county. Speaking of the work of the supervisor, in general vein, Judge Prince said: "The supervisor should be the best business man in the county; the other clerical work that he does for the business management of the entire county. He must issue all the checks, but sometimes is elected because he can shake more hands or tell more jokes." "If you have the right man, you do not pay him enough. If you haven't such a man, you pay him too much."

"Your supervisor may wreck the finances of your county, a poor school superintendent may wreck the future of your children and your greatest wealth consists in your children," he said in speaking of the importance of education. "Some counties pay their superintendent of education $900 while teachers in those counties get $2,000 to supervise the schools of one town or city."

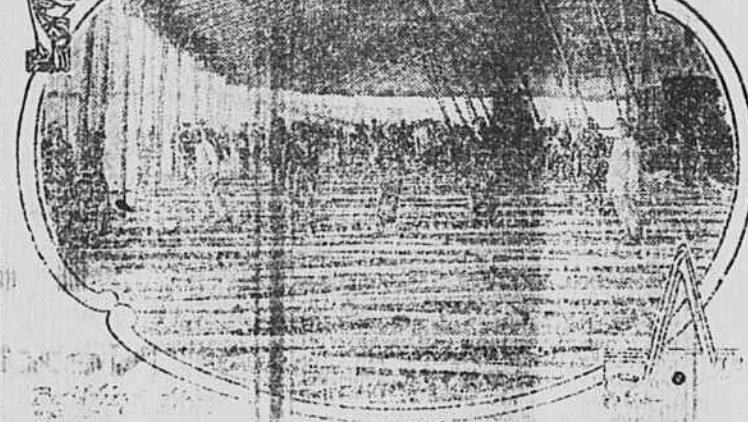

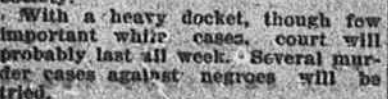

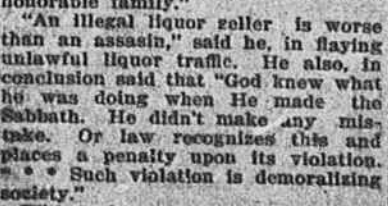

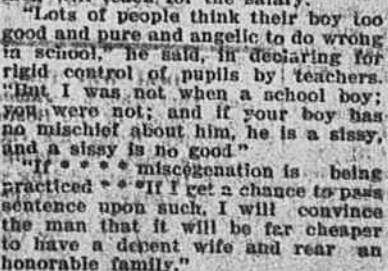

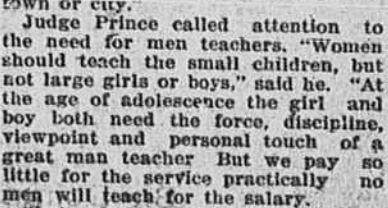

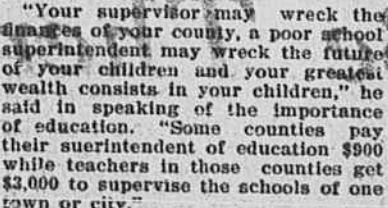

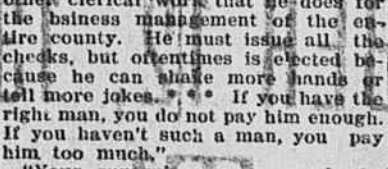

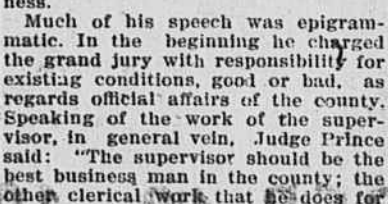

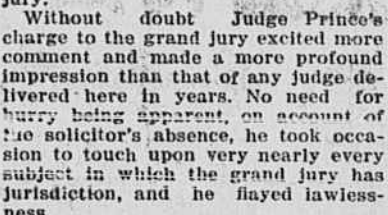

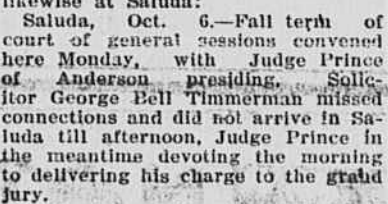

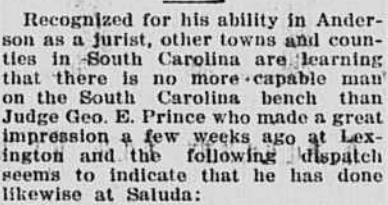

Judge Prince called attention to the need for men teachers. "Women should teach the small children, but not large girls or boys," said he. "At the age of adolescence the girl and boy both need the force, discipline, viewpoint and personal touch of a great man teacher. But we pay so little for the service practically no men will teach for the salary."

"Lots of people think their boy too good and pure and angelic to do wrong in school," he said. "In declaring for rigid control of pupils by teachers. 'But I was not when a school boy; I was not; and if your boy has no mischief about him, he is a sissy, and a sissy is no good.'"

"If... miscegenation is being practiced... if I get a chance to pass sentence upon such, I will convince the man that it will be far cheaper to have a decent wife and rear an honorable family."

"An illegal liquor seller is worse than an assassin," said he, in flaying unlawful liquor traffic. He also, in conclusion said that "God knew what he was doing when He made the Sabbath. He didn't make any mistakes. Or law recognizes this and places a penalty upon its violation. Such violation is demoralizing society."

With a heavy docket, though few important white cases, court will probably last all week. Several murder cases against negroes will be tried.

BIGGEST SHOW IN THE WORLD HAS REACHED TOWN

RINGLING BROTHERS CIRCUS WILL EXHIBIT HERE TODAY. OVER 1350 PEOPLE

First Train Arrived This Morning at 4:00 A. M. and the "Big Top" is in Position.

While the greater portion of Anderson is lighting over its breakfast rolls this morning, the trains carrying the hosts of Ringling Brothers' circus will have reached the yards of the Southern Railroad and the day of the elephants and pink lemonade will have dawned. Local railway officials figure that the first section will begin to unload at about 4 a. m. and from that hour there promises to be a continuous caravan of animals, people and the paraphernalia of Spangletown from the tracks to the show grounds at the Moore place.

The circus will come here from Greenville on four trains, more than a mile in length and comprising 89 cars. In annexing itself to this city, it will add to the population more than 1,350 people, with herds of elephants and camels, 735 horses and 163 dens of wild animals. The first train will be that which transports the commissary department. Next in line of march to the circus grounds, will come the animals, the equipment, and all the parade and wardrobe wagons. Lastly will arrive the performers, all ring stock and the monster "elephant Pullmans" containing the pachyderms ranging in size from "Big Jennie" to "Baby Pete."

The "formal" opening of the Ringling engagement will begin with a street parade which will leave the grounds between 9:30 and 10 o'clock this morning. It promises to be the most impressive display ever seen here. Besides white strings of hand-some, tabernacle wagons and allegorical cages showing the finest specimens of the famous Ringling zoo, pony teams and one especially notable novelty—a team of sixteen camels wearing bit and bridle and driven like horses. Six bands and two callioles will furnish melody and the clowns will be on hand to please the youngsters.

The circus will give two performances today at 2 and 8 p. m. the doors opening an hour earlier to allow visitors time to visit the menagerie or enjoy the operatic concert played by the Ringling military band. The official program will open with the new spectacle of "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba" which is this season's big added feature. This will be presented from stages taking up nearly one-half of a main tent covering acres of ground and will be given with all the scenic and lighting effects of grand opera. More than 1,200 people will take part in the wordless play which in pantomime and great ensemble groups tells the story of Israel 1,000 years before the Christian era. A big feature of this production will be a ballet divertissement of 300 dancing girls. The professionals with their rich costuming, armored soldiery and cavalcades of horses in splendid trappings is said to be the most elaborate departure in pageantry ever done with a spectacle in this country.

The regular circus program will follow the fall of the curtain upon the "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba" spectacle. More than 400 artists will appear in the arena numbers which for two hours will occupy the rigging, three rings, interstages and hippodrome track. Throughout the performance a half hundred clowns will keep up a lullaby of fun and the whole show will move with that speed and kaleidoscopic effect characteristic of a Ringling presentation. Among the equestrian acts there will be a striking and unique feature found in the work of the Balkans, a troupe of naïf riders whose costumes and magnificent Arabian stallions are the marvel of audiences wherever they appear. Supplementing their act will be the riding of the beautiful Josephine Clarke, the dashing Miss Hodgins and petite Lulu Davenport.

The male riders will be led by Charles Augustus Clarke, who has, until this season, appeared only in England and on the continent. Of the acrobats the most daring are the Mirano, Andresen and Grau brothers in their perch acts performed fifty feet in the air. The aerialists include the Clarksons and the Nelson family, and in the Mexican wizard, Mirano, one finds the greatest slack-wire performer ever seen in America. There will be whole troupes of performing horses, elephants who play a game of baseball, 7 round posts by boxing kangaroos and the big scenic carnivals be brought to an end with races of every variety from that of all nations to the thundering chariot numbers.

A downtown ticket office will be opened early this morning and will be conducted all day at Evans' Pharmacy, corner Main and Whitner streets, where tickets may be secured for either performance at the same prices charged on the show grounds.

NATIONAL COTTON GOODS WEEK
IN ANDERSON OCTOBER 12 TO 17.

CONSENTED NOT TO TAKE THE DWELLING

MADE AWAY WITH COTTON AND A MULE.

NOT YET CAUGHT

Negro Employed by J. S. Fowler Tried to Make Wholesale Clean-Up of Possessions.

That the negro should be kind enough and considerate enough to leave the farm house still standing and not to carry the plantation away is a problem perplexing J. S. Fowler since he discovered that John Davenport, a negro, had bid him a fond adieu. That is to say, the negro may have left some such message for Mr. Fowler, although the Anderson man has not yet received it.

Tiring of his service on what is known as the Park place, a plantation operated by Mr. Fowler, Davenport concluded that he would seek pastures new and other climes and accordingly he selected enough cotton from the plantation to make four bales, carried to Earle's gin, purporting that it was his own, and made arrangements for getting away with his haul. He also selected the best mule on the place, an animal valued at about $125 and went to Hartwell, Ga., where he disposed of the mule to Berry Taylor a livestock dealer, for the sum of $65. It is presumed that he meant to come back and sell the cotton but evidently he became alarmed when he learned that information concerning his acts had been brought to Mr. Fowler and Davenport thereupon lit out for parts unknown.

Mr. Fowler went to Hartwell yesterday and recovered the mule and also got his cotton back but as yet he has not been able to lay hands on the aforesaid and aforementioned Davenport.

Discussing the matter yesterday Mr. Fowler said that it was truly remarkable he even found the farm and dwelling when he reached his plantation, inasmuch as the negro had such a "taking" way.

Sensitive, delicate people, invalids and children find it easy to take and pleasant in action. Results thoroughly satisfactory. Evans' Pharmacy, agents.

MORTGAGE INTO MANY MILLIONS

Filed Yesterday in Office of Clerk of Court Here, Amounts To Sum of $30,000,000.

The average Andersonian can hardly conceive of such an amount or for that matter of there being so much money in the whole world as at this time, but nevertheless a mortgage of $30,000,000 is now being recorded in the office of James N. Pearson, clerk of court for Anderson County.

The mortgage is given by the Southern Public Utilities Company of Charlotte, Greenville and Anderson, and is to the Farmers Loan & Trust Company of New York. It covers 18 typewritten pages and will require hard work on the part of several clerks for a whole day to record.

The mortgage is secured by the street car systems owned by the Southern Public Utilities Company in Charlotte, N. C., Greenville and Anderson and other holdings in Mecklenburg, Darlington, Forsyth, Catawba, Gaston and Davidson counties in North Carolina and Greenville, Anderson and Chester in South Carolina.

The paper bears the signature of F. V. Taylor as president of the Southern Public Utilities Company, W. C. Parker as secretary and their signatures are witnessed by E. C. Marshall and N. A. Cooke.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.
