Meeting Our Obligations

The expense of making the crops should be paid out of the crop.

No farmer would try to make Cotton without using Fertilizer.

The Fertilizer debt should be among the first debts paid.

HAND GIVES ADVICE TO STATE EDUCATORS

URGES THAT WORK NOT LAG THIS YEAR.

TEACHER'S DUTY

At Beginning of Session, He Urges That All Teachers Do the Best Work of Which Capable.

"If the teachers in Anderson County will read this letter and ponder over its contents," said J. B. Felton, county superintendent of education, "they will be greatly benefited and will be able to discharge their duties more faithfully."

The letter to which Mr. Felton refers was written by William H. Hand, of Columbia, in his capacity of State Inspector of High Schools, and says: "Dear Fellow Worker: The high schools throughout the State are about to enter upon their year's work. I hope for you the best of which you are capable, the unstinted support of your patrons, the responsive efforts of your pupils and the warm cooperation of your teachers. I would not presume to give advice but I beg the privilege of offering you encouragement and support in what you undertake. Here are a few things it might be well to keep in mind.

"Before any successful teaching can be done the teacher must get a personal hold upon his pupils and his patrons. Wholesome companionship between teacher and pupil and respected friendship between teacher and patron foreshadow success. Strive to know your pupils in their daily life, in their sports and in their day-dreams. You need to study, but you must not be a hermit.

"Give your pupils plenty of work and see that they do it, but do not overload them. A few subjects mastered are better than many subjects skimmed over. Five subjects are enough for any high school class. The best schools are coming to regard four major subjects enough. Skimming over work is demoralizing. Some of the subjects which seem to lend themselves especially to skimming are history, literature, physical geography and even Latin. Some teachers will run through a book of the Gallic war in half the time it takes other teachers but the latter will get twice as much out of the book Tarr's physical geography has in it ample work for ten months with daily recitations, yet a few teachers are unable to find enough in it for more than three recitations a week for nine months. Do not work for units. Twelve units in a three year course is enough.

"Preserve a rational balance between the humanities and the sciences. Five or six recitations a day in the languages and but one or two in the sciences do not suggest a well planned course. Manual training is as necessary to a good education as mere academic training. This work is gradually growing in this State.

"There are a few things every high school pupil ought to be able to do: To spell correctly the words making his vocabulary, to write a legible hand, to read with some expression to speak and write every-day English creditably to make simple arithmetical calculations neatly and accurately and to have some knowledge of the history and geography of his own country. Until a pupil can do these things it seems unwise to put him to other tasks.

"The school studies are important, but there are more important things than these. Character-building comes first. Manly and womanly virtues come ahead of academic studies. Good citizens are needed more than good scholars."

Cost Kept Down—Quality Kept Up.

No better medicine could be made for coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, tickling throat, bronchitis, etc., than Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. That's why they can't improve the quality and war or no war, the price remains the same. E. J. Sargent, Dallas, Tex., says: "I believe Foley's Honey and Tar has no equal for it completely relieved me of all symptoms of tuberculosis and my cough has entirely disappeared." Don't accept any substitutes for Foley's Honey and Tar is the best. Evans' Pharmacy agents.

In Memory of Mrs. Polly Hicks.

God in His all-wise providence, saw fit on September 29, 1914 to call from us our dear sister to that reward that awaits the children of God. There remains a rest to the children of God. Heb. 4:9. We are all sad and will miss her so much, but God who worketh all things after the counsel of His own will knows best. He has said, "all things work together for good to them who love God."—Romans 8:28. So we trust and pray that the bereaved ones may all say, "Thy will be done," and feel that our loss is her eternal gain.

May God bind up the broken hearts and bely each one who mourns for her to meet some sweet day where parting comes no more. No more death, sorrow nor night, dear ones who weep. Just say goodby for a short time. We hope to meet you again.

She has been a sufferer for about a year, but bore her suffering with that spirit of a true child of God. Ever ready to say, "Thy will be done."

She loved her church, and was always there when her health would permit. She dearly loved her Bible and every night read some of God's truths which was great comfort in her affliction. If suffering is ever, she has answered her last call, and has heard from her Lord these words: "Well done"

OUR STORE IDEA And It's Really Worth Reading To maintain a high quality standard in merchandise. To offer our merchandise at such prices that the profits of the transaction shall be mutual. To give the public facts, and only facts, through written and spoken word, that it may buy with greater understanding. TO SELL MERCHANDISE OF THE QUALITY THAT STICKS IN THE MEMORY OF THE PURCHASER AND SERVES AS HIS "HUNCH" FOR THE NEXT PURCHASE. That is why we are offering a Circus Ticket with each hat (Stetson's excluded), sold from $2.00 up where the transaction is cash. We know the wearing quality of the hat you buy where you get a free ticket to RINGLING BROS. CIRCUS, will serve as your "Hunch" when you need another. You only have two more days in which to get this ticket, and remember that the T. L. Cely Co.'s GUARANTEE goes with the hat which means a great deal, for the record of 1914 is one of the most interesting and profitable we have ever shown, and we believe 1913 was better than 1912, for the same reasons that 1912 was better than 1911. And it's beautiful to see how our friends and customers respond to our idea of giving a ticket with a hat from $2 up; and we renew our obligations to our friends and customers, with a sense of appreciation, crystallized into a sincere purpose to render better service, and to sell only merchandise that carries with it, the T. L. Cely Co. GUARANTEE, which is—"You must be satisfied with your purchase here or your money is not our money."

good and faithful servant." Her life of purity and gentleness, her loyalty at all times, and her sympathy for all in sickness or distress, won for her the love of all who knew her. Thank God for the life and influence of such a noble woman. Mrs. Polly Hicks was the devoted and affectionate wife of Mr. S. L. Hicks, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McCallister. She leaves a husband and five children, two brothers and one sister to mourn her loss. She was a devoted member of the Baptist church, she was a devoted wife, a loving mother, a loyal Christian a devoted neighbor, and kind to all with whom she came in contact. Her remains were laid to rest at Six and Twenty Baptist Church on Wednesday, September 30, with funeral service by Rev. Land and Nelson. A large concourse of people were present to pay their last tribute of respect to her memory. She rests in the tomb, till she is called on the morning of the resurrection and ever be with the Lord. We will all miss her but we hope some day to join her in the sweet home above. May God bless the bereaved ones in the prayer of her pastor. Sister thou was mild and lowly, Gentle as the summer breeze, Pleasant as the air of evening, When it floats among the trees. Goodby dear sister, for a short while, We all hope to meet you again and ever be with the Lord. EVA RICHEY. Pendleton, S. C., R. P. D. No 1.

NATIONAL COTTON GOODS WEEK In Anderson Oct. 12 to 17. Big Doings.

Deal Will Take. New York, Oct. 6.—James C. Smith, third baseman of the Boston National League Club, broke his right leg just above the ankle in sliding to second base in the ninth inning of the first game of today's double-header with Brooklyn. Smith's place in the world's series will be taken by Charles Deal, utility infielder. Manager Stallings and Captain Evers both declared Smith's absence would not be a serious handicap to the team's eccitiveness in the world's series, as Deal could fill the place satisfactorily. Other members of the team expressed the same opinion. All the players declared themselves confident of defeating the Athletics. Deal played third base for the Braves in the early part of the season, but developed "charley horse" and succered from sore throat. His place was taken by Smith, who was Diamonds! Owing to the European war the mines are closed for an indefinite period, all the diamond cutting establishments in Europe are shut down, and no diamonds, either rough or cut, are being imported into this country. This limits the supply both now and for months to come to the stock on hand before the war started. And this stock is of course being rapidly distributed and depleted. LARGEST STOCK IN ANDERSON. positively MASTERS CROUP. Faley's Honey and Tar Compound cuts the thick choking mucus, and clears away the phlegm. Opens up the air passages and stops the hoarse cough. The gasping, straining fight for breath gives away to quiet breath- ing and peaceful sleep. Harold Berg, Mass. Mich., writes: "We give Faley's Honey and Tar to our children for croup and it always acts quickly." No wonder a man in Texas walked 15 miles to the store to get a bottle of Faley's Honey and Tar Compound. Every user is a friend. For sale by Evans' Pharmacy. NOTICE We are doing superior work at our glanery. Swag meal and hulls for seed. Also have five hundred bushels of Hancock Frolitic Oats (graded seed) for sale or exchange for cotton seed.
