Preparing For Student Meeting.

A number of the colleges in and around Anderson are preparing to send delegates to the Students' Conference which is soon to convene in Spartanburg. Anderson college will possibly send two or more delegates, while Clemson, Due West and other colleges nearby will have representatives present when the conference convenes. The students are doing a great work and their efforts should be encouraged.

Buyers Believe Drop Has Ended.

One of the city's well known cotton buyers, in speaking to a reporter for The Intelligencer yesterday, says that he believes the drop in the price of cotton has about reached an end and he does not expect cotton to sell for any less than 6 1-2 cents. Local buyers were offering 6 5-8 cents yesterday and a few bales were marketed at that figure. The price of cotton is being determined now by actual consumption, but it is hard to believe that the price will ever go lower than six cents.

Most Modern Plant In South Carolina.

When Dr. M. R. Campbell returns from Lancaster, where he has been spending several days on professional business, he will invite the public to call and inspect his modern plant for the grinding of eye glasses. Dr. Campbell has installed what is probably the most modern plant in the State. Shipments of the machinery have been delayed but at last the entire plant is ready for operation and Dr. Campbell will be able to furnish lenses in a few hours after the order for them is placed. The establishment is probably the only one in the state in a town of this size.

Sheriff

Will Have Many Opponents in the Field When Race is Run Two Years Hence.

Additional candidates for the office of sheriff of Anderson county are being heard of daily and indications at present are that there will be a regular herd of aspirants for this office next election. Sheriff Joe H. M. Ashley has positively announced that he will be in the race to succeed himself and he says that he expects to win, while some eight or ten candidates have already announced and more will doubtless be heard from before the time comes for the opening shot to be fired.

It is reported that Ben J. Pearman, a well known citizen of Starr who was a probable candidate for the office, has decided to offer for the position of superintendent of the penitentiary and will be balloted upon when the next session of the General Assembly convenes. Col. D. J. Griffith, the present superintendent of the institution, has a number of friends in Anderson but if Mr. Pearman wants the position, the Anderson delegation will naturally stand behind him. This will take one candidate for the office out of the field but rumor has it that there will be two new ones to take his place, since it is said that both H. W. Chambliss and Ralph Drake, well known citizens of the county, have decided to make the race.

Evidently the race for sheriff of Anderson county two years from now is to be a warm and interesting affair.

BOMB EXPLODED IN N. Y. CHURCH

Second Set Off in Seven Hours In Two Churches of the Metropolis.

New York, Oct. 13.—A bomb was exploded tonight in St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic Church on West Broadway, the second to be set off within seven hours in a church edifice in this city. It was in St. Alphonsus Church that Frank Tannanbaum, an Industrial Worker of the World leader, and two hundred followers were arrested last winter while engaged in a round of demonstrations.

TOURING COTTON STATES.

To Get Information on Which to Base Relief for Cotton Producers.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Members of the board of directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce today commenced a three weeks' tour of the cotton States to get first-hand information on which to base relief for cotton producers. The board believed a personal inspection of the cotton belt and conference with growers and dealers would materially aid them in devising means to allay congestion. The itinerary of the board includes stops at Raleigh, Wilmington, Charleston and Savannah.

WARNING ISSUED.

To Foreign Born Elements in U. S. Against Visits to Europe at This Time.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Considerable concern was manifested at the State Department today over the status of American citizenship, both native and naturalized, who were caught in belligerent countries at the outbreak of the European war and drafted for military service because their fathers were born subjects of such countries. This has occurred in countries with which the United States has no naturalization treaties and today a warning was issued by the department to foreign-born elements in the United States against visits to Europe at this time.

Reported That Auto Turned Turtle.

When the driver of a two-seated automobile started into a house at Orr mill late Tuesday night he left the engine running and just as he put foot on the veranda of the house he saw the machine make a start. It turned from the house and rushed to the machine, but after he got a foothold on the running board he found that he was on the side of the machine away from the gears and before he could get around to the other side the machine had plunged over an embankment. He telephoned to one of the local garages and secured mechanics and the damage to the machine was repaired in time for him to continue the journey to his home in Hartwell, Ga. The driver's name could not be ascertained.

Dr. Hall Lectured Last Night at Lebanon.

Dr. Hall, a lecturer of nation-wide prominence, delivered one of his lectures at Lebanon last night, for the benefit of the Lebanon School Improvement Association and despite the inclemency of the weather, there was a splendid attendance. Mr. Hall will deliver other lectures over the county during the next few days. Friday night of this week he will be at Townsville, and among the other places where he will possibly appear in the early future, are Anderson, Williams, town and Felzer.

New Homes Almost Completed.

Among the new residences soon to be completed on North Anderson may be mentioned those of J. J. Baldwin and C. R. McDonald. These are beautiful and modern bungalows and fit in well with the many new homes at North Anderson. Mr. Baldwin's residence is located on a prominence overlooking North avenue and the grounds are very pretty. Mr. McDonald's is on one of the new streets, and is also surrounded with a beautiful grove of oaks.

With G. B. Earle as chairman the committee of the Bar Association, consisting of Mr. Earle, Leon L. Rice and Samuel L. Prince, went to work yesterday on the plans for the banquet which will be tendered to Judge Robert W. Messenger tonight by Anderson attorneys.

Cotton Oil Mill Will Aid Farmers.

The directors of the Watson Cotton Oil mill, of Starr, held a session in Anderson yesterday at which time they passed a resolution which says in effect that the cotton mill will permit farmers owing them accounts for fertilizer to pay one-half the amount in cash and the mill will accept cotton at 10 cents per pound for the remainder. It is believed that the plans will meet with the approval of the farmers of the county.

Anderson Boys Will Be There.

Announcements coming from Washington are to the effect that Senator E. D. Smith will order an election held in Columbia on Friday, November 27, for the purpose of filling the vacancy as midshipman from South Carolina to Annapolis. This vacancy will occur in March, 1915. It is understood that several young men in Anderson are already making their arrangements to go to Columbia and to stand the examination.

Hammond People Heard an Address.

A. J. Smith, of the Lebanon section, delivered a splendid lecture at the Hammond school house, about five miles from Anderson, last Tuesday night. Mr. Smith is one of the avowed candidates who will make the race for Congressman from the Third District two years hence against Congressman Aiken and it is presumed that this was Mr. Smith's opening gun of the campaign. During the course of his address Mr. Smith took occasion to state that he favors the abolition of the 10 per cent tax on state banks in order that those institutions may issue their own currency. The address was heard by a small but attentive audience and they were impressed with the speaker's words, judging by the account given by those people who attended from Anderson.

Railroad Making Sweeping Reductions.

According to one or two Belton people spending yesterday in the city, a railroad train passed through that town a few days ago with two engineers and two conductors. While the men on the train were formerly occupied in the capacities named, as a matter of fact one of the engineers was running fireman and one of the conductors was running as flagman. This shows what drastic steps have been deemed necessary by certain well known railroads operating throughout the South.

Frenzy Amongst One-Eyed Folks.

Fortunately Anderson has not many people with only one eye, but those few are up in arms when anyone mentions the subject of war and they straightway launch into a denunciation of the rules responsible for the conflict having been precipitated. Of course the reason for this is not very clearly understood by the average reader but as a matter of fact all the glass eyes used in this country are either manufactured in this country or the material necessary for making them comes from the foreign country and accordingly there will soon be a dearth of extra eyes in this country. One would presume that a glass eye would last forever, but such is not the case and those Anderson people in need of a new one right now are up against it.

Tax Books Are to Open Today.

The county treasurer will open the Anderson county tax books today, this being October 15 and the regular day set by law for the books to open. The books will remain open for the payment of taxes until December 31 at which a one per cent penalty will be added and from that time on the penalty will be increased, month by month.

Closing Meeting Is Held Tonight.

A strong appeal will be made today to every man in the city in an endeavor to make the attendance at the men's mass meeting to be held tonight with St. John's church, larger than at any similar meeting ever held in Anderson. Discussing the meeting for tonight, Rep. J. W. Speake has said: "The cry today for men—manly, upright, God-fearing men. During our meeting many men have found what is necessary to make man-companionship with the Son of Man, Jesus Christ. Thursday night will be especially interesting and every man in Anderson should be present."

Freedom Did Her But Little Good.

Lillie Blackwell, a negress pardoned by the Governor some weeks ago, dropped dead at her home in Anderson Tuesday night. The negress had been sentenced to a term in the penitentiary for stabbing a young white man of the city and had served only a short part of her time when she received executive clemency.

Local Suffers Are Ticked to Death.

Anderson is afflicted with but few women desirous of the right to exercise the privilege of the ballot. True quite a number insist on exercising the right to yield a rolling pin or a frying pan at frequent intervals but aside from this a majority of Anderson's women are content to leave the ballot alone. However, as a reporter for The Intelligencer walked up the street yesterday, a blinding rain falling at the time, he came to a corner where three very masculine women were congregated, discussing the report that Ex-Governor John Gary Evans was to lend his aid toward securing the vote for women in South Carolina. They were so well pleased over the news they had heard that it might have been decidedly embarrassing for Mr. Evans had he suddenly appeared on the scene, because as before stated all of the ladies looked like they could take care of themselves and three or four men as well.

Anderson Will Have Choral Club.

Announcement was made yesterday to the effect that the formal organization of a choral club for Anderson will take place tonight at 8 o'clock in the parlors of Anderson college. All the men of the city able to read music and to sing are requested to attend this initial meeting and to lend their aid in getting the association under way. Promoters of the plan are very enthusiastic over the prospects and say that the club will be heard from when it gets under way.

Stop those Early Bronchial Coughs. They hang on all winter if not checked, and pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. Get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and take it freely. Stops coughs and colds, heals raw inflamed throat, loosens the phlegm and is mildly laxative. Chas. T. Miller, Ed. Enquirer, Cannelton, Ind., had bronchial trouble, got very hoarse, coughed constantly from a tickling throat. He used only Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Was entirely relieved.
