THE ANDERSON DAILY INTELLIGENCER

F. All Contrain

PAGE THE

ON THE JOB

gress 'till Some Legislation is Pessed for Farmers.

of Congress, without some national legislation that will be of service and penciit to the farmers of South Caro-

4:140

motor and obserked:

The Sunset Tido

SYNOPSIS. The 3 of Hearts in the "death sign" and you needn't tell me I don't know the dulcet accent of that angelic conemployed by Senena Trine in the pri-vate war of vengeance which, tralto!"

through his daughter, Judith, a woman of violent passion like his own he wages against Alan Law, son of the man (now dead) whom Trine held responsible for the accident which made him a helpless cripple. Rose, Judith's twin and double, learns of her sister's campaign against Alan and leaves her nome to aid him, whom she loves. Under dramatic cir-cumstances Alan saves Judith's life alled back. and so wins her love. But failure to shake his constancy to Rose kindles Judith's jealousy and settles her in her homicidal purpose. She is largely responsible for a shipwreck in Nantucket sound, from which Alan and Rose escapes with their friend Barcus in a power-driven lifeboat. (Copyright 1914, by Louis Joseph ance.) wheel.

1-THE MASKED VOICE

For a matter of tw 've hours the fog, laden, dank, viscous, as inexor-able as the dominion of evil, had wrapped the world in an embrace as foul and noxious as the coils of some great, grey, slimy serpent. Through its sluggish folds the pon-dorous, power-impelled lifeboat crep at a shall's pace, its stem partial, and rolling back from either bank a heavy-hearted sea of gray.

In the bows a young woman rested in a state of semi-exhaustion, her eyes closed, her head pillowed on a cork-belt life-preserver.

In the stern, Tom Barcus presided morosely over the steering gear; and Law was no more jealously heedful of his sweetheart than Barcus of the heavy-duty motor that charged heavy-duty motor that chugged away heavy-duty motor that chugged away so purposefully at its business of driving the boat heaven-knew-where. Lacking at once a compass, all no-tion whatsoever of the sun's bearings, and any immediate hope of the fog lift-ing or chance bring them either to land or to rescue by some larger and lers comfortless craft, Barcus steered mainly through force of habit.

mainly through force of habit. And now for more than an hour the silence had been uncannily constant, broken only by the rumble of the motor, the muted lisp of water slipping down the side, the suck and gurgle of the wake.

Forebcdings no less portentious than Law's crawled in the mind of Barcus. It was as likely as not that the lifeboat was as intery as not that yut to sea. And gasoline tanks can and oftentimes do become as easing as an official weather prophet's prophet's promise of fair weather for a holi-

More than this, Mr. Barcus was r confirmed skeptic in respect of marine motors. In view of all of which considerations he presently threw open the battery switch. And the aching void created in the form drone was startling enough to rouse even Rose Trine from her state of somi-somnolence. With a look of panic she sat up, thrust damp hair back from her eyes. and nervously inguired: "What's the matter?"

"Nothing," Barous told her. "I shut the engine off-that's all."

Tempers were short in that hour, and Alan was annoyed to think that the rest of his beloved should need-lessly have been disturbed. "What did you do that for?" he demanded sharely demanded sharply. "Because I jolly well wanted to," stand clear. An able-bodied pair of lungs was back of that hail, my friend; efferevescent with sardonic humor:

nore! Mr. Law is with us-and safe Oh, quite, quite safe!" In * dumb consternation Without needing him, Alan cupped sought the countenance of Rose. Her hands to mouth and sent an answereyes, 'meeting his, were blank with ing cry ringing through the murk: "Aboy! Where are you? Where away." "Here-On the reef-half-drowned "How does my voice bear," Alan und strength.

"What the dickens do you care? Barcus interpolated suspiciously. "To port," the response rang through the fog. "Starboard you helm and come in slowly!" leave him mad."

"Right-o! Half a minute!" Alan eplied reasuringly. "Like hell!" Mr. Barcus nuttered in his throat as he jumped down into the engine pit and bent over the fly-

Leaping on the forward thwart and balancing himself perilously near the gunwale, Alan strained his vision gunwale, Alan strained his vision vainly against the opacity of the fog-"Can't make out anything," he grumbled, looking back. "Start her up—but slow's the word—and 'ware reef!" "Nothing doing," Barcus retorted curtly "The motto is now 'Full speed astern!' as you must know." "O come! We can't leave a woman out there-in a fix like that!" "Can't we? You watch!" Barcus grunted malvolently, rocking the heavy fly-wheel with all his might; for the motor had turned suddenly stubhern

"Alan!" Rose pleaded, laying hand upon his sleeve. "Think what it means! I know it sounds heartless of me-and it's my own sister. But you know how mad she is-wild with hatred and pealousy. If you take her into this boat, it's your life or hers!" into this boat, it's your life or hers!" "If we leave her out there," Alan retorted, shaking his arm impationly free, "it's her life on our heads!" At this juncture the motor took charge of the argument, ending it in unumbry fashion. With a smart or summary fashion. With a smart exunexpectedly, at once and the same time almost dislocating the arm of Mr. Barcus and precipitating Alan overboard.

10

It was not given him to know what was happoning to the surface just in despair. He shook his head heipless-ly and let his hands daugle idly be-Ween his knees. With no way on her, the lifeboat drifted with a current of unknown set of him there, in her hands, I could go "It only I knew," Barcus protested: but my hands are tied, my wits as helpless as my eyes are blind. There's nothing to go by-except the bare pos- be needful, he left her there. sibility that the reef she spoke of may e Norton's."

The girl wrung her hands "But never sleep before her anxiety was how could Judith get there—and with her men—and ammunition?" she reckoned by word of Alan's fate; but she reckoned by both her host of trials "Don't ask me. Going on my ex-that had bred in her a fatigue anody-perjence with the lady. I'd be willing nons even to her mental anguish.

"Only the have found or stolen a boat from ' And sleep overwhelmed her somebody; they couldn't have made ly, like a great, dark cloud.

"Be at peace, little one-bleat no shore on which the two had landed Alan is without mingling considerably.

beautifully warm-He showed a thoughtful and con-Barcus siderate countenance to the girl. "You're about all in?"

She nodded confarmation of this which was no more than simple truth. Where are we?" she added. lie made her party to his own per ploxity. "You5re not able to travel." he pur-from some sort of civilization: even it's an island, there are no desert isles along this coast. I'll find something soon enough, no fear." And so, reiterating his promise to

III-THIS MORTAL TIDE. She was yery certain she would never sleep before her anxiety was perfence with the lady, i'd be willing hous even to hermental anguish. to bet that she was picked up by the i It was not tend, she told herself, steamer that ran us down, and pro- that people never the of broken hearts, ceeded to make a prize of it—or to i She knew that, were he taken from try to. One thing's certain: she must her, she could no longer live have found or stolen a boat from ' And sleep overwhelmed her sudden-And sleep overwhelmed her > from its nirvana-came to her senses w: h as choice a crew of scoundreds as fog relenting. If we the luck! Alive she is, and kicking: |volce ... Judith Trine, clear, musical, the fog back like a scioll and sent it | with the inhabitants of this tight lit- | realizing that I mean to have my ised by the mainland now readily d cerable on the horizon—that my o of them found time for speech. Then Mr. Barcus straightened from the assiduous attention to spinning far out to sea; while the the island-and you can't get to where way, and that you'll cross me only to suffer for it?" was deluged with sunlight bright and Sit down, and I'll tell you all about it, and we'll try to figure out what's best to be done. Maybe we can man-age a rescue under cover of night." And when the girl had settled her-self beside him he launched into a detailed report. "It's Katama island, all right." he announced; "but a change has come over the place since I visited it some years ago. Then it was a community of simple-hearted vills: ers and fish ermen; now, unless als signs fail, it's a den of smugglers. I noticed a num. ber of Chinese about; and that, taken in connection with the fact that, when I ventured to introduce myself to the village gin-mill and ask a few innocent questions, the entire population to a child, landed on me like a thousand brick-the two circumstances made me think we'd stumbled on a settlement of carnest workers at the gentle art of helping poor Chinamen cvade the exclusion laws." With a wry smile, he pursued: "An for me, 1 landed out back of the joint, for the rape of my neck, and took the on the rape of my neck, and took the cast is errounded by a lot of unsym-pathetic boxes and bacters that rac sees letter days. And when I came to sud signed to crawl unostentatiously away, 1 was just in time to witness But its dominion over her faculties (1. knding of your amitable sister was not of long duration. Slowiy, that going of cut-throats she keeps m far. That's the answer: they were was not of long duration. Slowiy, that go of cut-throats che keeps or picked up, stole a boat, and plued it heavily, mutihously, she was rescued the pay rool, and Alan, in company "On its pirvana-came to her senses when a rool, and Alan, in company with an effect of one who emerges y w'd care to see. I gathered from the motor and observed: "You bear a charmed life, my ad-ventuous friend. I want to tell ... you that when I saw you go over that cliff. I made up my mind your usefulness would be at least permanently impair-ed. As it is, I don't mind telling you that if even I don't mind telling you

- 67

"You've offered him your love yet an-other time, have you?" "Silence!" Judith cried in fury. "Only to learn once more, that he would rather death than you?" Rose persisted, unflinching. "And so you come to take your spite out on me, do you? You pittful thing- Do you think I mind—knowing as I do know that he could never hold you in any-thing but compassion and contempt?" "You will see " she sid in even and that if ever I get out of this affair, alive, I'm going to have a try at your. life, myself, just once, for luck! (To be continued.) "You will see," she said in even and frigid accents. And the light of her AIKEN ALWAYS mania leaped and leaped again in her yes like a living flame. "I have pre-pared a way to make you understand what opposition to me means."

Opposes Adjournment of Con-She waved a hand toward the neares point of rocks. "Take them along," she commanded.

The understanding between her and her men was apparently complete; for these last, without he dation or further instructions, marched Rose and Barcus down to the end of the spin

Through an inadvertance in a dis-patch from our special. Washington correspondent published in the facue of the 8th instant, the name of Con-gressman Alken, of this district, which omitted to the final adjournment of Congress without action being taken by it for the relief of the South in the present financial condition. Mr. Alken went with the other members of the and on into the water. It was nearly knee-deep before Bar cus was halted with a savage jerk, backed up to a rock, forced despite backed up to a rock, forced despite his frenzied resistance to sit down in the water, and swiftly, with half a dozen deft hitches of rope and a staunch knot, made fast in that posi-tion--submerged to his chest, went with the other members of the South Carolina delegation to (311 1752 President Wilson to discuss the cotton situation with him. Mr. Alken is un-alterably opposed to the adjournment tion-submerged to his chest, This accomplished, the men turned-attention to Bose, lashing her in simi-lar wise at Barcus' side. Standing just above the water-line, with every sign of complete calm and sanity other than that ominous fick-ering in her eyes, Judith superintend-ed the business till its conclusion, then waved the men away.

then waved the men away. Quietly, like well-trained servants, the turned their backs and marched What Would Yen Dof There are many times when or man questions another's actions as motives. Man act differently und different circumstances. The question is, what a severe cold? Could you to better than to take Chamberlan Cough Remedy? It is highly recom-mended, by people who have used, for years and know its value. Mo O. E. Sargent, Peru (Ind., may "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy worth its weight in gold and I ta pleasure in recommending 14.". For sale by Evans Pharmacy and all des ors.

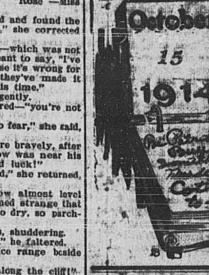

And again, after a brief wait, the women laughed her short and mirth-less laugh.

"The tide will be high," she said," "precisely at sunset. You may time your lives by that. When the sun dips into the sea, then will your lives go down with it."

She turned on her heel and strode She turned on her heel and strode swiftly away, with not so much as a backward glance, overtook her men, and passed quickly from sight around the further point of rocks. Earcus noted that already the wat-ers had risen more than an inch. Humbled even in his terror by that radiant caim that dwelt upon her, he ventured diffidently: "Rose —Miss Trine—"

She turned her head and found the heart to smile. "Rose," she corrected

The water was now almost level with his lips; its cemed strange that a time-the water now was near his chin-"good-bye-good luck!" "Not yet, dear friend," she returned,

Hun.

his throat could be so dry, so parch-heart to amile. "Rose." she corrected gently. "I'm sorry," he said—which was not a tall what he had meant to say, "I've done my best. I suppose it's wrong for me to give up—but they've made it too much for me, this time." "I know," she said gently. "You,"—he stammered—"you're not afraid?" "There is nothing to face " the said "There is nothing to fear," she said, "but death." "Then," he said more bravely, after tack door of the barroom that it was as I had thought: Judith had stolen a .at from the ship that picked her up, and rammed it on Norton's reef; and after she gathered Afan in, the scheoner of these smugglers happened along and she huiled it and struck a bargain

fow veids that leaked out of . the

'not yet.'

He opened his eyes, shuddering. "It's good bye now," he faltered. "Not yet!" her voice range boside with the captain and signed copartner-Hot yet: ner voice range boaide him, vibrant. "Look up there —along the cliff!"-He lifted his gaze Two men, were running along the cliff—and the man in the lead was ship articles, or something like that. Anyway, her lot and the islanders were soon as thick as theives, and tanking up so socially that I actually Alan. But his lead was very scant, and the man who pursued was one of Judith's, and stuck to the trail like a blood-hound fresh from the leash. per a word to Aland and tell him you were all right an that he'd find us both down here on GREATLY REDUCED ROUND TRAI PARES VIA SOUTHERN RAILWAY IN CONNECTION WITH BEUE REDGE FROM ANDERSON, the beach, if luck served him with an escape. That was all I got a chance to Barcus could no more speak withousay, for Judith marched up just then and yanked him off to his cell. I mean strangling. Of a sudden he groaned in his heart; to say, he's locked up now in a little stone hut on the edge of the cliff, with the door guarded and the window over-S. C. though there was no possible way down the cliff, still the sight of his friend alive and unharmed had brought $4.40 looking a sheer drop of thirty feet or so to the beach. When I'd seen that with it a thrill of hepe; now that hop died as he saw Alan stambel and go to his knees. Before he could rise the other was much. I calculated it was time for me to quit of that enighborhood, before Mamselle Judith nicked me with the upon him, with the fury of a wolf seeking the throat of a stag. For an instant they fought like madmen: then, in a trice, the sky-line evil eye." "You don't think they saw you?" the girl cried. "I don't think so," Barcus allowed

"Oh, you did-eh?" "Yes, I did-ch?" I happen to be bossing this end of the boat and to have sense enough to realize there's no sense at all in our wasting fuel the way we are-cruising nowhere!" "Well," Law contended, struck by the fairness of this argument, but unable to calm his uncasiness-"just contrary. And in such case, a chough respectially rister to have gas enough to take up home again if ever this dato take us home agr blessem fog lifts?"

blessem fog lifts!" And for several seconds longer the stillness strangied their spirits in its ruthless grasp. Then of a sudden a cry shrilled through the fog, so near at hand that it seemed searcely more distant than over the side. "Alasy! Help! Alasy there? Help!" So instant so present was its access

So instant, so urgent was its accent inat coupled with the surprise, it brought the three as one to their feet, all a-tremble, their eyes seeking one another's faces, then shifting unearily away.

What can it bo?' Finse while aghast, skinking into Alan's ready

He replied, obviously with an ef-fort overcoming the superstiticus con-striction of his throat. "Some oth-with the superstiticus con-black crawled with dread; for he black that voice; and if was the voice of one whom he has believed dead, dread with the set of the second dread for the set of the second dread for the set of the second dread for the set models. "And the set model of the second of the second second of the "here second second second for "And that," here as pursued sedir, "bat preves she did come up-blame He replied, obviously with an ef-

wind Advally Got Time to Whieper a Word to Alam

lime to see the hows of the lifeboat could make the mainland and get help ack away and banish into the mist.

II-THE ISLAND

Not more than twenty seconds could nove elapsed before Barene recovered from the shock of the motor's treachtry sufficiently to reverse the wheel, ery sufficiently to reverse the wheel, involute down the carburstor and jump out of the engine-bit. That in that small space of time the lifeboat and Alan Law had parted company as definitely as though one of them had been ievitated bodily to the far side of the earth. It could not have been more than a minute after the socident before Barcus was guilding the boat over what, going on his sense of location and judgment of distance, he could have sworn was the precise apprivered, but with-out discovering a sign of him. And for the next twenty minutes he divided his attention between at-tempts to sooth and reassure the half-distructed girl and efforts to odace a reply from Alan by stentorian halling--with as fittle success in the one as in the other. "Alan!" he antricked at the top of bis lungs "Atan'f Give a hall to toll us you'rs ages."

There was a little sause: he was his brains for some mere-mode of appeal when the answer came in an

His accents died away into n disconsolate silence that was unbroken for upwarus of an hour. So slowly the current bore the life-bont loward the beach, and so still be the that Darcus never appreviat-of they were within touch of any land until the bows grounded with a slight jar and a grating sound.

With a grating sound. With a cry of incredulity he leaped to his fost-"Land, by all that's lucky!" and stooping, lent a hand to the sist, alding he to rise.

Hardly had Rose had time to com-chend what had happened, when uccus was over the side and wristing with he hows, dragging the boat arther u, upon the shoals. She was, however, more than one ian space manage; and when her power manage; and when her and blits, a little more deeply is sands, Barcus gave over the A, and, litting Rose down, set a dry land, then climbed back to the vessel, running of out her an-or and cable, and carried tham hore, plasting the former well up wards the foet of the chiff-

the foot of the shift s he ross from this last is hor half blinded by the glare of ering sup as it broke through t from some vast place of blackness at terror, to Ind Barcus kneeling over and gingerly but persistently shaking Constant.

115

her by the shoulder. And then she sat up with a cry mystified compassion; for in the brief time that he had been absent—it had not been more than an hour-Mr. Bar-cus had most unquestionably been se-not been more than all hour-Mr. Bar-cus had most unquestionably been se-versly used.

We had sequired a long cut over one ore, but shallow, upon which blood had dried, loccther with a bruised and sweller, check that was badly soratch-ed to foot. And what simple articles of clothing remained to him, after his strenuous experiences of the last forty-eight hours, and heen reduced to aven greater simplicity; his shirt for example, now lacked a sleeve that had been altogetter torn away at the shoulder.
"No," he told her, as soon as he raw her wits were shaken once more "don't waste time pitying me. Fin all right—and so is Alan? That's the main thing for you to understand; ho's still alive and sound—".
"Bat where is be? Take me to him'" an instant? we chess.
"That's the rab.? Barches confessed built is the rab.? Barches confessed built on believes in a key? Known an instant? we chess.
"That's the rab.? Barches confessed built on believes in the art it semed to a bart at the confessed built on believes in the art is and in a moven on an instant? we chess.
"That's the rab.? Barches confessed built is fail a the rab.? Barches confessed built and the fail it scened bard to believe sho has ever kinowi an instant? we chess.
"That's the rab.? Barches confessed built for the same bard to be and bard bard builts between his two guards the scene fit squarely before her sister.
"Well?" she demanded brusquely.

gravely; and then, lifting his gaze, he added as he rose in a bound - "I just know she did-that's all."

In another instant he was battling might and main with three willing rat-flans, who had come suddenly into view round a shoulder of rock; by is efforts were short-lived: foredoom

the was finit binded by the giare of an instant's we chess. The was finited by the set of an instant's we chess. The set of the set of the rub, farces confessed, "Well? she defined brusquely. The formation of the set of the rub, farces confessed, "Well? she defined brusquely. The less than five minutes the mir-accience commonplece was an ac-rubation of the rub, farces confessed, "Well? she defined brusquely. The less than five minutes the mir-accience commonplece was an ac-rubation might object. Besides, you can complished fact; the wind had rolled see for yourself it isn't safe to mingle more lessons will you require before of the cliff was empty; one or the other had tripped and fallen over the birshk, and falling had retained hold of his enemy and carried him down

"Aian! Alan, Help Hero-at the end of the point-in the water-halp," A preclous minute was lost before Alan discovered their two heads, so barely above that swiftly rising flood. Then he ran toward them as he had never run before, and as he came whipped out a jack-knife and freed its blade.

its blade. Even so inter it was, of course, Rose whom Alan freed the first Bar-Rose whom Alan freed the first Bar-cus was Half-drowned before Alan helped him in turn to the beach. And as this happened the last blood ied rims of the sun was washed un-ted rims of the sun was washed un-ted rims of the sun was washed uned rim of un-ler by the waves. Two minutes later the lifehous re-affort, and Mr. Borous, already re-affort, and Mr. Borous, already re-under the second state of the society of the motor, stimulated to an wheen of the motor, stimulated to an energy downstate 1-act sample downstate 1-act

Judith, racing down the 11.4

W. R. Ts

And return account of Chris Temperance Union. Tickets on Nov. 7 to 12 inclusive, with re-limit. Nov. 23rd. Youkan brisht, and falling had retained hold of nis enemy and carried him down as well. By no chance, Barcus told himself, could either escape uninjured. Tock to an an break from the other's embrace, and rise. And he who lay still, as crum-pled, inhuman heap upon the sands, was Judith's man. With a violent effort Barcus lifted his mouth above the water and shriek-cd. "Aian! Alan, Help Hero-at the end of the point-in the water-stip?" A preclous minute was lost before

Atlanta

But it was not unti shorp and on the way