

NEAR DEATH BY SMOTHERING

But Husband, With Aid of Cardui, Effects Her Deliverance.

Draper, N. C.—Mrs. Helen Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death. Medicines patched me up for awhile but then I would get worse again. Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, so he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken. I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefited by its use. There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles." For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings and building weak women up to health and strength. If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It should surely help you, as it has a million others. Get a bottle of Cardui to-day.

Anderson's Beautiful Homes

Many Advantages of Charming City Splendidly Shown

"Aggressive Anderson" is displayed in splendid style in the industrial edition of the Columbia State, which made its appearance yesterday. Some weeks ago Albert D. Oliphant of the State staff was sent to Anderson to secure information regarding this city's natural resources and advantages and evidently he was much impressed with this city. Profusely illustrated with cuts of Anderson's handsome homes and business buildings, the article appeared as follows: Anderson is forging ahead along many different lines of endeavor. One of the chief assets of this enterprising city is the spirit of co-operation. Its citizens show in any movement for civic betterment. There have been numberless instances of the effect of this spirit, and Anderson today is a monument to co-operation. The city never leaves well enough alone when there is anything better in sight which can be attained by enterprise and initiative. The biggest thing which has happened in Anderson in recent years is through the city from Belton. No one can say, with show of reason, now that it is hard to get to Anderson, for 33 passenger trains enter the city each day. Of these, eight trains and six motor cars come over the Blue Ridge railway, a branch of the Southern railway; six over the Charleston & Western Carolina, and 18 over the interurban roads of the Piedmont & Northern Lines. In addition, Anderson has through Pullman cars to and from Atlanta by way of the Piedmont & Northern to Greenwood, and from there over the Sea and to the Georgia capital. Still, from the nature of its location and the rich territory which can be developed, Anderson needs more railroads. The city is urging the extension of the Blue Ridge railroad to Knoxville, Tenn., which was intended originally for its destination Anderson also aspires radiating to Athens, Ga., by way of Hartwell Ga., to Easley, to Abbeville and to Greenville, and to Clemson College. The construction of all of these lines has been urged, and it is believed that the demand for them will be met on the part of the interests before whom the matters have been laid. Encourage Wholesalers. The Piedmont & Northern, following its practices in other cities through wholesale firms, and is trying in every way to stimulate wholesale business. The city's facilities for retail trade are excellent. The merchants of Anderson make the most of their opportunities by meeting prices. The territory from which they draw is notably wealthy and thickly populated. The list of building operations and the sum spent for each of them follows: Southern Bell Telephone building, $22,500; four new school buildings, $80,000; home for Anderson lodge of Elks, $9,000; two stores in North Anderson, $11,000; 26 residences in North Anderson, $73,850; Wason-Yandiver building, $54,000; Kress building, $26,400; Ligon & Ledbetter building, $35,000; eight stores in Brown buildings, $27,000; Sullivan and Frank, etc., five stores, $41,000; 64 residences in Anderson, $124,000; residence for President of railroad depot and bridge, $105,000; Anderson theatre, $55,000; Charleston & Western Carolina railroad terminals and tracks, $360,000; putting telephone system underground in business section and rebuilding parts, $75,000; additional lines from Tallulah Falls by Southern Power Co., $125,000; rebuilding and extending water mains and improving plant of Southern Public Utilities Co., $45,000; model lights for white way in business district, $12,500; extending street car lines through North An-

Anderson Ice Co., Richard Dobbins; Superior Bottling Works, G. P. Townsend; Anderson Extract and Spice Co., Chero-Cola Co., Anderson Havana Cigar Co., Valley A. Hill; Pant Flour Mills, W. C. Fant; T. Q. Anderson Co., T. Q. Anderson.

A summary of the industries in Anderson county, with the amount of capital invested in them follows: Bakery products, $2,500; brick and tile, $10,000; clothing $3,000; electricity, $1,794,500; fertilizers, $20,000; laundries and machine shops, $45,250; gas, $80,000; ice, $29,000; lumber and timber products, $97,000; mattresses, spring beds, etc, $36,000; minerals and soda waters, $19,000; monuments and stones, $4,000; oil mills (cotton seed), $247,000; patent medicines, $18,000; printing and publishing, $41,000; and textiles, $9,347,856. There are six banks in the city of Anderson. The names of these financial institutions and their presidents follow: Bank of Anderson, B. F. Mauldin; Dime Savings Bank, Dexter Brown; Citizens' National Bank, J. A. Anderson; Farmers and Merchants' Bank, J. R. Vandiver; Farmers' Loan and Trust Co., J. R. Vandiver; People's Bank, Lee G. Holleman. Cheap Electric Power. Anderson is fortunate in having an abundant supply of electric power which it tries to induce a manufacturer to locate his plant there. The power comes from a hydro-electric plant at Portman shoals, on Seneca river, owned by the Southern Public Utilities Co. The Southern Power Co. is building lines into Anderson which will carry electric current at high tension from its hydro-electric plant at the falls of Tullulah river. The street car system of Anderson and its suburbs is operated by power from Portman shoals. Executive Officers. Anderson has a progressive Chamber of Commerce. The officers of this body are: Porter A. Whaley, general secretary; S. C. Kay, assistant secretary; J. W. Rothrock, agricultural demonstrator. Executive Committee—J. D. Hammett, chairman; W. L. Brissett, T. F. Watkins. Directors—W. L. Brissett, B. O. Evans, T. Frank Watkins, A. S. Farmer, M. M. Mattison, W. W. Sullivan, Rufus Fant and J. S. Fowler.

Boy Shot Eugene Deck Seriously Injured When Gun Was Accidentally Fired by Companion.

Eugene Deck, the 12-year-old son of N. C. Deck, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon when he was shot by a companion, Deck and a boy named Albert Ferguson, son of A. V. Ferguson, were playing in Belton yesterday afternoon, when the accident occurred. The Ferguson boy was handling a short gun and as he was motioning it and whirling it around as boys will do, the gun was discharged, the shot taking effect in the Deck boy's hip. While the wound is very painful, and somewhat serious, it is not thought it will be fatal. The two boys are about the same age and as they have always been the best of friends, there is nothing to indicate that it was more than an accident.

Opening The Kress Store Yesterday Welcomed Almost 5,000 Visitors During Afternoon and Night.

While no exact figures could be secured it is believed that fully 5,000 people yesterday visited the handsome new store just opened in Anderson by the S. H. Kress Company. The handsome new building, the really wonderful stock and the large number of clever sales people made a great impression upon the Anderson public and it is evident that the Kress store will prove to be one of the most popular in the city. The store opened its doors yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and from that hour until 10:30 last night there was a steady and continuous stream of visitors passing in and out. Nothing was offered for sale yesterday and the first sale in the new store will not be made until this morning. One feature of yesterday was the splendid music furnished by the Salome Orchestra.

Clemson Heard Dr. William S. Currel at Clemson College Deliver a Splendid Lecture.

People coming to Anderson yesterday from Clemson college said that the student body of Clemson and members of the faculty as well were delighted with the splendid address delivered there, Wednesday morning by Dr. William Spencer Currel, the new president of the University of South Carolina. Dr. Murrell spoke in the college chapel and completely captivated his large audience. He received an ovation of prolonged applause when he concluded his fine address. His subject was education and the larger life and he expressed his "life thoughts and high ideals in strikingly forceful and faultless English. His bubbling humor was delightful while his earnestness of purpose carried conviction. His address abounded in literary allusions and quotations and was a masterpiece in itself. Dr. Currel said he was glad to find the good feeling and the cooperation existing between Clemson and Carolina.
