REFUGE DOTS.

The Rev. T. M. Land delivered two very impressive sermons at this place last Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning.

The farmers of this section have decided to sow more grain and plant less cotton next year, and we think this a very wise idea as we are great believers in raising every thing we need to eat on the farm. Every farmer should sow a lot of wheat and oats, plant more corn and less cotton, raise all the hogs and cattle possible, and devote all the spare time they could to poultry. We certainly do believe that if every farmer would do this there would be better times.

Mrs. P. C. Gillespie has had an attack of tonsillitis, but at this writing she is much improved.

Mrs. T. F. Evtatt and charming little children, Maude and Wayman, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mays, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. Sam Poore and family of the Lebanon section visited at the home of Mr. J. C. Gillespie last Sunday.

Mr. Ed Smith and family of Corinth No. 2, attended services at this place Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Evtatt and little daughter, Agnes, visited the former's mother, Mrs. M. J. Evtatt, last Sunday.

Mr. Eugene McCallister and family spent last Sunday at Mr. S. P. Phillips.

Master Mc Donnie Phillips, who has been on the sick list, is much improved at this time.

The friends of Master John Lenderman will be glad to learn that he is improving a little, though it is but slight, the doctor and nurse have more hopes than at the last writing. Little Eliza is almost well again. She is able to be on her usual round of visits.

We often hear people wondering how disease germs get scattered. We can answer. By the flies, as much as any other way, if they have access to barns, hog pens and other filthy places, and are not screened, or otherwise kept away from the food which we eat. How can we expect anything but disease? Therefore we should be especially careful at this time, especially. We should make very sure that these detestable "critters" have not been allowed to sit upon anything that we eat, or get into that which we drink. We have heard the old adage, "all our lives that cleanliness is next to Godliness," and we know of a certainty that cleanliness is absolutely necessary to good health.

Mrs. T. F. Evtatt dined with Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Gillespie Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Gilliard of Norris spent a very pleasant hour at Mr. W. E. Seare's last Sunday.

Among those who attended the Belton Fair from this section were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Newton. They made the trip in their auto.

The many friends of Miss Nellie Newton will be glad to know that she is improving some.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Craig spent Sunday night at the home of Mr. J. C. Gillespie.

Mr. Henry Hicks and family of the Six and Twenty section dined with Mr. and Mrs. Hamp Hicks Sunday.

With very best wishes to Mr. Evtatt and his valuable Daily Intelligencer will ring off and promises to come again next week.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers.

Most folks forget that the kidney like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally. One of the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sort of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidney active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and its harmless to stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who suffer in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

PENDLETON NOTES

On Tuesday evening, October the twentieth, at 8 o'clock, the home of Mrs. Frances McPhail was the scene of a brilliant out-door wedding when her daughter Miss Marie McPhail became the bride of Mr. William Thaddeus Willingham.

The lawn, beautifully decorated with tall cedar trees and potted plants, about half way down the walk was a mass of cedars studded with tiny electric lights, and on either side of the walk smaller cedars were placed, forming an aisle up the steps and in the hall from which the bridal party descended.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal chorus, played by Miss Ida McCray, the bridal party entered in the following order: Miss Pearl Garvin with Mr. Gaillard Hunter; Miss Louise Hunter with Mr. James Terrell; Miss Sallie Hunter with Mr. Harold Willingham; and Miss Marie McPhail with Mr. Ralph Hunter.

Next came the maid of honor, Miss Annie McPhail, sister of the bride, Little Misses Augusta Simpson and Edith Martin as flower girls came before the bride and groom. The bride entered on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. Eugene Sitton, and was met at the altar by the groom with his best man, Mr. Brazie Willingham.

Immediately after the ceremony a brilliant reception was enjoyed by the large number of guests present.

From the parlor, which was beautifully decorated in white and green, the guests were invited to the dining room, where a delicious salad course was served, by Misses Margaret Evans, Thelma Whitten, Pauline Hunter and Marie Wilson. This room was unusually attractive with pink roses and with decorations.

The guests were ushered into the hall, where they registered in the bride's book, this being kept by Miss Auro Aull. The bride's maids wore green silk dresses with tulle over skirts, and carried red carnations. The maid of honor looked very pretty in her pink satin trimmings. In her fur, carrying white carnations.

The little flower girls wore white dresses with pink ribbons and carried small baskets of red carnations.

The bride was a picture of dainty loveliness attired in her wedding gown of ivory white satin, with lace trappings. The long white tulle veil with Juliet cap was held in place by a band of pearls with sprays of valley lilies. She carried brides roses.

The bride and groom left for an extended wedding trip after which they will be at home of the brides' mother.

Mrs. B. C. Crawford gave in marriage her daughter Mary Bell to Mr. Benjamin Franklin Hoppold; Wednesday, October twenty-sixth at half after twelve.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Pendleton, South Carolina.

The church was beautifully decorated with white frost flowers and ferns, Miss Louise Hunter, one of the bride's dears, played the wedding march. Gaillard Hunter, Paul Crawford, James Crawford, Lucius Stevens were the ushers. They wore grey suits and grey suits.

Miss Eliza Crawford, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a light blue satin dress, black hat and carried pink chrysanthemums. The bride's brother, Mr. Henry Crawford of Columbia, escorted her to the altar. The bride wore a beautiful dress of purple satin, with hat to match, white gloves, and carried a beautiful bunch of white chrysanthemums. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Adair Shubric. Mr. C. T. Poacher of Arlington, performed the ceremony.

Immediately after the ceremony they went to the home of Mrs. M. M. Hunter where a delicious salad course was served.

The happy couple left for Atlanta on their honeymoon.

Those who attended the McPhail-Willingham wedding were: Miss Lara Beth Ballinger, of Walhalla, Messrs. W. B. Aull, Ben and Joe Sitton, of Clemson College and Messrs. George Evans and Archie Todd, of Anderson.

Messrs. James Hunter and Cordes Leabrook of Clemson College, attended the Crawford-Hoppold wedding.

Miss Alice Bell Newton, a student at the West college spent the week-end with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wofford, of Starr, are visiting friends and relatives in town.

Miss Pearson, of Hagblands, N. C., and Miss Frits, of Philadelphia, Penn., spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. M. M. Hunter.

Mrs. B. C. Hard who has been spending a few days in Cowpens, is at home again.

Mrs. J. A. Sitton and Miss E. C. Sitton, are visiting Mrs. S. P. Dethley, of Walhalla.

Mr. J. J. Sitton is attending the U. S. court at Greenville.

Mr. Reginald McCutchen, of Sumner, is visiting his sister, Miss Belle McCutchen at Harris Hall.

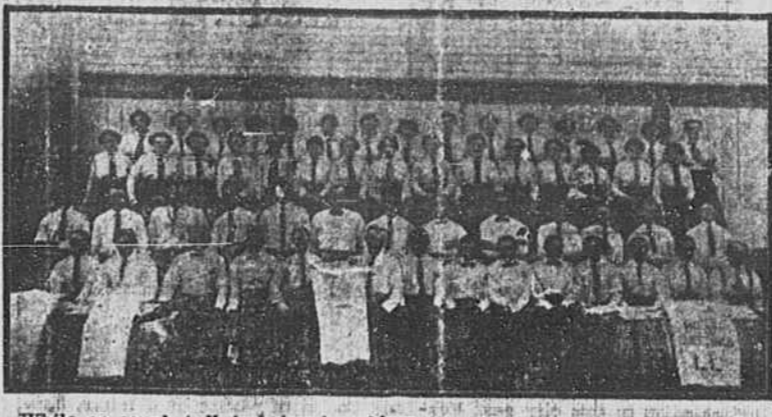

Mrs. Ida Foster and daughter, Elsie, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson.

A number of Pendleton people attended the Belton Fair. They were: Messrs. Ralph Hunter, Eugene Evans, Irving Barrette, Carroll DuWorth, Willie Martin, Mathias Richardson, Reid McCray; Mr. and Mrs. Willie Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Doc McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Barnette and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sawright.

Fests at Anderson College.

The college will be glad to take care of ferns, through the winter, for those who wish to send them. Please telephone to the college before sending them up.

REAL HELP FOR CAUSE

While so much talk is being heard about "help for the farmer" some people are really helping the cause while others are merely taking up their time with talk. Not so with the people of Iva, living at the Jackson mills. The "Cotton Goods Boosting Club" of the Jackson mills was organized some time ago with 57 members, all being operatives of the mill.

The picture accompanying this article shows the members of the club, attired in shirts, shirt waists, collars and ties, "manufactured, tailored and worn by the operatives," in the Jackson mills of Iva. Some 25 young ladies, members of this club, on Saturday afternoon took a stroll through town attired in their "manufactured, tailored and worn by ourselves" garments and made a very pleasing and attractive appearance. The spirit manifested by the members of this club is of the right kind and should be and no doubt is appreciated by all concerned.

Mr. J. W. Lewis, the superintendent of the moving spirit of the organization is backed by the young ladies and men of the mill. They have, to begin with, adopted the resolution,

"Buy a bale at 10 cents" and purchased a bale of the staple paying 10 cents for it, thereby befriending and helping in a substantial way a worthy aged farmer of the Corner township. Their further object is to boost cotton goods, especially those goods manufactured by the Jackson mills and have adopted another resolution in addition to the one referred to above, namely, "Manufactured, tailored and worn by the operatives," in the Jackson mills of Iva. Some 25 young ladies, members of this club, on Saturday afternoon took a stroll through town attired in their "manufactured, tailored and worn by ourselves" garments and made a very pleasing and attractive appearance. The spirit manifested by the members of this club is of the right kind and should be and no doubt is appreciated by all concerned.

ANOTHER REBELLION IN SOUTH AFRICA

Armed Rebellious Commanders Already in Existence—Town of Heilbron Has Been Seized and Government Officials Have Been Taken Prisoners—Union Government Announces It Has Been Taking Steps to Preserve Peace Without Bloodshed.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—(8:37 p. m.)—Another rebellion has broken out in South Africa. General Frederick Beyers have taken the town of Heilbron in the Orange Free State and Western Transvaal.

Having put down Lieutenant Colonel Maritz's rebellion in the northern province of Cape Colony, the government of the Union of South Africa now faces a far more serious rising.

According to an official report today armed rebellious commanders already are in existence; the town of Heilbron in the northern part of the Orange River colony has been seized and government officials have been taken prisoners, while a train has been stopped and armed citizens of the defense force have been taken from it and disbanded.

The Union government has issued a proclamation announcing these events and explaining that, although it was aware of these rebellious preparations, it had been taking steps to preserve peace without bloodshed.

Citizens are called on to be on the alert and give the government information and assistance and those who have been guilty of disobedience under the defence act are advised that no action will be taken against them if they remain quietly at home.

General de Wet is the cavalry leader who gave the British so much trouble in the South African war. It was announced he had offered his services to England.

General Beyers resigned command of the Union forces when Premier Botha decided to take up arms against Germany.

General de Wet, in the South African war, was commander-in-chief of the Orange Free State forces. He was commander at Ladysmith and was sent to relieve General Cronje as second in command. After Cronje's surrender he received full command. He was a signatory of the Vereeniging peace conference and was appointed minister of agriculture in 1907.

General de Wet opposed the government's action in the present war and early in October attempted to speak at a meeting held in protest but was prevented by a demonstration of sympathizers of Gen. Louis Botha, premier of the Union of South Africa.

Irregular General Beyers was also a noted figure in the South African war and was chairman of the Vereeniging peace conference. Last September he resigned as commandant general of the Union defence force because of his disapproval of Great Britain's sending expeditions to conquer German Southwest Africa.

TREMENDOUS INCREASE IN SALE OF FOODSTUFF

WAR'S CONTINUED EFFECT ON AMERICAN COMMERCE SHOWN IN DETAIL BY STATISTICS COMPILED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—War's continued effect on American commerce—a tremendous increase in the sale of foodstuffs for foreign armies and a marked decrease in exportation of cotton, machinery and materials for use in manufacturing—was shown in detail today by statistics compiled by the department of commerce.

Exports of grain and meats jumped to unprecedented quantities in September, resulting in a great improvement over August's trade and a substantial export balance, but the decrease in the sale abroad of cotton and manufactures resulted in a loss, compared with September, 1913, of $61,902,668.

The gain for September's exports over those of the first month of the war was $45,968,319. Exportations of canned beef jumped from 364,693 pounds in September, 1913, to 2,585,358 last month. The increased trade in fresh meat was larger. More than 7,037,400 pounds were shipped abroad last month, compared with 634,523 in September, 1913.

The war growth of grain exports was as marked.

The decrease in exports of cotton during September compares with last year amounted to near $20,000,000.

With the partial restoration of shipping facilities, a remarkable improvement in the exports to some of the Latin-American countries was shown over the first month of the war. Trade to Germany, Russia and Belgium remained at low ebb, but that to the United Kingdom was fairly well maintained.

The United States purchased from the world last month goods valued at $146,985,611, compared with imports of $171,094,343 in September, 1913. Increases in imports were shown from the United Kingdom, Argentina, Canada, Cuba and Holland.

CHEDDAR NEWS.

The school at Cedar Grove will begin its 1914-1915 session on Monday, Nov. 2. It is earnestly desired that every patron, both mothers and fathers, will be present on the opening day and show the teachers that they are interested in the school and willing to cooperate with them in the work.

Messrs. Claude and Bailey Pepper of Easley visited relatives near here last week and attended the Belton Fair.

Miss Helen Price of Pendleton is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Curtie Copeland.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. George Hammond has been critically ill with diphtheria for the past week.

Mr. W. S. Copeland of Septon spent Tuesday night in Cheddar enroute to the Belton Fair.

We cannot mention the many who attended the Fair from Cheddar but will say that we were all there and a number of our people were successful in bringing home some of the prizes offered by the Belton citizens. Among those were H. Kelly, Lewis Mahaffey and R. T. Kelly.

From the appearance of the display of farm products at this Fair, it seems that our people are not near the starving point as many would have us think. Mr. Editor, if it is necessary for the correspondents of your paper to cry "hard times" in order to be "fashionable" I'm afraid here's one decidedly not up-to-date, for we do not believe in looking always on the dark side. This is not the first crisis that has confronted the South and it's not going to be the last one either. If all these frowning, grouchy, pessimistic people could be put in a goods box and sent on a tour through Europe, they would cease talking long before they landed on American soil. The farmers are not suffering. They are going to live and they can do it with cotton at its present price too. It's not going to hurt them to stop spending so much money foolishly. All this talk reminds one of a spoiled child who has been allowed everything it

Is it your eyes or glasses in question? Ailright then don't seek further, just see me. I specialize on those troubles and can give you that finish on work that spells satisfaction. Prices $3.00 to $5.00 up. Repairs 10c up.

wishes and then when it is taken from it, sends up a wall for its lost treasure. This is not the true American spirit. Our nation has always met misfortune with brave hearts, standing courageously at the post of duty and when the time comes march like heroes to the front of battle. Now it would be cowardly to shrink. Show the colors under which we march and face the impending danger like men and women—true sons and daughters of the Southland. Put on a smiling face and look for the joys of life. Then lift your heart in gratefulness to the Giver of all good. There is so much wasted sunshine in the world, and so many clouds lined with shining silver, but we too often turn our faces and gaze instead at the dark gray coloring around which no ray is thrown.
