TURKEY ENTERS THE STRUGGLE

TURKISH CRUISER BOMBARDS THE RUSSIAN SEAPORT

OUTSTANDING FEATURES OF THE GREAT WAR ARE THE ENTRANCE OF TURKEY INTO THE STRUGGLE AND THE RETIREMENT OF PRINCE LOUIS AS FIRST SEA LORD OF BRITISH ADMIRALTY

(By Associated Press.)
The outstanding features of the great war are the entrance of Turkey into the struggle, as reported from Petrograd and Tokio and Prince Louis of Battenberg's retirement as first sea lord of the British admiralty.

The British admiralty continue to call attention to the effective service rendered by the warships of the North Sea coast; the French tell of German repulses and French progress; the Germans, speaking of the battles in France and Belgium, declare their progress is entirely satisfactory.

Now comes word that a Turkish cruiser has bombarded the Russian seaport of Theodosia in Crimea, and that another Turkish cruiser has threatened the seaport of Novorossysk on the Black Sea.

The report that Greece has taken possession of southern Albania is causing a profound impression in Rome but in Italian political circles it is believed that Greece will not be supported by Great Britain and France.

Under stress of pursuit by British warships, the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau early in the war took refuge at Constantinople. There they were purchased by Turkey but the German officers and crews were retained.

On that part of the battle front nearest the sea, where the Germans have delivered repeated attacks with daily increasing forces in their effort to hammer their way to Dunkirk and eventually to Calais, and where the Allies have offered such stubborn resistance, there has been another day of comparative calm.

Meanwhile Turkey has been under surveillance by the Allies. Her action in the present attack on Russian seaports has not been explained but it is possible her inclusion into the war may bring to arms some of the Balkan states which up to the present have remained quiescent.

There has been sharp fighting, while each side is endeavoring to hold positions it at present occupies, and to secure better positions which would give an advantage when the next big battle breaks. Both claim to have been successful in this, and the official reports are full of sentences such as:

Along the battle fronts, both in Belgium and the north of France and in the eastern arena, the same story is being told of indeterminate actions.

"The enemy's attacks have been repulsed." or "We have made progress."

RESIGNED POSITION AS FIRST SEA LORD

PRINCE LOUIS, ABOUT WHOM THERE HAS BEEN MUCH GOSSIP BECAUSE OF HIS AUSTRIAN ORIGIN, HAS WITHDRAWN

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 29.—Prince Louis of Battenberg, about whom there has been much gossip because of his Austrian origin, has resigned his position as first sea lord of the admiralty.

There were rumors sometime ago that Prince Louis had been confined in the Tower of London. These reports gained little serious consideration, but the authorities deemed it expedient that he should appear more in public instead of confining himself to the admiralty, where since the outbreak of the war he had been working night and day directing the strategy of the navy. He was considered one of the most noted strategists of the admiralty.

His nephew, Prince Maurice of Battenberg, was the first member of the royal family to be killed in the war.

URGES SUPPORT OF LOAN FUND

SECRETARY McADOO WRITES TO CLEARING HOUSE CHAIRMEN

COTTON PROBLEM IS MOST URGENT

Says It Is Imperative That Intelligent Financial Measures Shall Be Adopted.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Secretary McAdoo tonight made public a letter he has sent to clearing house chairmen throughout the country urging support of the $125,000,000 cotton loan fund. He said the cotton situation presented a problem "of the most urgent character" and declared his conviction that prompt subscriptions of the loan fund would "be productive of immensely beneficial results."

More replies favorable to the loan fund plan reached the federal reserve board today but members of the board pointed out that consideration by clearing house associations and then by individual banks might delay final action in the matter for several days.

Secretary McAdoo's letter to the clearing house chairmen follows: "The cotton situation in the South presents a problem of the most urgent character. It is imperative that some intelligent financial measures shall be immediately adopted to relieve that situation. The problem is not local, but national, because a serious hurt to the South affects the entire country. To help the South in this emergency must appeal, therefore, not only to our better instincts, but also to our material interests."

Governor Hamlin, of the federal reserve board, has sent you a letter today, together with a plan which the board has approved for raising a fund of $125,000,000 to be loaned on cotton. It is our firm belief that the prompt subscription of this fund and its use as proposed in the plan will be productive of immensely beneficial results.

"I wish earnestly to urge upon you the importance of the banks in your city and in your federal reserve district promptly subscribing the amount allotted to you. New York has already led off with a $50,000,000 subscription, and I sincerely hope that there may be no doubt whatever about the raising of the remaining $75,000,000 in the other leading financial cities of the country. I am sure that we may confidently count upon the loyal and patriotic support of the bankers of your city in this emergency. The federal reserve board, itself, notwithstanding the onerous duties which now devolve upon it in the organization of the federal reserve system has, nevertheless, consented to constitute itself a voluntary committee for the purpose of supervising the administration of the proposed fund, because of the seriousness of the emergency and the necessity for unselfish service on the part of every citizen who wants earnestly to help his country.

"In order to assist the banks which may subscribe to this fund, I desire to say now that, in the exercise of the power and discretion vested in me by law, I shall, upon compliance by the banks with the terms and provisions of the Aldrich-Vreeland act, as amended, accept the class A certificates referred to in this plan as 'securities' at 75 per cent. of their face value, as a basis for issues of so-called 'emergency currency' when presented to me through national currency associations. This should greatly facilitate the banks in making and taking care of their subscriptions."

"Will you be good enough to telegraph me on receipt of this letter if we may count upon your cooperation?"

The secretary said that in order to help the Southern banks which may subscribe for class B certificates he had determined to take them also as "securities" as a basis for the issue of emergency currency.

COTTON SACKS INSTEAD OF JUTE

Big Coffee and Sugar Refining Companies Substituting Cotton For Jute Bags.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Substitution of cotton for jute bags in the coffee and sugar industry in New York city was discussed here today at a meeting called by E. J. Gilles, president of the National Coffee Roasters' Association, to obtain information on the subject from R. D. Bowen, of Paris, Texas, chairman of the Southern States Cotton Association.

Representatives of a big sugar refining company which has decided to use cotton instead of jute sacks, said the difference in the cost of the material was so slight there was no necessity for increasing the price of sugar.

Mr. Bowen said Chicago and St. Louis business men had decided unanimously to carry on a crusade for the substitution of cotton for jute.

CLEMSON TOO STRONG FOR CAROLINA TEAM

Game Cock Aggregation Goes Down to a 29 to 6 Defeat After an Hour's Play.

Special to The Intelligencer.
COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 29.—Clemson proved too strong for Carolina in the annual football classic of the year held at the fair grounds Thursday morning and the game-cock aggregation went down to a 29 to 6 defeat after 60 minutes of play marred by the slow tactics of the Carolina men.

Major of Clemson gave a wonderful exhibition of pig kicking and managed to send the pig skin through the uprights three times out of three tries. Webb, a team mate of Major, was the other man who shared the individual glory of the day with the big half-back. His end runs were sweeping and he once ran through the entire Carolina team from his own 60 yard line for a touch down. For Carolina Hill Langston and Stoney played great football.

The game as a whole was loosely played and time again Carolina's men tackled so raggedly that Clemson's backfield found no trouble in circling the ends for long gains. Much time was taken out during the contest for injuries and several of the Carolina team were carried from the field of play.

Clemson outplayed the Carolina aggregation in every department of the game with the exception of open play. The men from Pickens county tackled with fierceness and aggression and on many occasions during the contest hit the Carolina backs so hard that time had to be called to allow the runner to recover.

THE BOND ISSUE BILL IS RATIFIED BY THE HOUSE

(By Associate Press.)
COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 30.—(2.00 a. m.)—After a strenuous effort to delay action, the bill calling for an election on the issuance of $24,000,000 in bonds to provide for loaning money on cotton was ratified by the house early this morning. The measure now lacks only the signature of the governor to become a law. What he will do with it is not known.

The bill calls for an election at the same time as the general election November 3.

The bill was ratified by the house and senate in joint session.

MILL OPERATIVE MURDERS WIFE

After Fearfully Cutting and Battering Her With an Axe, Attempts to Cut Own Throat.

(By Associated Press.)
RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 29.—Alex Coxe, a mill operative at Rockingham, N. C., is alleged to have killed his wife in his home there this morning, according to a dispatch from that place. The fifteen-year-old daughter of Coxe testified at a preliminary hearing that while outside the house she was aroused by the sound of something falling and upon stepping into the kitchen, saw her mother lying face upward on the floor and her father standing above her with a bloody axe in his hand. Mrs. Coxe was fearfully cut and battered and died almost instantly. It is reported that Coxe, upon being disarmed of the axe, attempted to cut his own throat with a pocket knife, but made only an abrasion on the skin of his neck.

Showing a slight list, she lies buried in six feet in the sand less than a quarter of a mile off shore.

Officials at the navy yard here do not know the personnel of the board of inquiry named by Rear Admiral Fletcher, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, to conduct an investigation into the grounding of the Paulding.

Buildings Are Crowded With Austrian Wounded

3,000,000 PEOPLE FED BY CHARITY

IT IS FEARED THAT BELGIANS WILL BE IMPELLED THROUGH HUNGER TO ATTACK THE GERMAN MILITARY AUTHORITIES

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 29 (7:55 p. m.)—Fear that the Belgians remaining in their devastated country would be impelled through hunger to attack the German military authorities was expressed in a telegram received here today from Captain T. F. Lucey, representative of the American commission for Belgian relief.

The message sent from Rotterdam to Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the relief committee said Captain Lucey had been told by relief workers that in Brussels, Charleroi, Liege, Namur, Mons and Dinant 3,000,000 persons were being fed by charity and that only four days supply of flour was on hand in the vicinity of Liege conditions were more desperate than elsewhere, if possible. There the necessities of life were urgently needed.

"Beans, peas and rice are acceptable," the telegram continued, "but the great necessity and the urgent appeal from all concerned are for wheat flour."

"You may be convinced that any statement you have heard has under estimated conditions in Belgium. Great danger is threatened. To avoid it you must get flour to the people, and get it at once."

The steamer Iris, the second ship to take supplies to Belgium for the American committee, is expected to sail from London Saturday with 1,000 tons of wheat, rice and peas.

amount to over $160,000. The other successful bidders were Glencoe Mills of Columbia and mills at Macon, Ga., and Concord, N. C. A saving of $70,000 is figured by the department on the year's supply by establishing cotton for jute twine and an additional domestic use for cotton is furnished.
