The personnel of the committee follows: J. O. Lee of Charleston First district; J. E. Murray of Aiken Second district; L. Mauldin of Easley Third district; O. G. Thompson of Laurens, Fourth district; W. H. Edwards of Chester, Fifth district; D. W. McLaurin of Columbia, chairman; Sixth district; U. R. Brooks of Columbia, Seventh district.

TOWN SEIZES WHISKEY.
Gaffney Takes One Hundred Pints. Special to The State.

GAFFNEY, Oct. 29.—The 100 pints of whiskey which was in the Southern freight office at Gaffney, addressed to J. J. Jones, has been seized by the town authorities on the ground that the Southern has no right to store whiskey. It is rumored that the consignee will institute a suit for claim and delivery against the town for the recovery of the booze.

A severe frost last night killed the vegetation, and fields that were green now have the appearance of late autumn. Several fields of cotton in and near Gaffney, show very perceptibly the effects of the frost. Ice was plentiful this morning, and winter suits were much in evidence today.

Dr. J. G. Pittman, who has been spending some weeks in New York taking a special course in surgery, has returned to Gaffney. He says that the feeling of depression which has characterized the financial fabric is giving way to a healthy feeling of optimism, and that the people of the metropolis are confident that times will soon be better, and that people will laugh at their former fears.

A number of Gaffney people will spend the rest of the week in Columbia at the State fair. Instead of going the first of the week as they have done heretofore, they save time and money by waiting until the fair is almost over.

No matter a man in Texas walked 15 miles in the store to get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Every user is a friend. For sale by Berg's Pharmacy.

The news which reached Atlanta today that Otis Skinner is to appear at the Atlanta theatre in November added new interest to the theatrical season, which so far has hardly gotten under way. Mr. Skinner is to bring a new play this season, and if it gives him half the opportunity he had in the Oriental fantasy "Kismet" last season he will once more demonstrate his ownership of the title of "America's greatest actor."

ATLANTA LETTER

ATLANTA, GA., Oct. 30.—Half Atlanta clubdom is laughing today over the escapade last night of a young society man who imbibed too freely and found his way into the wrong flat. It came very near being a tragedy instead of a comedy, however.

The young clubman meandered a midnight to an apartment on Cain street which closely resembled his own, found the front door unlocked went in, discovered an open room, disrobed and went to sleep. Ten minutes afterward the woman who occupied the apartments arrived on the scene and sent in a burglar alarm. The young man, aroused by the excitement, left without waiting to dress, while the son-in-law of the lady lady fired five shots at the clubman as he left the house.

The identity of the midnight visitor was disclosed by documents left in the pockets of a handsome overcoat and other garments, which are being held until he calls for them.

Because Miss Edith Black, daughter of a wealthy family of Jacksonville, St. Augustine and New York, fell in love with the tango, the maxixe and the fox trot, she changed her name to Edith Castle in honor of the famous dancing teacher, ran away from a fashionable school at Maryville, Tenn., and came to Atlanta to hit the bright lights and hear the bands play.

She registered at a prominent hotel, and as she knew a lot of folks in Atlanta she had a great time. She needed new clothes, so she simply drew checks and signed father's name it is alleged, and also she paid her board bills the same way. She went taxicabbing frequently and once had a hard fall from the back end of a motorcycle, but none of these things worried her until her parents wrote to Atlanta and had the case investigated. This resulted in Edith's being taken in charge yesterday afternoon by the juvenile court for she is just 16 and looks hardly that. When Rev. G. E. Buford attempted to give her a bit of spiritual consolation she slapped his face, hard, and told him to beat it. She will be held at her detention home until her parents arrive to take charge of her.

Atlanta Masons returning from the Macon convention say it was the best ever held in Georgia and they are glad Macon is to be host to the grand lodge next year. The meeting was marked by splendid reports on every branch of the work.

Judge John R. Wilkinson, ordinary of Fulton county, and vice president and director of the Masons' annuity was elected grand junior warden. Judge Wilkinson, George E. Argard, secretary of the Masons' annuity, and George M. Napier, past grand master of Georgia and counsellor of the Masons' annuity, were all leading spirits at the grand lodge meeting. They reported a remarkable growth in the annuity for the past year, the organization now having nearly eight hundred thousand assets for the protection of the widows and orphans of Masons in good standing.

Digging a hole in the street and leaving it there sometimes proves an expensive bit of carelessness, as is shown by suits filed against the city today by three different men who fell in the same hole on Foundry street. It is a strange coincidence that all three men fell in the hole in the same hour and each has the same witness to prove it. It would appear that a witness who stood by that hole for an hour would have warned the third man, at least, but it seems that he didn't.

Will Carter, a negro, was one of the wounded. When the city claim committee asked him if he had been seriously damaged, he replied: "Yessuh, I was most ruined. De doctor he told me I was bad hurt. Here's de doctor's card."

But the card turned out to be that of a damage suit lawyer.

Newspaper readers in Georgia know more about the war in Europe than any inhabitants of Paris know, according to Joseph Gatins, Jr., of Atlanta, New York and Paris, who has just come from the French capital, bringing to America his bride, who was the Countess de Sombrieville.

"I've learned a lot more about the war since I reached home than I had known before," he said. "The French print what they know and they can't print what they do not know. Nobody in Europe has any general knowledge of events. They see soldiers marching by, but that is all. The lid is on the news."

"After the Germans had been driven back from Paris the capital settled down to business again. Even at the worst there was no excitement. It wasn't as interesting as a football game. But the war will last a long time and will cost an enormous loss of life and property."

Mr. Gatins is greatly worried over his wife's brother, a French nobleman who is an officer in the army and who has been reported missing. They can gain no definite news of him, and for this reason Mrs. Gatins is taking no part in social gayeties.

The news which reached Atlanta today that Otis Skinner is to appear at the Atlanta theatre in November added new interest to the theatrical season, which so far has hardly gotten under way. Mr. Skinner is to bring a new play this season, and if it gives him half the opportunity he had in the Oriental fantasy "Kismet" last season he will once more demonstrate his ownership of the title of "America's greatest actor."

KNIGHTS COMING TO ANDERSON NEXT

Members of the various lodges of Knights of Pythias, located in this city, were jubilant upon their return yesterday from the Abbeville convention. The convention unanimously accepted the invitation tendered it to hold its next session in this city and already preparations are under way for taking care of the visitors in splendid style when the next convention takes place.

The ninth district convention was held Thursday with the Abbeville lodge and a number of delegates went from this city to be present at the event.

James H. Craig of Anderson is district deputy grand chancellor and presided over the meeting at Abbeville. Delegates were present from all of the five counties in this portion of the State making up the ninth district and some very interesting matters relative to the good of the order and the best means of furthering Pythianism in South Carolina and more especially in this district were discussed. All of the delegates joined in the discussions and took a keen interest in the deliberations of the body.

One of the decidedly interesting features of the occasion was a splendid address delivered by Louis J. Bristow of the Abbeville lodge. Mr. Bristow's subject was "Benevolence," and he handled it in a manner calculated to set every one of his hearers to thinking.

Following the conclusion of the business session Thursday afternoon the Abbeville lodge tendered the visitors a splendid banquet, at which time several extemporaneous addresses were delivered and many witty after-dinner remarks were heard. This was a decidedly enjoyable affair.

Among the visitors going from Anderson were: C. E. Tribble, C. H. Geiger, Willett P. Sloan, J. M. McCown and H. W. Speares.

OPENING DAY OF PRESBYTERY HERE

The opening session of the South Carolina Presbyterian church took place last night with the local congregation of that church. The evening's sermon had attracted a number of visitors and the church was filled when the opening musical selection was rendered.

The Rev. I. N. Kennedy of Ora occupied the pulpit last night and preached a splendid sermon. Mr. Kennedy complimented the people of Anderson on the beautiful place of worship they have erected and said that the people of the city should be proud of it. He said on behalf of Presbytery that every delegate was glad to be in Anderson and glad that this session of the church body could be brought here.

One of the principal services of the entire Presbytery will be held at 11 o'clock this morning when Rev. M. T. Ellis, the retiring moderator, will occupy the pulpit. Mr. Ellis is one of the most prominent ministers in the State and he will be greeted by a large audience today.

Prominent members of the A. F. P. church are carrying in Anderson on every train and indications are that every delegate will be here for the three days session. Rev. Reed of Atlanta, one of the South's prominent ministers, is expected to arrive this morning and Dr. Moffatt of Due West is expected to arrive today.

The dedicatory service, which is to take place at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, will be one of the most interesting features of Presbytery and the church will be crowded. This service will be conducted by Rev. R. A. Lummus, who was the first pastor of the Anderson church. In the afternoon Rev. C. M. Boyd, the second pastor the church ever had, will occupy the pulpit. Both these ministers have hundreds of friends in Anderson and they will be warmly welcomed.

Special music has been arranged for all these services.

MORE CONVICTIONS IN LIQUOR CASES

The still-important development in the trial of the liquor cases in Anderson yesterday was the withdrawal of Gen. M. L. Bonham of the well-known law firm of Bonham, Watkins and Allen, from the case as one of the attorneys for the defense, he withdrawing in open court yesterday afternoon during the hearing of the second case of the day against Derrick.

The next most important development in a day of many developments was the decision of Recorder Russell, submitting to the jury, as a question of fact, the matter of former jeopardy, also in the second trial yesterday of Derrick.

Earlier in the day the recorder had over-ruled a motion made by counsel for the defense for a new trial on the grounds of former jeopardy, claiming that Derrick's conviction on the 23rd was a bar to conviction on the 24th.

Elsewhere in the Intelligencer are developments relating to the local liquor fight yesterday.

First Conviction. Derrick was convicted the first time yesterday, and the third time since the beginning of the cases, yesterday morning, the testimony being absolutely the same as that furnished day before yesterday, with the exception of the testimony furnished by M. C. Baxter, the attorneys having agreed that all other testimony would be the same. The jury bringing in the conviction in this case was composed of A. M. McFall, foreman; R. C. Webb, Jr., John A. McGill, Raymond Fretwell, James D. King.

The Second Case. Derrick was convicted the second time for the day and the fourth time since the trial began, late yesterday afternoon, being tried by an agreed jury of four composed of Rhett Parker, foreman; J. H. Galt, J. H. Casey and G. B. Wallon.

In this case Hon. A. H. Dagnall, attorney for the defense, demurred to the method of selecting a jury, claiming that the jury should have been put upon its voir dire, and that the defendant was forced to exhaust his preemptory challenges. The defendant demurred to the jurisdiction of the court, claiming W. H. Frierson was the legal recorder, made a motion to quash the indictment on the ground that it was not sworn to before the recorder but before the mayor, which was refused. It was in the trial of this case that Gen. Bonham withdrew from his connection. The defendant also asked for a dismissal on the grounds of former jeopardy, which was refused.

The Testimony. A. T. Wiggins, the first witness sworn, testified that he had bought intoxicating alcoholic beverages from Mr. Derrick at 20 cents per bottle and that he had had a conversation with Derrick in the Spearman music house, at which time Mr. Derrick said that he would give Wiggins trouble. His testimony in all other details was substantially the same as on Wednesday.

M. C. Baxter, the next witness, testified substantially the same as he did on Thursday.

C. F. Spearman testified that Derrick and Wiggins had held a conversation in the back of his store but that he did not know the import of the affair.

Harry McLeskey testified that he analyzed the beer, said to have been taken from Derrick's place and that it contained in his opinion sufficient alcohol to make it intoxicating.

M. M. Payne and G. G. Sullivan also testified, after which the city rested. The defense offered no testimony and the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

While no announcement has been made by the attorneys interested in the cases, it is understood that Derrick will again be placed on trial to day and the additional cases against him will be heard.

and save the tolls."

This will be a "Made in America" Christmas according to the toy merchants, who are now getting in their new stock. The familiar little label "Made in Germany" is missing. "All over the east the novelty factories have started in to making toys and dolls," said the leading toy department man in Atlanta today. "The labor isn't as cheap as in Germany, where children are employed, but the workmanship is better and Americans work so much faster and use machines so much that the price won't be greatly advanced. And a monkey on a stick that is made in America won't tumble off after an hour's play."

Fancy chickens, pet rabbits and other live animals are barred from the mercantile posts, but in spite of this the postoffice here keeps finding itself up against the problem of turning down a shipment containing something which squeaks or whines. So the officials ask that everybody please be remembered that Uncle Sam is postman might twist up their wires, but they're not in the live stock transaction. Well, anyway, I'll write you a letter sometime.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus causing bladder disorders. Jad Salts can not injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney diseases.
